PEOPLE WARNED CONGRESS MUST ADJUST BUDGET

Mills Makes Appeal to Nation.

A Washington dispatch from Arthur Sears Henning printed on page 6 of this paper discusses bills for doles, subsidies, and loans now before congress. The various projects reviewed in the dispatch would add several billion dollars to the load the United States treasury is now carrying.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills tonight launched the Hoover administration drive to force the Democrats to balance the 1934 federal budget at the short session of congress. In a radio address, which amounted to an appeal to the nation for support, the chunky, dynamic cabinet member asserted that the time had come when this country must balance the budget in the interests of the national credit.

Tomorrow President Hoover is slated to take the firing line personally either in a special message to congress or through a statement issued at the White House. The Hoover appeal also is to be directed partly to the people in an effort to win support for the administration program which includes balancing the budget through the voting of 500 millions in government economies and the boosting of the tax burden to raise another half billion dollars.

Perils National Credit.

Firing the opening gun, Secretary Mills warned of the perils to the national credit and to the business world of an unbalanced federal budget. He demanded that the government put its finances in order and stop its invasions of the private capital field in search of funds to carry on federal activities.

Continuance of the present system, he warned indirectly, cannot fail to retard business recovery and to injure government credit to the point where it will have to pay higher interest rates than it normally would on government bonds.

On the other hand, said Mr. Mills, balancing the budget will speed business recovery, stimulate the capital money markets, and assure lower interest rates on government obligations.

To Refund 7 Billion Debts.

According to the Mills argument, the government cannot go on indefinitely borrowing from private sources to pay its expenses without hurting its own credit. The danger of such a policy, he pointed out, becomes apparent when it is realized that in October of this year 7 billion dollars' worth of government obligations of various sorts will be eligible for calling for refunding. A difference of a small amount in the interest rate, he said, would mean millions to the government.

For three years, the cabinet member told his hearers, this government has gone along piling up huge deficits and borrowing from private sources to bridge the gap between expenditures and receipts. Treasury figures indicate the 1934 budget, he said, will be a billion dollars out of balance, unless prompt steps are taken to approve the half billion of economies recommended to congress by the President and to add another half billion to the revenues through new acts.

Gives His Warning.

"No matter how good its credit," warned Mr. Mills, "no government can afford to go on living beyond its means year after year. It is demoralizing. Such a practice runs counter to the fundamental principles that should govern the management of the public business."

Then, his voice rising, he uttered this warning:

"It is dangerous for public servants to acquire the habit of spending more than is currently available, for it is a habit easily acquired, and once acquired, not easily gotten rid of short of disaster."

Recommends Sales Tax.

The cabinet member urged adoption of a general manufacturers' sales tax as the backbone of the new revenue program. He turned his back, as had President Hoover before him, on recommendations by national economy groups, calling for budget balancing through slashes of federal costs alone. His principal theme was the perils of drifting along with an unbalanced budget.

Fentress Is Rejected by U. S. Referee.

(Picture on Back Page)

Amid scenes of disorder unusual in a federal court proceeding, Calvin Fentress, La Salle street investment broker, was disqualified last night as trustee of the bankrupt Insull Utility Investments, Inc., of which company he has been receiver by appointment of Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley since its failure last April.

GARFIELD CHARLES.

Garfield Charles, federal referee in bankruptcy, ruled out Mr. Fentress immediately after his unanimous election as trustee by a vote of 300 creditors of the company, who had packed the referee's courtroom at 100 West Monroe street all afternoon, alternately hissing and applauding while attorneys exchanged epithets and even attacked the integrity of the referee himself.

A Battle of Attorneys.

At the outset the proceeding became a battle of personalities between Attorney Lewis F. Jacobson, who, as counsel for the creditors, nominated Mr. Fentress, and Attorney Samuel A. Ettelson, former corporation counsel who in an eleventh hour intervention last Thursday blew the case wide open with a charge that the fugitive Samuel Insull had "framed" the receivership of his bankrupt companies and still dominated the lawyers and receivers.

The uproar reached a climax in mid-afternoon when the harassed referee, unable to suppress the shouting lawyers, telephoned for a squad of deputy United States marshals to quell a threatened uprising of the crowd and observed: "I should be ashamed to allow such a record to be made in this court."

"You certainly should be ashamed," retorted Attorney Jacobson, braving a contempt citation by shouting in the referee's face.

Crowd There as Hearing Opens.

The crowd, numbering big and little Insull losers, was jammed into the room when the hearing was called to order at 2 p. m. for an airing of Mr. Ettelson's charges that Samuel Insull's influence still dominated the receivership of his bankrupt companies. Referee Charles announced that testimony must be confined to the case of Insull Utility Investments.

Attorney Harold F. White, associated with Mr. Jacobson as counsel for the creditors, insisted that Mr. Fentress' election should be the first order of business since he was the only nominee for trustee, and that objection to his appointment should be withheld until after his election. Mr. Ettelson objected to this plan and was sustained. A woman in the crowd complained of the stifling atmosphere.

Fentress Declines to Withdraw.

The referee ordered the remark stricken from the record and Ettelson went on. If Mr. Fentress cared to withdraw, he suggested, there was still time. The gray haired receiver got to his feet and quietly announced that he would not withdraw. At this remark Ettelson, Jacobson, and two unidentified attorneys began shouting in concert.

"You're representing your wife," Jacobson yelled at Ettelson. "Just when did she buy her $10,000 of debentures in this company and how much did she pay for them?"

"A hundred cents on the dollar," Ettelson roared back. "Not 3 or 4 cents on the dollar, the way some of your committee did."

An angry buzz arose from the investors. A matronly woman waved a handkerchief for recognition, calling, "Your honor, may I speak? No? All right, I'll see you later."

Jacobson Takes the Stand.

Mr. Ettelson proposed that Mr. Fentress take the stand. Mr. Fentress' attorney, William S. Warfield III., declared there was no need for him to testify. Mr. Jacobson volunteered to testify and was sworn, his action provoking a new outburst.

Ettelson produced a law book. He began reading from an Illinois Supreme court decision "explicitly condemning any lawyer becoming a witness in a case wherein he was acting

TYDINGS TO QUIT UNLESS SENATE ENDS FILIBUSTER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—If the senate continues to tolerate the filibuster now current, Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland said tonight that he will resign as a protest against the tactics of some of his Democratic colleagues. He also will give notice to his constituents that the present session of congress offers no opportunity for essential legislation.

The senator will, he said, make a further effort during the week to get action on his resolution to cut more than a billion dollars from the costs of government during the next fiscal year.

Should this prove unsuccessful, due to the failure of the senate to choke off the filibuster by cloture or to lack of support for the resolution, or both, Mr. Tydings will give up his seat for the remainder of the session. He would begin his new term March 4.

"I don't want by constituents," he said, "to assume that I condone or even passively accept what is going on here, that I am indifferent to the crying needs of this nation. Let some one else from Maryland come here to look on if he wants to."

COLD FORECAST TODAY; RAIN OR SNOW TOMORROW

Colder weather, which failed to arrive in Chicago as scheduled yesterday, will arrive today and send the temperature down to 25 degrees. Weather Forecaster W. P. Day said last night. He said the cold would be followed tomorrow by rain or snow. The storm area bringing the lower temperatures from the northwest traveled more slowly than was expected across the plains states, Forecaster Day said. The temperature yesterday reached a low of 43 degrees at 2 o'clock in the morning, and mounted to 53 degrees at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

City Idle Must Go to Country: F. D. Roosevelt

New York, Jan. 16. — [Special.] — President Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt in an informal address delivered tonight at the Metropolitan club, declared that it was his information that if every factory wheel in the country were to start turning at full speed at this time, the nation still would face the problem of what to do with the 5,000,000 persons who still would be idle.

Mr. Roosevelt gave the figure of those idle in the country today as approximately 12,000,000.

Dinner in His Honor.

The address was delivered at a dinner in his honor, arranged by Barron G. Collier, in recognition of Mr. Roosevelt's services for ten years as president of the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York.

"One of the country's leading economists was telling me the other day," he said, "that there are at present 12,000,000 unemployed in the country that is, workers out of work. In 1929 when things were going ahead apparently at full speed, there were 3,500,000 out of work.

"If every factory wheel in the country were turning at full speed today we'd still have five millions unemployed.

Restore Population Balance.

"When prosperity comes back—and it's coming back—what are we going to do with that 5,000,000? We've got to restore the balance of population, get them out of the big centers of population, so that they will not be dependent on home relief, or call it what you will."

Mr. Roosevelt told how unfitted city boys were for life in the country; how he had encountered boys and young men on the roads around his home in Dutchess county who were seeing cows and jack rabbits for the first time in their lives.

"There are hundreds of thousands of boys who only know the pavements of the cities, and that means that they can take only those jobs that are directly connected with the pavements of the cities," he said.

Fits City Boys for Country Life.

From this point he went on to tell how the Boy Scout movement was fitting city boys for life in the country, pointing to the large increase in the number of campers in the Catskills and Adirondacks in the last few years.

"The educational work we are doing is bearing fruit," he declared. "Comparative figures show that there are fewer former Scouts who go wrong, in percentage to the total boy population, than those who were not Scouts, and that means we are building for the future."

OSCAR HEWITT SLATED TO GET SPRAGUE'S JOB

The resignation of Col. A. A. Sprague as commissioner of public works is expected to be handed to Mayor Cermak today, and the resignation will be followed by the appointment of Oscar Hewitt, well known newspaper man, to the position, according to reports in the city hall last night. The nomination of Hewitt it was said will go to the council for confirmation today.

For some time it has been rumored that Col. Sprague was anxious to retire from his public position so that he could devote more time to his work as one of the receivers of the Chicago Rapid Transit lines. His attitude was said to be that he should not hold both positions for the reason that as commissioner of public works he might be called upon to decide on matters connected with the elevated lines.

Mr. Hewitt is widely known for his newspaper work in which he specialized on statistical and governmental problems pertaining to the city. He was deputy commissioner of public works from 1909 to 1911 under Mayor Fred Busse.

CITY GREETERS' JOB OUTLOOK APPEARS ROSY

If predictions made in a report to Mayor Cermak yesterday by "Col." [Oklahoma] Harry J. Dooley, assistant to the city greeter, "Col." [Kentucky] George D. Gaw, come true, Chicago may need a couple of regiments more of colonel greeters before next New Year's day to extend the hand of municipal felicity to all.

"I have just returned," declared Oklahoma Dooley, "from a two months good will tour of the United States and Canada. We must be prepared to entertain 75,000,000 visitors this year to the Century of Progress exposition."

As these statistics show half the population of the United States and the Dominion coming here, it can readily be seen, it was pointed out by statistical experts, that tremendous exertions will have to be made by the city's greeters. However, the two regular colonels can get the aid of "Col." [Mex] George Brumlik, who pinch mitted for "Col." Gaw last fall after the latter held a pocket gas gun while it went off and as a consequence got a misery in the greeting hand.

7 Breakfast in Africa and Sup in Brazil

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 16.—Jean Mermoz, French aviator, ate his breakfast in western Africa early today, hopped off with six companions in his tri-motored plane, Rainbow, and just 14 hours 2 minutes later ate a hearty supper in the Brazilian city of Natal.

"I am two minutes late," Mermoz said. "I had expected to cross the Atlantic in exactly 14 hours."

The French airman, however, expressed his delight as he stepped from the plane at the Natal airport. He had flown the 1,962 miles in record time and at an average speed of 140 miles an hour. He recalled that a similar flight which he made in 1930 required 21 hours.

This difference in time is evidence of the great progress made in air travel, Mermoz said. The aviator points to an early achievement of commercial transoceanic travel by plane.

Mermoz departed on the present trip from Istres, France, last Thursday, stopping en route in St. Louis, Senegal, western Africa, where he took off this morning.

Mermoz was accompanied by Rene Couzinet, the builder of the plane, and a crew of five, including a second pilot, a navigator, a radio operator and two mechanics.

He and his companions plan to fly to Rio de Janeiro tomorrow. From there they will go to Buenos Aires.

Hunt Girl Flyers in Jungle.

NAIROBI, Kenya, Jan. 16.—(AP) Rescue parties by air, motor and afoot were sent out today in an attempt to rescue two British society girls, returning from a flight to Cape Town, who were forced down Saturday in a region 40 miles from here which contains many wild animals.

The girls are Joan Page, daughter of Sir Arthur Page, chief justice of Burma, and Audrey Salmon. They set out from London for Cape Town by air before Christmas and were on the return trip when they became lost over Tanganyika Saturday and were forced down.

A pilot today located their plane in a desolate spot, noted that it was lying upside down, and that one of the girls stood beside it waving a scarf. The other was not in evidence, he said, so he rushed back here, fearing that she might be hurt. Rescue of the girls, it was thought, would be effected by land parties, as it seemed impossible to set an airplane down anywhere near the wreckage. Parties of native runners were dispatched to the spot, while automobiles carried food and first aid equipment.

Aviatrix Missing in Sahara.

ALGIERS, Algeria, Jan. 17 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Authorities here early today began to be anxious concerning the whereabouts of Lady Mary Bailey, of whom nothing has been heard since she hopped off from Oran, Algeria, Sunday afternoon on another leg of her flight from England to Cape Town.

The noted South African aviatrix had gasoline for only seventeen hours of flying when she left Oran on her flight across the Sahara. Besides, she was ill when she reached that point Sunday. Her next stop was scheduled to be at Niamey or Gao, on the Upper Niger.

FARMER SLAIN AFTER FIGHTING OFF 100 MEN

Sheriff Killed in Gary Battle.

Sheriff Roy F. Holley of Lake county, Indiana, and two other men were shot and killed and seven others were wounded last night in a desperate four hour battle with a barricaded farmer just outside of Gary. The farmer was one of the three men slain. Sheriff Holley, shot in the head, died early this morning in Mercy hospital in Gary.

The shooting started at about 5:30 o'clock, but the main battle, in which some 100 deputies and policemen participated, did not begin until an hour later. It ended at 10:15 in a spectacular barrage of tear gas bombs, incendiary torches, and machine gun bullets. Four policemen then invaded the farmhouse fortress and shot its crazed defender.

He was Michael Lantare, 67 years old, a widower, who had been considered somewhat unbalanced mentally since the death of his wife four years ago. His young daughters, Laura, 18 years old, and Nancy, 20, watched from a neighboring farmhouse his fight against the police and saw him carried out dead.

Slain by Farmer.

The battle took place in the town of Ross, a cross roads settlement about three miles to the southwest of Gary.

Killed in addition to Sheriff Holley and Lantare was Louis Buettner, 70 years old, of Ross. He was the first one shot, and his killing started the ensuing four hour battle.

The wounded are:

Armored Car Joins Battle.

Several hundred residents of Gary and the countryside witnessed the long fight. They saw an armored car, equipped with two machine guns, brought into the fray. Some of them saw two policemen crawl to the farmhouse and set it afire, and witnessed four other policemen drive up to the front door in the armored car to end the struggle.

The early part of the fight was waged over the still figure of Sheriff Holley, lying in the backyard. For more than two hours the sheriff lay there unconscious while Lantare drove off would be rescuers. He was finally dragged to safety at 9 o'clock.

Cause of the Shooting.

The trouble started over a comparatively trivial incident. In the afternoon Buettner's sons, Alvin, 18 years old, and Lawrence, 23, and his son-in-law, William Brown, 35, went to an orchard about 200 feet from Lantare's house, and cut up an old tree for kindling. At 5 o'clock, when they prepared to take it away in a truck, Lantare appeared on the scene with a gun and restrained them.

Soon afterward the elder Buettner appeared. He disputed Lantare's claim to the tree. While the younger men looked on, Lantare leveled his shotgun and fired at Buettner. The sons fled, and with their brother-in-law, Brown, ran to the nearest phone, a half mile away. They called for help. Sheriff Holley was reached in Crown Point, the county seat. He sent an ambulance to the scene. The ambulance reached there before the sheriff, and under the watchful eye of Lantare, picked up Buettner and took him to the Mercy hospital. He died there at 9 o'clock.

Sheriff Reaches Scene.

Lantare went into his house. About 6:30 o'clock Sheriff Holley, Chief Deputy Floyd Monnett, and Deputies Jack West, Rogers and Tom Kennedy arrived. Holley called on Lantare to surrender. The latter's answer was to bolt the door and run upstairs. The deputies saw him with his gun. They maneuvered around until they could enter through a rear door. Meanwhile, Deputy Monnett, noticing Lantare upstairs, fired one shot.

"Lantare screamed as if in pain," said Monnett later. "That was apparently a ruse. Sheriff Holley said: 'Let's get him now, he's wounded.'

Lantare was not wounded at that time. As the sheriff led his men up the rickety stairs to the upper floor, the farmer leaned over the railing and fired downward. The charge struck Holley on top of the head and he sprawled halfway down the stairs. Deputy Monnett grabbed the sheriff by the feet and dragged him to the landing.

Shots Rout Sheriff's Aids.

The four men then carried their chief outside, but Lantare routed them with a double charge from his shotgun. Rogers was shot. His companions helped him to safety. A call for reinforcements was turned in to Gary. It was spread to outlying towns.

Within a short time aid came from Hammond, Gary, and Crown Point and Valparaiso, in Porter county. The reinforcements were commanded by Chief Buckland of Gary, Chief Thomas Martinson of Hammond, Lieut. Walter Wilson of the state police, and Sheriff Neil Fry of Porter county. They threw a cordon around the little farm house and then opened a concerted attack of gunfire from all sides.

Attackers Use Tear Gas.

Tear gas bombs were added to the attack, but here again the defender showed his shrewdness. In anticipation of such an assault, Lantare, in barricading himself, had smashed out all the windows of his home, and this permitted a draft which carried out the fumes without especially hampering him, although more than fifty bombs were thrown.

Lantare fired his shotgun from upper windows. When this drew concentrated fire, he dashed to the lower floor and fired. He fired from all four sides of the house, using not only the shotgun but a revolver, wounding several of the besiegers.

Finally, the Gary police sent to town for an armored car of the Calumet Armored Car Service company. This carried two machine guns. The car was driven to a point about 20 yards from the house, and for fifteen minutes police sprayed all windows with the machine gun bullets. Evidently one of these wounded Lantare.

Set Fire to House.

About 10 o'clock Sergt. William Nelson and Policeman John Bolen of the Gary force decided to set fire to the house. Several burning faggots were thrown toward the structure, but all fell short of their mark. The policemen crept up. Lantare did not see them for he directed his fire away from them. Nelson and Bolen, who is colored, reached the front of the place, lighted their torches and placed them against the house. They ran away, their forms illuminated by quickly rising flames.

Nearby crouched Sergt. Adam Funk of the Hammond force.

"Let's get this over with," he called out. He advanced. Chief Martinson and Detective Ed Palmateer of the Hammond department and Detective Cleo Edwards of Gary climbed into the armored car. They backed it to the front door while buckshot rattled harmlessly off the steel sides and top. All jumped out.

Attackers Smash Door.

Sergt. Funk and the others pushed against the front door. It was still locked. They gave one united push and caved it in. The house was dark. The men moved about by the feel of the walls and kept together, without word but by touching each other's shoulders.

The Hammond sergeant still remained in the lead. He found the railing revealing the stairs.

"Here we are," he whispered. In his right hand he clutched a submachine gun and in his left a flashlight. Risking his life he pressed the button of the flashlight. The light plainly revealed his position and it would have been easy for Lantare to shoot him.

Without another word Sergt. Funk ran up the stairs, followed closely by Chief Martinson and the others. At the top of the steps was the bedroom Sergt. Funk pushed open the door. In front of him crouched Lantare. Back of the farmer stood a dresser and upon it several holy pictures and two candles.

Sergt. Funk noticed this in the fleeting instant that he came upon Lantare. He also noticed a revolver in the man's right hand. As Lantare raised it weakly to fire Funk raised his machine gun and fired a burst. Lantare staggered against the dresser, knocking down the holy pictures and candles, and fell heavily on the floor.

The policemen picked up the pictures and the candles. They put their guns away and a moment later carried out the dead man.

Daughters See Flames.

Lantare's two daughters, Nancy and Laura, who had watched the fight from the shelter of a neighbor's home, saw the flames licking their house and noted the sudden cessation of firing.

"It is better, if father has killed any one, that he die himself," said Laura to Mrs. John Bothwell, the housewife. The two daughters then ran out of their neighbor's house.

They broke through the mob of police and spectators, and paused in the front yard. As they looked Sergt. Funk and Chief Martinson appeared. They carried the body of the girls' father. Laura fainted. Nancy turned away, sobbing.

Meanwhile, the flames of the burning house cast a strange glow on the tragic scene. The crowd scattered. Down the road sounded the scream of sirens. Gary fire apparatus.

At midnight the scene was deserted. The charred farmhouse stood, its exterior walls punctured with hundreds of bullet holes. Lantare's daughters remained until neighbors took them away.

Sheriff Holley was 43 years old and a resident of Hammond. Professionally he was a doctor of dentistry. Before entering politics in 1930 he had built up a good practice. In that year he was elected sheriff of the county for a two year term, and in the last fall election was elected to succeed himself. At his bedside when he died were his wife, Lillie, and their twin daughters, Janis and Janet, 18 years old.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Marie Estell, 1126 South 26th street, charged today in a suit for divorce from Richard Estell that she kept on working as a telephone girl and that he kept on gambling. He lost $1,000 he borrowed from her parents, she said.

FARLEY THANKS CHICAGO PARTY FOR "GOOD WORK"

Assures 1,000 They Aren't Forgotten.

Party workers in the last campaign will not be "forgotten," James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, assured 1,000 Chicago Democrats yesterday at a luncheon given for him in the Hotel Sherman by party leaders.

The national chairman was here on a visit described as wholly nonpolitical in character. He left in midafternoon for South Bend, where he addressed the Notre Dame football banquet last night.

Introduced at the luncheon by County Clerk Sweitzer, who asked that the "industry" shown by the workers be "rewarded," Mr. Farley extended the thanks of President Elect Roosevelt, told his listeners that they had done good work, and added the assurance that the loyal workers would not be forgotten.

"Many Willing to Serve."

A little later he added, somewhat dryly, that in his post-election travels about the country he was "glad to see so many willing to serve their country."

Mayor Cermak and the other Chicago and Cook county leaders of the party at the speakers' table were praised by Chairman Farley for their campaign work.

He also expressed gratitude to the Republicans and politically independent persons who voted the Democratic ticket last November.

In a résume of the election Mr. Farley confessed that the party had expected to lose only three states—Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont—whereas it lost six. "We even expected to carry Pennsylvania," he said, with a smile, "but I think we were 'outweighed' there."

Hope for a Clean Slate.

The national chairman recalled that the Democrats started the campaign with a $500,000 deficit, but he said "We don't worry much about a deficit when we win, and we hope to start off in March with a clean slate."

Complete fulfillment of the Democratic platform pledges can be expected from the next—the 73d—congress, Farley said in conclusion.

PICK 7 JURYMEN IN NIGHT SESSION OF REDS' TRIAL

Five women and two men, all alleged communists, went to trial yesterday in the court of Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden on charges of inciting a riot and disorderly conduct.

Late last night, after forty veniremen had been questioned and only seven jurymen accepted, the hearing was continued until this morning at 11:30 o'clock. The total of prospective jurymen available was exhausted before the continuance was ordered.

The defendants were arrested after a clash of 200 persons, said to have been communists, with policemen in front of a relief station at North and Fairfield avenues on Nov. 23. They are David Gold, William Janssen, Miss Gene Cohen, Mrs. Eva Arking, Mrs. Minnie Freeman, Mrs. Minnie Gibbs and Mrs. Elizabeth Kubin.

Board of Cicero School Adopts a Budget Plan

The board of education in charge of the J. Sterling Morton High school, Cicero, last night adopted a budget for the remainder of the school year. The amount to spent, from Jan. 1 to July 1, was fixed at $457,840. Recommendations for that figure as the upper limit were made by citizens' groups, which have criticized the board frequently for failure to adopt a budget. The school board also voted to give School Superintendent P. C. Shelley, who was appointed after the dismissal of Harry V. Church, a free hand in handling both the administrative and educational affairs of the school.

IDLE AND BROKE, STARTS SEVENTH ALIMONY TERM

Court Acts on Demand of Victim's First Wife.

William Rubens, 47 years old, 3423 West Chicago avenue, appeared before Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday, in answer to an attachment served upon him at the behest of his ex-wife, Mrs. Fannie Rubens, 49 years old, 1644 South Central Park avenue. He told the judge he was unable to pay the $354 in support money which his wife demanded. Judge Sabath then sentenced him to alimony row in the county jail—the seventh such sentence Rubens has received within three years.

While he waited in the lockup at the sheriff's office for transportation to the jail, Rubens related the story of his bitter experience in the divorce courts since his former wife filed suit for separate maintenance in 1916.

Awarded $40.48 a Week.

At that time she was granted alimony of $40.48 a week for the support of herself and their three children, Edith, Bernice and Alvin, now respectively 21, 17 and 15 years old.

"My former wife won her separate maintenance decree after I fought the case through to the Appellate court and lost. Then for nine years, or until 1929, I paid her the $40.38 each week," said Rubens. "I was able to do it then, because I was head of the Rubens Metal and Iron company at 1900 South Carroll avenue.

"Then in 1929 Mrs. Rubens wanted a divorce. I was willing and I gave it to her. For a settlement I gave her the $16,000 home where she and the children are living now. In addition to this I was ordered to pay her $175 a month for the support of the children.

"Although I had already paid Mrs. Rubens $28,000, the home, making a total of $44,000, I was still glad to do this. And it was about this time that I married my second wife, Clara.

"Just then came the depression. I was forced into bankruptcy. I lost all the property I owned, my company was taken from me, and I was penniless within three months. In September of 1929 I went before Judge Harry Lewis and he reduced my alimony to $15 a week, over Mrs. Fannie Rubens' protest. A few weeks later I had fallen in arrears and I was sent to jail—for the first time. Since then I have been in six times.

"I can't get a job, because I can't assure an employer that I'll be out of jail long enough to do any work for him. My second wife is a nurse, and she had $6,000 saved up when we were married. Most of that money has gone to the support of my first wife and her children.

Can't Earn for Either in Jail.

"Now both of us are against the wall. We have been applying for charity relief.

"Up to now, Clara has been able to get me out when I was put in jail, but now she has no more money. She even offered once to make a cash settlement with my first wife, but the judge wouldn't allow it."

Judge Sabath said he had known of Ruben's case. "You don't demand that this man should be sent to jail, do you?" the judge asked the first Mrs. Rubens, who stood with her lawyer, Irving Elsenman.

Court Acts Reluctantly.

"We haven't any money," she replied. "I have to support the children. My eldest girl just lost her job and we have absolutely nothing coming in."

"Besides, your honor," interjected Elsenman, "every time he goes to jail he manages to find a little money to get out. You don't need to worry about him."

"It was that way in the past, but now my second wife and I are going on the relief rolls," said Rubens. "I don't know what she will do if I go to jail."

"I don't like to do this," said Judge Sabath, "but there's nothing left for me to do but commit you, if your first wife demands it."

CHICAGO BANK CLERK HELD IN FRENCH ASYLUM

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Jan. 16.—An investigation has convinced the American consulate general that Fletcher N. Candell, a naturalized American citizen, is not illegally confined in the Villejuif insane asylum here, it was announced today.

Candell, whose name was Candelisky at the time of his birth, wrote the American embassy last week stating that his sister and her husband managed to place him in the asylum when he should not be there.

The embassy turned the letter over to a consulate official who learned that Candell went to America from Georgia twelve years ago, became naturalized and worked as an accountant in a Chicago bank until he lost his job eight months ago. Then he came to Paris to live with his sister, Mrs. C. Gvarjaladze, who soon afterward reported to the police that her brother's strange actions and threats alarmed her. The prefecture arranged to have him examined by alienists who ordered his confinement at the Villejuif asylum.

10,152 GIFTS ARE RECEIVED BY WELFARE FUND

The Emergency Welfare Fund has received contributions from 10,152 individuals and organizations thus far in the campaign, it was announced yesterday. These subscriptions ranged from a few cents to $100,000, and have to date averaged $443.

"The average gift this year, however, has been slightly more than 51 per cent of that for the preceding year in a comparable field of solicitation," said Robert A. Gardner, chairman of the campaign. "This is indicative of the fund's difficulty in obtaining the full quota of $7,500,000 which is necessary for unbroken welfare work among the city's private agencies during the rest of the year."

As an example of the sacrifice being made by public spirited citizens, Mr. Gardiner told of a report from the superintendent of one of the welfare services, accompanying a gift. The workers of this service, it was explained, giving their January gift, had wished it might be more, but the superintendent kept them from oversubscribing because they have already taken money from their own pockets to feed the hungry families they meet on their case visits.

FIGHT TOURIST CAMP SITE ON SCHOOLS' LAND

More than 200 members of the West Boulevard Property Owners' association met at the 30th Ward Democratic club, at 4856 Jackson boulevard, last night to protest against the leasing of Austin school fund property for a World's Fair tourist camp site. A petition opposing the lease will be presented at the school board meeting tomorrow afternoon.

According to James T. Duignan, president of the association, the Visitors' Home Site, a syndicate that has applied for the lease, would "pay only $1,500 to the school board for rent and would get $250,000 in revenue." The land in controversy is between the Chicago and Great Western railroad tracks and Roosevelt road, bounded on the west by Cicero avenue and on the east by Central avenue.

"The syndicate will make a dumping ground for undesirables and will cheapen our neighborhood," said Mr. Duignan. "The proposed parking space is in the heart of a residential district. They claim they want the land for the duration of the world's fair, but if they once get in we won't be able to root them out."

JARECKI ORDERS PROBE OF PLOTS TO DELAY TAXES

Urges Prosecutions for Alleged Conspiracies.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

County Judge Jarecki, upon his own motion, entered an order yesterday instructing the tax department of State's Attorney Courtney's office to investigate any "unlawful acts and conspiracies" which are responsible for nonpayment of taxes.

Before entering the order Judge Jarecki called before him Assistant State's Attorney Hayden N. Bell, head of the tax department, who will conduct the investigation. The investigation, Mr. Bell indicated, will be directed especially against those properties, principally skyscrapers, whose delinquent tax bills amount to $10,000 or more, and which Mr. Bell charges are responsible for 61 per cent of Cook county's unpaid taxes.

Recalls Ten Boom Years.

"The ten years ending in 1929," Mr. Bell said, "saw an enormous building activity in Chicago. Building costs were high, loans were easy and there was an abnormal amount of construction of large buildings.

"The depression followed. Its first effect was to destroy the equities underlying the mortgages. In the case of skyscrapers which were built on leased land, a common practice in the downtown area, the security holders had no choice but to get all they could out of income, knowing that they would soon desert the property.

"In many cases they have milked the property of every cent possible and piled up three years' taxes for the owner of the land fee to pay when the property reverts to him.

Seeks Millions from Reserves.

"In some cases, where the owner of the land was wiser, he required the building owners to set aside funds for tax payments in a reserve fund each year. There are millions of dollars deposited under such agreements which should have been paid into the county treasury.

"Taxes are a first and prior lien upon any property and should have first payment. If two or more persons have agreed to use income from a property for other purposes, defrauding the county of its taxes, they are guilty of conspiracy.

"Persons who have agreed or conspired to divert to other purposes income which should have been used for payment of taxes and who have thus piled up several years' taxes for the owner of a leasehold to pay eventually, are likewise guilty of conspiracy to defraud the leasehold.

Defines Tax Embezzlement.

"Finally, in many cases reserves have been set up for taxes, and bondholders' committees, receivers, trustees or others have taken the interest on this money and converted it to their own uses. They are guilty of embezzlement."

One of the cases which caused Judge Jarecki to act, he said later, came to his attention through a hearing in a federal court. The receiver for a large concern which owes approximately $150,000 in back taxes went before the judge there and asked permission to invest the money which, Judge Jarecki asserted, should have been paid over to the county long ago.

Judge Jarecki said that upon presentation of proper evidence by Mr. Bell and his assistants he will sit as an examining magistrate and hold the parties accused to the grand jury.

MART FIGHTS SAMPLES TAX

Lawrence H. Whiting, chairman of the board of the American Furniture Building corporation, appeared before a night session of the board of tax appeals last night to protest against an increase from $60,000 to $300,000 in the 1931 personal property tax valuations on samples of some 200 tenants of the Furniture Mart at 666 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. Whiting told the board that taxes are threatening to drive the furniture manufacturers who exhibit at the Mart out of the state. He added that although the building was one-third vacant its realty taxes had increased from $180,000 for 1928 to $210,000 for 1929, and $240,000 for 1930.

County Assessor J. L. Jacobs ridiculed the voluntary personal property returns offered by the corporation for the exhibitors which totaled $60,000. He said this valuation would yield only $4,000 in taxes, or one-third of 1 per cent of the rent paid annually by the furniture companies for exhibition space. The $300,000 valuation total ordered by the assessor includes 50 per cent penalties for companies which failed to file returns.

Delay School Budget Cuts to Seek Funds for Building

Trims in the 74 million dollar school budget for 1933 were postponed by the board of education for a discussion of means of financing the completion of new schools yesterday afternoon. President Lewis E. Myers announced that the board would hold a conference on the budget this morning.

After various interested groups had protested against reducing educational facilities as a means of balancing the budget, Mr. Myers told the trustees of his plan for issuing bonds to finish several of the school buildings. Work on ten schools in various stages of construction has been at a standstill for months because the board has been without funds.

"We must ascertain definitely which of the buildings are most sorely needed," said Mr. Myers, "and I hope there will be as much public talk on this phase of the budget as there has been on others."

Proposes $2,000,000 Warrants.

Trustee Joseph P. Savage proposed that the board issue $2,000,000 worth of 1931 building fund tax warrants to contractors to finance a part of the building program. He declared that 16,000 men would be put to work if school building were resumed and more than 30,000 if the men worked two or three days apiece each week.

"Two-thirds of the men in the building trades are walking the streets in idleness," asserted Mr. Savage, "and they are being supported by relief agencies. The taxpayers' money is being spent at an appalling rate for relief. The average man doesn't want charity. He wants a job."

Mr. Myers pointed out that if the legislature would give the board authority to issue bonds as he proposed, and if they could find a market, a resumption of the building program would halt the deterioration of the structures.

"Of course we have always gone on the pay as you go plan," he added, "since the legislature gives us the right to levy a tax for new buildings, but these are unusual times. Furthermore, a bond issue would obviate the necessity of making any appropriation for building in our budget."

"I'm for completing the schools no matter how we do it," said Trustee John A. English. "The only way to survive is getting people to work and off a dole."

Would Give 11,000 Seats.

Trustee Orville J. Taylor said that there was a possibility of completing three buildings—the Lane Technical and Steinmetz High schools and the addition to the Senn High school which would afford 11,000 seats in congested areas. He suggested that the $2,000,000 in 1931 warrants might be used for this purpose and bonds be floated for the completion of the other seven buildings.

Among those protesting earlier in the meeting were Mrs. W. A. Cunnea, president of the Chicago Lawn Woman's club, and Myer Pretula, representing the National Students' league, who opposed the closing of the Normal college as an economy measure. Mr. Myers has stated that the college should be closed because of a surplus of 3,000 unassigned teachers. Several members of the protesting group carried banners into the board meeting room.

EVANSTON CUTS BUDGET; $513,156 LESS THAN 1932

The Evanston city council last night adopted a budget calling for a total expenditure in 1933 of $1,416,456, or $513,156 less than the 1932 budget.

It was pointed out that virtually all the city activities had been curtailed and that the pay of all municipal employés had been cut 15 per cent. Welfare work as conducted by the city health department was ordered to continue only until July 1. Purchases of material were reduced greatly.

The council also voted to grant a thirty year franchise to the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois permitting the use of the streets for posts, transmission lines, and underground conduits. At a meeting held last Wednesday a number of Evanstonians protested against this grant.

VIENNA RECORDS 9 SUICIDES AND 14 ATTEMPTS IN DAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 16.—Nine suicides and 14 attempts at suicide were reported to police today. Among the dead are Karl Schober, brother of the late chancellor, Johann Schober, and Leopold Barth, general manager of Universal pictures. Schober shot himself and Barth took poison.

Another suicide, Theodor Haffner, traveled from Klagenburt, capital of Carynthia, to Vienna, in order to walk up the Stephens' tower, 450 feet high, and end his life by jumping.

Statistics issued today show 1,165 suicides in 1932 and 2,875 attempts. The ages of the principals ranged from 12 to 83.

A record was reached yesterday in Alpine sport accidents in Austria. Three persons were killed, 30 were seriously injured, and 70 slightly injured in skiing and other winter sports.

PLANS 50% SAVING IN COLLECTION OF INHERITANCE TAX

Attorney General Otto Kerner yesterday announced plans for a 50 per cent reduction in the cost of collecting inheritance taxes in Illinois, which would save $150,000 for the state in the next four years.

He proposes to cut the number of inheritance tax districts outside of Cook county from 39 to 25. In all the 39 districts downstate an assistant attorney general and a tax collector are assigned to duty. Attorney General Kerner estimates the reduction in the number of employés by consolidation of districts will save $33,000 a year.

Further economics will be effected in his office by a reduction of his staff. Attorney General Kerner proposes to operate his office by lopping off one-sixth of the assistants formerly employed.

EXECUTORS BARE J.R. THOMPSON JR. DEBT TO ESTATE

Fifth Interest Assigned to Trustees.

John R. Thompson Jr. has assigned a one-fifth interest in the estate of his father to the trustees of the estate, to satisfy an indebtedness of more than $780,000 to the estate and to the John R. Thompson Security corporation. This was revealed yesterday when the final accounting of the executors was approved by Acting Probate Judge Theodore Forby of Lake county.

The estate was valued at $6,000,000 at the time of the death of John R. Thompson Sr. in 1927. The main item in the inventory was 78,698 shares of capital stock in the John R. Thompson Security corporation, a holding and investing concern. The par value of the stock was listed at $100 a share, but the market value has sunk far below that figure.

Debts Partly Secured.

The final accounting filed yesterday showed that John R. Thompson Jr. owes $263,504.52 to the estate, and $666,250.70 to the Thompson Security company. This second debt, according to the accounting, is partly secured by 2,086 shares of capital stock in the security company. This stock, in other transactions listed by the executors, is rated at an agreed value of $72.50 a share.

The disclosures of the Thompson debts followed by one month the announcement of the board of directors of the John R. Thompson company that they had accepted the resignation of John R. Thompson Jr. as president. The announcement of the board followed by several hours a declaration by Thompson that he would not resign.

Division of Estate.

The estate of the elder Thompson, less $78,000 in specific bequests to forty-six individuals, and a $1,200 annuity to Miss Dolly Smith, his secretary, was given to the widow, Rose, John R. Jr., and two daughters, Ruth Thompson Owen and Florence Thompson Thomas. The one-fifth share assigned to the trustees by the son was to be given him immediately. The remaining 80 per cent is the residuary estate, of which the income of one-half goes to the widow and of one-fourth each to the daughters.

Upon the death of Mrs. Thompson her son is to receive one-sixth of the residuary estate, and the daughters are to divide the remainder. The indebtedness of the other beneficiaries to the Thompson Security company is listed as follows in the accounting: Mrs. Owen, $390,000; Mrs. Thomas, $236,443; and Mrs. Rose H. Thompson, the widow, $130,183.

Claims Delay Settlement.

The executors of the estate are John R. Thompson Jr., Henry M. Henriksen, and the Continental National Bank and Trust company. They are also the trustees. The petition filed yesterday said that final settlement of the estate had been held up by the claims against and due the estate, and because of the manner of distribution.

The executors were not discharged pending settlement of income taxes for 1928 and 1929, which have not yet been finally determined. The accounting also showed that the estate is indebted to the Security corporation for $591,000 used for the payment of inheritance taxes. This debt, the petition said, would be satisfied by the transfer of capital stock of the security company from the estate to the security company.

NEGRO VET AND TWO ATTORNEYS GO BEFORE JURY

Richard Birdwell, Negro war veteran whose war risk insurance suit in federal court is under investigation by the federal grand jury, and the two members of the legal firm which filed the suit, State Senator James J. Barbour and Attorney Edward H. S. Martin, were seen entering the grand jury room in the federal building yesterday. All three had asked to appear before the jury.

The investigation of Birdwell's compensation suit was begun after Federal Judge John P. Barnes informed the United States district attorney's office that the action bore evidence of perjury.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Kennedy, in charge of the investigation, was with Birdwell and the two lawyers when they entered the grand jury chamber. Mr. Kennedy had announced that he would permit no one to testify before the grand jurors concerning the case without first signing an immunity waiver.

WIFE, ACCUSED IN DIVORCE SUIT, BLAMES TERRIER

Says Male Guest Was Exercising Dog.

It was her wire haired terrier that caused all her troubles, Mrs. Florence L. Mosher, 32 years old, 1205 Sherwin avenue, told Superior Judge James J. Kelly yesterday. She was testifying in her own defense in the trial of the divorce action in which both she and her husband, James Mosher, of Prophetstown, Ill., sought decrees.

Each charged the other with adultery. Mosher, through his attorney, Benjamin B. Davis, surprised Judge Kelly by announcing that he would admit the truth of his wife's charges. The trial is not before a jury. Attorney Davis said that his client could prove his counter charges against his wife. The lawyer said that Mrs. Mosher was trapped by detectives in her apartment with Virgil Eckert, an insurance salesman, 1201 Chase avenue, on Jan. 12.

Mrs. Mosher, daughter of the Rev. James Phelps, a De Kalb pastor, was the first witness. Clad in severe black, she calmly denied her husband's accusations. Eckert, she said, was just a friend who occasionally took her dog for a walk.

Wife's Story of Raid.

"On the night of the raid," said Mrs. Mosher as she was cross-examined by Attorney Davis, "I had six persons to my apartment for a quiet party. Among them was Mr. Eckert. The whole group left about 12:30 o'clock, and after seeing some of them home Mr. Eckert returned.

"He had offered to take my dog out for a walk and I had accepted his offer. When he returned about 1:15 he brought the dog to my apartment. I opened the door to let the dog in and I stood there a moment chatting."

"You were wearing only a pair of pajamas at the moment, weren't you," interjected Attorney Davis.

"No. I was wearing a house dress," replied Mrs. Mosher as she continued. "And beside that I only had the door open a few inches. While we were talking then, an extremely large man suddenly stepped up behind Mr. Eckert and pushed him into my apartment. Just behind him I saw my husband. It was he who followed the big man into the room and locked my door."

Children Home, She Says.

Mrs. Mosher added that her children, Janet, 14 years old, and James, 8 years old, were in her apartment at the time. Both the children were frightened by the raiders she said.

Under direct examination by her own attorney, Fred Brown, Mrs. Mosher told of her marriage to Mosher in 1918. She described him as cruel and asserted that he often was intoxicated. "He never worked," she added, "he just lived off the money his father gave him until his father's death in 1930."

In admitting his own guilt, Mosher contended that his wife was also guilty. He asked Judge Kelly to dismiss both divorce bills and "send Mrs. Mosher back to Prophetstown where she belongs." He said she had left him and moved to Chicago in 1930. He filed a cross bill after his wife filed her original suit.

Auto Falls in Mississippi; Three Occupants Drowned

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Three men drowned early today when their automobile plunged from an embankment and crashed through two inches of ice on the Mississippi river. The dead are Walter Fillmore, 38, owner of the car; Irving Johnson, 35, and Robert Meehan, 22, all of St. Paul. A fourth man, Ernest Lind, 24, driver of the car, is missing.

PHYSICIANS LOOK AT CHILDREN IN BRUNKER BATTLE

A medical report on the condition of the two children of Albert R. Brunker and his divorced wife, Mrs. Frederick H. Ruppel of Pasadena, Cal., will be made this morning to Judge Charles A. Williams of the Superior court, who is hearing a habeas corpus fight over their custody.

On orders of Judge Williams, two physicians examined the children, Barbara, age 7, and Robert, 5, at Brunker's home in Lake Forest last night to determine whether they are well enough to appear in court in obedience to the writ served on Brunker. One of the examiners was Dr. Robert Black, a child specialist, who was named by the court at the request of Mrs. Ruppel's lawyer, John A. Bloomingston.

After the examination Dr. Black declined to indicate his opinion of the children's condition. Dr. Morley D. McNeal of Highland Park, Brunker's family physician, said that both children are in bed with persistent colds and indicated he would advise against their being taken to court.

Under the divorce decree, Brunker is to have their custody six months of each year and his former wife the other six months. He was to have turned them over to her on Jan. 1, but did not do so on the ground that they were ill.

Hugh Herbert, Stage Film Recruit, Is Flu Victim

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Hugh Herbert, stage star from New York, now engaged in motion pictures, was stricken by influenza today and taken to a hospital. He will be unable to return to work for a least a week.

"SIDEWALK" SONG WRITER OBTAINS OLD AGE PENSION

Al Smith Comes to Aid of Blake.

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The city whose sidewalks he glorified in song 38 years ago extended a friendly hand today to James W. Blake. Within a few hours after morning newspapers printed the story of his lack of funds and shelter, he was provided with cash and arrangements were made to get state old-age pensions for him and his sister, a woman of 74. Blake is 70.

Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith was one of the first to offer aid. As soon as he got to his office he called W. H. Matthews, director of the Emergency Relief committee, and learned that Blake had arrived for an interview. Mr. Smith made a second call, later, and expressed pleasure when informed that the song writer's future comfort was assured.

Eligible for Pension.

"You're eligible for an old age pension from the state," Director Matthews said to Blake, "and so is your sister. Why don't you think of that?"

"Well," said the song writer, "I have tried to keep away from such things."

Charles B. Lawlor wrote the lyric. Before he died, seven years ago, he told how he came home from Charlie Murphy's Anawanda Democratic club in 2d avenue, rosy with the glow of good beer, with the tune running through his mind, improved on it as he walked homeward, in the August dawn.

"I got the tune first," Lawlor said. "The title and the words came later—the big, husky policeman leaning against a lampost and twirling his club, an organ grinder and the east side kids, with dirty faces, torn clothes, dancing to the music, while from a tenement window an old Irish woman with a lace cap and checkered shawl looked down and smiled.

Two days later Lawlor visited Blake, selling hats in John Golden's store in 3d avenue. He hummed the tune. They put their heads together, and in less than an hour the words and song were complete.

Blake and Lawlor got $5,000 for the copyright. They wrote several other popular songs together.

ELECTRIC SERVICE ON N. Y. TO PHILADELPHIA ROUTE INAUGURATED

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Started on its initial run by a signal from Mayor John F. O'Brien, the first electric train from New York to Philadelphia left the Pennsylvania station at 9 a. m. today. This marked the newest advance of the Pennsylvania railroad in its $80,000,000 program for the electrification of its road all the way to Washington.

Mayor O'Brien in company with George Le Boutillier, vice president of the railroad, and several other railroad officials went to the platform where the train was waiting. A white ribbon was stretched across the tracks from one platform to another.

A bugler blew a signal and the mayor clipped the ribbon with a pair of scissors. As the ribbon fell the train moved forward. Its crew was cheered by the spectators as it slowly gained speed and left the station.

The locomotive pulled a train of eight cars. Its horsepower is 3,750 and it can attain a speed of 100 miles an hour.

HIT, RUN DRIVER SEIZED AT HOME FOR AUTO KILLING

Gus Costello, 40 years old, of 825 North Mozart street, a private watchman, was struck and killed last night by an automobile which sped away after the accident. The accident occurred at Huron street and Western avenue.

Several hours later police arrested Peter MacRae, 31 years old, of 244 North Kedzie avenue, as the driver. Detectives said MacRae admitted hitting Costello. He told police, they said, they had started to turn back after the accident, but became frightened by the crowd at the scene, and drove away. He was traced through his license.

Mrs. Beatrice Brooks, 51 years old, of 1350 East 61st street, was fatally injured at 55th street and Cottage Grove avenue last night by an automobile driven by William A. Morgan Jr., 15224 Center avenue, Harvey, a student at the Thornton high school. She was identified several hours later by her husband, Al, a tailor.

Farmer Guns for 'Possum; Falls and Shoots Himself

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Samuel J. Copeland, 52, farmer and a Republican leader of Posey county, is at the Welborn Walker hospital. He was shot in the abdomen early today while going to the henhouse in search of an opossum, which was disturbing the chickens. He caught a foot in some brush. As he stumbled the gun was discharged.

NO RECIPROCAL TARIFFS FOR U. S., RAINEY DECLARES

Can't End Favored Nation Treaties, He Says.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Representative Rainey of Illinois, Democratic floor leader, said in an address tonight that reciprocal tariffs as a means of reviving international trade were impossible because of existing favored nation treaties which cannot be broken until they expire.

"We are caught in the trap of these insane and absurd tariff policies of our own making," Rainey explained before the Washington board of trade. "Our foreign trade is suffering from hardening of the arteries."

Might Press Demands.

Mr. Rainey pointed out existing treaties had been approved by the senate and ran for from three to ten or more years, and that an attempt to make special arrangements with one country would open the way for most favored nation signatories with the United States to press their demands for like agreements.

Mr. Rainey characterized as "the silliest of all" proposed inflation of currency to remedy the country's ills.

"We are victims of the price system," he said. "Money only circulates when it is borrowed. And it is only borrowed for construction or some other enterprise. And now it isn't borrowed, so it doesn't circulate.

Prefers Bimetalism.

"If there is to be inflation I prefer bimetalism as the medium. That would give us trade with one of the most thickly populated sections of the globe."

The Democratic leader, a candidate for speaker at the next session, promised action looking to repeal of the eighteenth amendment if he is named to that position.

Mr. Rainey warned that the United States is nearing the stage at which the government would have to take over railroads, banks, insurance companies, farms, and other interests.

"When that time comes," he said, "it will be communism and nothing else. But many other activities still will be controlled by private interests. Therefore, our country won't succeed even as a communistic nation."

HOLD THREE MEN ACCUSED OF FAKE MOUTHWASH PLOT

State's Attorney Courtney's office yesterday had in custody three men accused of a plot to counterfeit a popular advertised brand of antiseptic wash and flood the market with their imitation product.

The men held are C. O. Brosius, 7509 Pratt avenue, a bottle broker; Harry Schayer, alias T. E. Danks, 3530 Sheridan road, and Morris Tuttman, 3843 West 14th street, who said he was employed by Brosius as a chauffeur. All were charged with conspiracy after a habeas corpus writ had been filed in their behalf.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne and Lieut. Frank Johnson, who investigated the case, the complaint against the men was made by L. C. Hoffman, general superintendent of the company manufacturing the advertised products alleged to have been imitated. Hoffman, they said, reported that 36,000 bottles of the spurious antiseptic had been seized as it arrived in Chicago.

POLISH EDITOR KILLED BY TRAIN.

Depew, N. Y., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Frank Dusskiewicz, 57, president of the Polish Everybody's Daily in Buffalo, was killed by a freight train today as he was hurrying to board a passenger train.

WOMAN NAMES POLICEMAN AS HER ATTACKER

Cap Found Near Scene Leads to His Arrest.

Policeman Fred Cordes of the Irving Park station was identified yesterday by Mrs. Olive Hanley, 32 years old, as the man who tried to attack her Sunday night near her home at 3536 Ottawa avenue. Cordes was suspended by Commissioner Allman immediately after he was placed under arrest on a charge of assault with intent to commit rape.

Cordes, who is 35 years old, is the father of three children. He lives at 6811 Altgeld street, about two miles from the scene of the attempted attack. He is to be arraigned in the Felony court today. His arrest followed the finding of his service cap near the Hanley home.

Victim's Screams Bring Aid.

Mrs. Hanley's assailant leaped at her from the shadow of a building near her home. Her screams brought Walter Mirra, 3533 Ottawa avenue, and Miss Mildred Riel, 19 years old, 3747 Olcott avenue, to her aid. Mirra was escorting Miss Riel to her home.

The assailant fled as the couple approached. Mrs. Hanley said the man was wearing a policeman's cap. The cap was found a short distance from the scene of the attempted attack. The number on the shield was traced through police records to Cordes.

The policeman said his automobile had been stolen earlier in the evening while it was parked at Milwaukee and Agatite avenues and that he had left his cap in the rear of the car.

Capt. Malone Orders Inquiry.

Capt. Willard L. Malone ordered an investigation. It was found that Cordes had not reported his car stolen and that he was seen wearing his cap when he left the car after parking it.

Mrs. Hanley was taken to the station. Cordes was placed in a group of policemen. All were wearing caps. Mrs. Hanley picked Cordes from the group as her assailant. The assault charge was placed against him and his suspension followed.

HALT AUTO; STEAL $700.

Jack Kipnis, 7704 Essex avenue, owner of several gasoline filling stations, was robbed of $700 and $300 in checks by three men who forced his automobile to the curb at 34th street and Hamilton avenue late yesterday.

HORNER NAMES THREE STATE OFFICIALS TODAY

Lincoln Park Board Slate Ready?

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—[Special.] Only three appointments are expected to be submitted to the state senate tomorrow by Gov. Horner. They are Daniel F. Sullivan, Robert C. Kingery, and Ernst Lieberman. Bonds were obtained for them in Chicago.

Prof. Simeon E. Leland of the University of Chicago, who was one of the advisers of the governor's tax commission and of the Strawn committee, was seen in Gov. Horner's office today, and it was reported he has been offered a place on the tax commission, which, as reorganized, will have three members. The others probably will be Scott W. Lucas of Havana, primary candidate for senator, and Ald. Barnet Hodes of Chicago.

Park Board Slate Fixed?

As to the Lincoln park board, substantial verification was obtained for Sunday's report that A. D. Piamondon is slated for its presidency. Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, who was indorsed by north side Democratic leaders, has been offered a membership.

Others listed for the north park commissionerships are:

G. BERNARD ANDERSON.

WALTER J. CUMMINGS of the Brill Car company.

Concerning Public Works.

Mr. Kingery, secretary of the Chicago regional planning commission, is in Springfield and tomorrow is to be named assistant director of the department of public works, vice Don Garrison of Rushville, who has held that post for twelve years. It has been rumored that Kingery would be offered the directorship.

A second of the three bonded positions is that of chief engineer of highways. As forecast last week when Frank T. Sheets was relieved from duty in that office, it will go to Mr. Lieberman of the Chicago engineering firm of Lieberman & Hein. He is one of three engineers brought here to make a survey of all of the engineering activities of the state service and his appointment is said to be temporary.

Sullivan to Watch Expenditures.

Another appointment forecast as certain will become a fact when the third of this group of appointments is submitted to the senate.

It is that of Sullivan, veteran Chicago newspaper man, as administrative auditor. He is expected to act for Gov. Horner in watching expenditures closely and possibly being transferred later to a position of even wider scope.

Gov. Horner later probably will make two appointments for the state athletic commission, commonly known as the boxing commission. Joseph Triner of Chicago may be given the chairmanship for the first year and Packey McFarland of Joliet, a former fighter whose knowledge of the game is counted on to keep it free from questionable matches and decisions in both the boxing and wrestling fields. Gov. Horner has not approached a decision in reference to the third member of the commission.

To Name Block Judge.

While it has no connection with his state appointments, there was verification also for reports that Frank Bicek, an unsuccessful candidate for the Chicago Municipal court bench last November, will be appointed by Judge Horner as judge of the Circuit court of Cook county to succeed Attorney General Otto Kerner in that position.

The indications in reference to the second park commission Judge Horner has to appoint—the west park board—are that no appointments for that body are ready today. It is doubtful that any will be submitted this week.

One definite step Gov. Horner took on his return was to issue an order covering all departments under his direction and that put an end to the practice of closing those offices during the noon hour.

He directed that lunch hour schedule be staggered so that the offices will be open at all hours during the business day. This precedent probably will be followed by Secretary of State Hughes, State Auditor Barrett, State Treasurer Martin and Attorney General Kerner.

AWAIT HORNER'S WORD

A. D. Piamondon of the Belden-Stratford hotel, representative of a pioneer Chicago family, said yesterday he had received no official notification of his appointment as president of the Lincoln park board. He announced, however, that if the job is offered to him he will accept it. A like sentiment was expressed by Frank Bobrytzke, who operates a real estate business at 2501 Southport avenue. Others said to be in line for appointments to the park board said they would prefer to withhold comment until they are officially notified of the appointment.

Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, physician with offices at 5 South Wabash avenue, said he had "nothing to say" concerning his rumored appointment. G. Bernard Anderson, an attorney with offices at 69 West Washington street, said that he had not been active in politics and had no information that he was to receive the appointment to the board.

Of the others, Martin H. Kennelly is president of the Werner Brothers Fireproof Storage company, 2815 Broadway. He has not been active in politics.

Louis Harrison, owner of a west side theater and personal friend of Judge Harry Fisher, resides at 545 Stratford place and is prominent in activities of the Covenant club.

ILLINOIS SENATE TO DELAY ACTION ON REPEAL BILLS

Gov. Horner Says He's for Safeguards.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Action on the two Ward bills repealing the Illinois search and seizure and prohibition acts which it had been thought might be passed by the state senate tomorrow has been postponed.

Both measures are on third reading and an effort to pass them tomorrow had been predicted until this evening, when Senator Richey V. Graham, president pro tempore, in reply to a question said they would not be called up immediately and might not be acted upon this week.

Senator Graham declined to state any reason for the change of plan, but within a short time it became understood that the postponement had been agreed upon in conformity with the wishes of Gov. Henry Horner. The governor has steadfastly taken the position, in his inaugural address and elsewhere, that the repealers should not be passed until the protective measures he believes should be adopted simultaneously are ready for action.

Horner Explains Views.

During a late press conference he was asked if he had suggested that action on the Ward bills be held off.

"Do you think a governor should interfere with the legislature?" he countered.

"I feel that the state prohibition laws should not be rescinded until we are ready to place on our statute books the protective measures that will be necessary in the event that congress modifies the Volstead act or the 18th amendment is repealed," he continued. "There must be statutory regulations protecting our churches and schools and guarding other rights in the event that national prohibition is ended."

Similar repeal measures are pending in the house of representatives, where they were introduced by A. B. Lager of Carlyle. They were put in last Tuesday and, without reference to committee, were advanced to second reading. So far as has been learned there has been no suggestion that this chamber refrain from further advancing its own bills to third or final reading. That step may be taken tomorrow, but thereafter, it is believed, there will be no effort made to pass them until the protective measures are ready.

Records Will Be Kept.

Real news was announced by Senator Graham concerning the committees of the upper house. There were several phases of it, but the big surprise was his announcement that the Democratic majority will smash the precedent of a generation or more and include in the rules for this session an ironclad requirement that each committee must keep a public record of each of its meetings, including all its roll calls.

Another change announced by Senator Graham was the elimination of eight more or less useless committees whose functions now will be assigned to others. During recent sessions the senate has had 37 committees. Under Graham's plan, which the Democratic majority can put through, the committees to be eliminated will be those on aviation, whose duties will be transferred to the committee on roads and highway transportation; the committee on constitutional amendments, which has been of little use; the committee on county government, which seldom has had a meeting; the committee on efficiency and economy, whose functions will be transferred elsewhere; and the committees on fees and salaries, Lincoln memorial, World's Fair, and military affairs.

The plan also contemplates reducing the size of the important executive committee. In the last session it consisted of 18 Republicans and 5 Democrats, a total of 23. This session its membership will total fifteen—eleven Democrats and four Republicans.

BERLIN TO RENEW ARMY TRAINING FOR ALL CITIZENS

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A government spokesman today revealed that Germany expects by spring to reinaugurate the system of universal military training. The speech yesterday of Chancellor von Schleicher reiterating Germany's demand for arms equality, the spokesman said, was a notification to the world and to Germany that there is a determination to replace the reichswehr [the standing army] with a militia in which all citizens must serve.

The revelation of the spokesman brought a protest from the German and French branches of the Women's International Peace and Freedom league at Munich.

In his speech Chancellor von Schleicher said that "our opponents knew that they struck at Germany's very marrow when they rendered her defenseless and a second rate people." He spoke of the treaty of Versailles, which stipulated that the German army must comprise not more than seven divisions of infantry and three divisions of cavalry, a maximum of 100,000 men, including officers. The treaty also stipulated that the reichswehr must confine itself exclusively to maintaining order within the country.

Von Schleicher described as "unkind, undeserved, disgraceful, and unchivalrous" the treatment of the German army in the treaty.

31 ARE INDICTED IN IOWA; LIQUOR RING IS CHARGED

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Thirty-one Davenport and eastern Iowa men have been indicted by a Peoria federal grand jury for an alleged gigantic liquor conspiracy, and bench warrants, issued by Federal Judge Louis Fitzhenry, have been served on a number of them, including two suspended federal dry agents, a deputy United States marshal and two Davenport detectives.

Among those for whom officers have warrants, some already in custody are: W. C. Cooper, Des Moines, former Davenport prohibition agent, suspended last year; Tom Avery, Cedar Rapids, former Davenport prohibition agent, also suspended last year; Harry Brown, deputy United States marshal at Davenport, suspended today; Police Detective Jack Kinney, suspended today; Police Detective William Schwinden, suspended today; Jack Wall, formerly of Chicago and alleged to be one of the leaders of the liquor ring; Mike Talarico, also reported to be powerful in liquor organization; Walter Wiese, reputed to be former leader, whose power has waned, and I. G. Lucchesi, aid to Talarico.

The gathering of evidence required several months, special investigators working with W. H. Plasters and M. C. Bickhart, present federal dry agents stationed at Davenport.

Reveal Federal Marshals Guard Milk Trucks Here

United States deputy marshals have been riding on milk transport trucks of the Crescent Dairy Products corporation, 515 North Crawford avenue, since Dec. 17, guarding the drivers against kidnapers and sluggers. This was revealed yesterday when Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson ordered the receiver for the milk company, Edwin D. Buell, to pay the marshal's office $309.35 for the time of the federal guards. Buell obtained the protection after several threats had been made against drivers of the company which is in a federal court receivership.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

[By the Associated Press.]

Senate agreed to limited debate for early vote on passing Philippine independence bill over President Hoover's veto when Senator Long [Dem., La.] relaxed fifth day's filibuster against Glass banking reform bill.

Senator Sheppard [Dem., Tex.] defended prohibition on its thirteenth anniversary and Representative Schafer [Rep., Wis.] sought another house vote on flat repeal.

House passed senate bill for $75,000,000 in 1933 crop production loans as senate agriculture committee deferred action on house allotment bill until after conference between President Elect Roosevelt and Senator Smith [Dem., S. C.].

Secretary Mills opposed financing future federal construction by long term bond issues and urged manufacturers' sales tax.

JUDGE DIRECTS CAPTURE; FOUR CONFESS THEFTS

Four alleged members of the 42 gang of west side hoodlums, arrested yesterday by Capt. Patrick Collins and Sergt. Joseph Gilfeather of the Des Plaines street station on information furnished by Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli, confessed last night to committing two robberies and attempting a third. Judge Borrelli accompanied the police when the arrests were made.

Those held are: Frank Laino, 25 years old, 1916 Polk street, the leader; William De Vito, 19, of 1120 Taylor street; Ferdinand Daum, 52, of 1522 East 65th place, and Alphonse Capasso, 19 of 1028 South May street.

Laino, the first seized, named the others. Daum admitted he informed the others of good places to rob. He said he was a salesman but could not earn enough to support his family and Laino promised him 10 per cent for his help. He complained he had been cheated of his commission.

The drive against the "42" gang members was extended by the Maxwell street police, who made a roundup last night and seized thirty-six youths. Eight shotguns, two pistols, three bulletproof vests and a bushel basket of ammunition were seized in the gang hideouts. All the prisoners will be viewed by victims of robberies.

STATE TO DEMAND DEATH OF CORRY; NEW TRIAL OPENS

After a day of questioning veniremen in the Criminal court of Judge Thomas J. Lynch yesterday the first session of the second trial of Varner Corry, 17 years old, accused of killing a policeman when surprised in a school swimming pool, ended late in the afternoon without a single juror being selected. At the first trial, before Judge Joseph B. David, Corry was sentenced to serve 18 years in prison, but won a reversal from the state Supreme court.

In questioning the veniremen Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller indicated he would qualify the jury for the death penalty. Defense Attorney James Burke showed by his questioning that the defense will attempt to prove young Corry was suffering from "emotional insanity," caused by reading lurid books and attending exciting movies.

Corry confessed killing Policeman Edward Smith on Memorial day, 1931, when he was arrested shortly after the crime. The widow of the slain policeman was in court yesterday.

SENATE DELAYS ACTION ON BEER ANOTHER WEEK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The efforts of the wets to speed a beer bill through congress hit another obstacle today when the senate judiciary committee considered the amended Collier bill, but delayed acting upon it for another week.

Chairman George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.] stated that the committee was favorably inclined toward the amended bill, which allows the manufacture and sale of beer, porter, wine, and fruit juices with an alcoholic content of not to exceed 3.05 per cent.

Although the backers of the senate amended bill expressed confidence it would be reported out in time for passage at this session, house wets expressed apprehension that the bottling up of the measure in the judiciary committee might subject it to a possible filibuster by the drys.

New Repeal Vote Sought.

While the thirteenth anniversary of national prohibition was not marked by any new progress toward modification of the Volstead act, a new move developed in the house to force a new vote on outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment at this session. House leaders promised that if the sponsors of the new drive could persuade six dry lame ducks to change their earlier votes and vote for repeal they would grant another vote before March 4.

Representative John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.] initiated the fight for a second house vote on repeal. Majority Leader Henry T. Rainey of Illinois advised the Wisconsin wet at once that both he and Speaker Garner were ready to arrange for a new vote if six more repeal votes could be found. An outright repeal resolution was defeated in the house by six votes on the first day of the session. House wets are almost solidly opposed to the compromise repeal resolution reported out by the senate committee.

Sheppard Makes His Speech.

After much travail Senator Morris Sheppard [Dem., Tex.], author of the eighteenth amendment, finally broke through the Huey Long filibuster long enough to deliver his annual speech on prohibition. The Louisiana senator refused at first to allow the Texan to speak, but later relented. Senator Sheppard blamed the drive for repeal upon the millionaires.

Commenting on the judiciary committee's failure to act on the beer bill today, Senator Norris said:

"The subcommittee bill merely makes legal the sale of beer and other fermented liquors which do not contain in excess of 3.05 per cent alcohol by weight or 3.8 per cent by volume. It provides for punishment for the manufacture and sale of any beverages containing alcohol in excess of that quantity. It also repeals those provisions of the Volstead act which make such sale illegal.

"The subcommittee merely uses 3.05 per cent alcohol to indicate that it believes from the evidence that a beverage containing no more alcohol than that is not intoxicating. It is intended only to satisfy legislative scruples, for the committee believes that regardless of the alcoholic content fixed as a limit, such a bill would have to be held constitutional."

Hoover Forces Lose First Tilt for Party Rule in 1936

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The first defeat met by the administration forces in their move to control the Republican national committee for President Hoover in 1936 has been registered in the abandonment of their plan to have a meeting of that committee before March 4.

Considerably more than a majority of the national committeemen have been sounded on the proposition and are known to have gone unqualifiedly on record against the committee meeting before Mr. Hoover leaves office.

Mr. Hoover is expected to seek a comeback and vindication four years hence either by asking another nomination himself or by dictating the selection of one of his intimates.

Failure for Hoover Forces.

While on the surface the matter of calling the national committee together now or in May seems of little consequence, the fact is that it is politically most important and unquestionably marks the failure of the pro-Hoover Republicans in their first definite work to retain control of the party organization. It is regarded now as almost settled that the old line leaders are prepared to take the organization away from Hoover.

Had the meeting been held prior to March 4, the President would still have been in office, his cabinet members and appointees would have been in charge and they might easily have retained control. It would have been difficult for the old line politicians to start something with the President still in the White House.

Will Displace Sanders.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Reorganization of the Republican national and congressional committees is imminent. Fourteen of the 16 members of the national committee necessary to force a meeting over the head of the chairman, it is said, have signed a petition to convene the committee and select a new chairman in case Everett Sanders declines to resign.

Leaders behind the movement believe it probable that Mr. Sanders will elect to retire to avoid an unseemly fight within the committee. In case Mr. Sanders refuses to resign or issue the call under the rules, 16 members can force a call and initiate the move to reorganize the committee.

This will not be undertaken, however, until after the end of the Hoover administration.

BETTY COMPSON GETS HER $38,000 JEWELRY BACK FROM ROBBER

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The $38,000 in rugs and diamonds which was stolen from Betty Compson, movie beauty, Jan. 5, and which involved her in strained relations with the Los Angeles police, mysteriously came back to the actress over the week-end.

Detective Chief Joe Taylor of the Los Angeles force made the announcement. The return of the jewelry bore out his prediction that "Miss Compson's jewels will be given back to her because the police here are too hot on the trail of the suave and unsuspected 'finger man' who is the underworld's spotter in the motion picture social colony."

CAPONE BROTHER, PALS QUIZZED ON NEWBERRY DEATH

John Capone, 28 years old, of 1744 Prairie avenue, a brother of Al Capone, former gang chief, and two companions were arrested last night by Sergt. Arthur Wachholz, one of Mayor Cermak's bodyguards.

The three were questioned by Deputy Chief of Detectives William Blaul about the murder of Ted Newberry, north side lieutenant of the syndicate. They were later quizzed by Al Aman, deputy prohibition administrator.

Those held with young Capone were Joe Fusco, 30 years old, once chief of the Capone beer delivery forces, and Joseph Miller, 32 years old, of 505 West 26th street. They were seized in a Chinese restaurant at 22d street and Wentworth avenue. It was said that Fusco is to be questioned by immigration officials.

During the day Edward Lebensberger, owner of an alleged gambling house at 225 East Superior street, surrendered to police and was questioned about the Newberry case. He said he and Newberry had been partners in the gambling business. After Newberry was killed Lebensberger took out their records from a bank vault. Lebensberger was released.

MONACO AGREES TO SEPARATION OF ROYAL COUPLE

NICE, France, Jan. 16.—(AP)—It was understood today from reliable sources that the supreme council of Monaco at a recent secret meeting decided to make definite the separation between hereditary Princess Charlotte and Prince Pierre providing she abandons her right and privileges to the throne of Monaco. The action must be ratified by the French government.

The separation between Princess Charlotte and Prince Pierre was decreed in 1930. Subsequently Raymond Poincare of France attempted to effect a reconciliation but without success.

Princess Charlotte is a daughter of reigning Prince Louis. The domestic troubles of the couple have been linked to politics by reports that the prince was a favorite of the party striving to set up a republic in Monaco, which is famed chiefly for the gambling casino at Monte Carlo.

GIRLS "DRIVE" TO MOSCOW ABOARD A FREIGHT CAR

Mudholes Interrupt Auto Trip to Capital.

Two American girls, the author and Mary L. De Give, both of Atlanta, Ga., toured in an automobile through soviet Russia during the late summer and autumn. Previous articles dealt with their passage through the border customs stations and the start of their trip to Moscow. The present article begins at Borysov, 60 miles from the Polish frontier.

BY ALVA CHRISTENSEN.

[Copyright, 1933, By The Chicago Tribune.]

A member of the Russian legation in Warsaw had assured us he frequently drove to Moscow by way of Minsk, Borysov, Orca, Lady, and Smolensk. Leaving Borysov we began to doubt his statement. It seemed to us that not even a Russian would stand the discomfort of such roads as we had to travel.

About 6 p. m. our road ran into a deep river, with banks so steep that not even our flivver could climb them. We detoured for several miles until we found a place where the stream was narrower and apparently shallower. Mary L. took off her boots, rolled up her pants legs, and waded across as a test. Then she walked back to the main road to make sure we could drive to it from this ford.

Returning, she expressed the opinion that we could make it across and back to the main road. We plunged the car into the water while a gaping crowd of rustics looked on. But on the other side the car stopped and refused to climb. I took off my boots—Mary L. had sore feet from her tramp—and examined the rear of the car.

Spectators Rescue Car.

The left rear wheel was lodged between a log and a stone. It seemed that the only thing to do was to jack up the back end. This would require large logs to thrust under the axle; a great deal of labor loomed. But help was at hand. The spectators, who lived in a village nearby, all waded over and started shoving on the car.

After two hours of hard work the job was finished and Beckie, the flivver, stood on solid ground. The kindly villagers had worked to the beat of an old Russian work song and didn't seem very tired. Representing the new régime, however, was a young consomol who sat at ease on the bank and shouted soviet slogans while the others toiled.

To prove our gratitude to the peasants, we gave them money, cigarets, soap, sugar, chocolate and a can of pulverized American coffee. When the time for the distribution came the consomol, who had talked and had done no work, left his comfortable seat and stepped down to share the gifts with the peasants. We are still wondering whether that consomol was a boy or a girl.

Feet Cold and Wet.

Beckie had suffered a bent fender and there was a big cut in one tire. Mary L. and I had cold feet from being in the water so long. To add to our troubles the cut tire went flat soon after we regained the through highway.

It was now midnight and we were in the middle of a village. Wearily we heaved out the jack, an extra tube, a new tire and began to work. Just then four men appeared from the darkness and offered to do the job. We let them and they managed it quite satisfactorily. We gave them five rubles. It looked like $2.50 was enough for the work. Now we are ashamed at our stinginess. Russians know that a ruble is worth less than a nickel.

Again we started on. We didn't get far until we were stuck in a deep mudhole. Cold, sleepy, and disgusted, we rolled up the car windows, put the pistol and flashlight where we could get them instantly if needed, took off our wet boots, and tried to sleep. We were so cold and uncomfortable that we couldn't rest.

Peasants Are Kind.

At 5 o'clock in the morning we got more help. Half a dozen villagers passed by, saw our predicament, and ran for hoes and shovels. We got out of our mudhole, but 50 feet farther on we slipped into another and were rescued again. This time the peasants gave the word of farewell, "Dosvedania," and we kept going. How kindly those old Russian peasants, and how different the soviet workers!

At midday we pulled into a town and found the G. P. U. (secret police) expecting us. They could give us only about 10 liters of gas, but we were informed we could get all we needed in the next town. We thanked them and were ready to leave when a woman, speaking English, addressed us. She said she was a resident of New York, and was home on a visit after nineteen years in America.

She invited us to her parents' home to have a cup of tea, adding that it would be an honor to have two American girls in the house. We accepted. Walking through mud 6 inches deep, we entered the house. In it were a large family, some ill-mannered chickens which seemed to be quite at home, a few goats and a cow. There were no pigs. We sat down to a very distasteful meal of pickled herrings, black bread and unsweetened tea. We ate it, but didn't enjoy it, although we hadn't eaten since the day before.

Cheka Agent Guards Car.

Thanking our hostess, we left and waded back to our car, which was being guarded by a G. P. U. agent. We drove on and at 3 p. m. reached Orca. We had made only 30 miles in two days, and we began to realize that, Russian roads being what they are, we would have to send the flivver to Moscow on a freight car. We knew, also, Russians being what they are, that if we expected to have a car when the train arrived we would have to ride with it.

We had missed the Moscow freight for that day and spent the night in the municipal slaughterhouse. Our hosts were an American family who lived in the place; a mother, her son and three daughters, who had been persuaded to come back to Russia to work under the new régime. They had been in Orca two and a half months, making sausage every day and never getting a bite of meat to eat.

They were not the only ones so treated. None of the other workers drew any meat, but we were told the Red director and his family had all they could use.

Washes Car in Dnieper.

Early the next morning Mary L. prepared a meal while I worked at washing off the car in the Dnieper. At noon we went to the station and purchased tickets to Moscow. They cost us 103 rubles, $52 at the official bank rate, but actually $4 in the money we had purchased with our American funds in Poland.

We were told to put Beckie on the flat car at 2:30 p. m., as the train would pick us up at 5 p. m. But that day the train was late, very late, and it was 4 a. m. when we actually got going. Then for three days and four nights we lived on that flat car. Our car was our house and the foundations were the rolling wheels.

It wasn't comfortable. We tried to sleep curled up on the front seat. We cooked our meals on the car floor. We did everything in the way of housekeeping but hang out a clothesline. It was a weary journey. The train would creep along two or three hours and then slumber just as long on a siding. The worst of it was that we were never able to find out where we were or get information on when we would reach Moscow. To add to the discomfort we ran out of cigarets.

Arrive in Moscow.

On the afternoon of Aug. 15 we finally halted in the Moscow freight yards. We had been a week getting there from the border. But we were cheered, even greatly excited. At last we were in the heart of the vast land of the soviets. In less than an hour, we told ourselves exuberantly, we would be in the Intourist hotel, where we would have a bath and get something good to eat.

As usual, we were too optimistic. We were not yet fully aware of Russian indifference, inefficiency, and carelessness. We wouldn't leave the flivver and it wasn't put near an unloading platform that afternoon. Nor that night. Freight engines hustled us back and forth in the darkness while we were trying to sleep fitfully. It was 7 a. m. of the 16th when we were finally at the platform.

Hastily we unwired our Beckie and drove off. Now we would drive to town for the bath and some breakfast. Alas, a G. P. U. man stopped us and I had to walk with him a long way over the network of tracks to a faraway station office. No English was spoken and at the end of three hours, still sitting there, I hadn't found out what was required.

I had shouted "Intourist" loudly and finally the station man called the office. Later I learned he had never had any foreigners arrive by freight before and was stumped by his problem. It was an incident out of the ordinary and a Russian is more startled by such a thing than most people would be by a murder.

Reds Wanted Money.

At 11:30 a. m. the Intourist man arrived in a big fawn colored Lincoln automobile. He explained that I was being held because the station man wanted a ruble and twenty kopecks. Communists, it seemed, like money fully as well as capitalists. But anybody who wants money, ought to be able to tell about it. Why, at least, couldn't that man have written down a figure on a piece of paper?

The formality of paying four cents having been completed, we were allowed to go. We followed the Intourist Lincoln into Moscow and arrived at the Novo Moskovski hotel; just two weary, dirty, hungry and disillusioned American girls. The edges of our enthusiasm for "the cause" were a little ragged. Still, we could have been won back as converts if, thereafter, we had been shown anything to prove that Russia of the present is genuine or worth while.

American Girls "Touring" Russia Via Freight Car

SHULER'S RADIO STATION LOSES IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The voice of station KGEF, organ of the Rev. Robert P. Shuler of Los Angeles, was muted today by a Supreme court ruling.

The court upheld lower court decisions, ordering KGEF off the air because of Shuler's broadcasts by refusing to review an appeal in the case.

The order of the radio commission closing Shuler's station, operated by his church, Trinity Methodist, South, figured in the campaign which Shuler made for the United States senate in November, running as a Prohibitionist.

He received over 500,000 votes, but was third in the field, William G. McAdoo winning the seat now held by Senator Samuel Shortridge.

Acquits Harvey Doctor in Illegal Operation Case

Dr. Charles M. Bradley, 15333 Center avenue, Harvey, was acquitted yesterday by Judge John Prystalski in a directed verdict in the Criminal court, on a charge of murder by abortion. Testimony showed Mrs. Susan Lencho, 36 years old, Blue Island, who was the victim, was treated by several physicians at about the same time. Dr. Bradley denied the charge.

AUTO THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 82; recovered, 80; stripped, 12 [from police records for the twenty-four hour period ending at midnight Sunday].

Automobile case defendants: James Igoe, sentenced to one year in the House of Correction and fined $100 and costs for automobile larceny. John Godsel, sentenced to thirty days and fined $1 and costs for a similar offense. Motion for probation Jan. 28. Richard Scovell, sentenced to ten days and fined $1 and costs for the theft of an auto battery. John Paniak and Stanley Gabors, charged with auto larceny, and Anthony Parasa, accused of attempted larceny, held to the grand jury. All cases before Judge Harold F. O'Connell.

House Bill Asks $5,000 for Widow of Bonus Man

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Representative A. J. Sabath [Dem., Chicago] has introduced a bill in the house to pay the widow and child of William Hushka of Chicago $5,000 relief. Hushka was killed during an altercation with a Washington policeman immediately before the bonus army was driven from the capital last year. He is buried in Arlington cemetery.

RENT STRIKERS FIGHT POLICE OF BROOKLYN

New York, Jan. 16. — [Special.] — When the marshal and one patrolman took furniture out of a tenement in Brooklyn today, rent strikers carried it back.

The marshal and a lone patrolman, facing a crowd of about 200, called an emergency squad. For a few minutes there was a battle between police and the crowd. The row increased when the crowd got reinforcements.

Eight radio cars were ordered to the scene and aided in dispersing the crowd of about 400. Five prisoners were captured and taken to a police station. A family had been evicted.

STALIN ASSAILS RED LEADERS FOR FARM FAILURES

Orders Stricter Control of Grain Collections.

MOSCOW, Jan. 16.—(AP)—In a second speech to communist party leaders, made public tonight, Dictator Stalin took the party severely to task for the failure of its rural leadership to grasp the newly created problems of agriculture, on which failure he puts the blame for the serious shortcomings in 1932 grain collections.

The speech was delivered on Jan. 11 before the communist party central committee and the central control committee. The bolchevist chieftain declared that the party henceforth must take over leadership of the entire collective area so as to perfect a new agricultural structure and protect it against anti-soviet elements.

Cites Main Defects.

In this he apparently referred to the establishment of political sections at every state farm, machine and tractor station recently authorized by the party to insure closer control of agriculture.

Asserting that grain collections in 1932 were carried out with "much greater difficulties" than in the previous year despite a better harvest, Stalin cited as the main defects the failure of the comrades to understand the new conditions created last May by the decree allowing peasants to sell their surplus in the open market, their misguided belief that the virtual completion of collectivization meant they could relax their responsibilities, and their inability properly to gauge and meet the new tactics of kulaks and other village anti-soviet elements.

Sought Higher Prices.

He pointed out that the May decree led most of the peasants to reason it was better to withhold grain from the government so as to have more to sell in the private market at higher prices.

Saying in effect that the present faults of agriculture were due to administration and not to collectivization, he added, however, that it was "not enough for the comrades to think that collectivization alone was sufficient."

"It merely increases our responsibilities in developing socialized agriculture," Stalin continued. "Passivity is now more dangerous than before. The party must take into its hands the whole leadership of collectives now so as to guarantee a definite plan. Otherwise the system will fail. Collectivization is a miracle of construction if it is in the right hands, but it is impossible if in the wrong."

GERMAN TEACHER SAYS F. D. ROOSEVELT WAS A BRIGHT YOUNG FELLOW

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany, Jan. 16. —(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's election as President of the United States has brought a great deal of pride and satisfaction to Christian Bommersheim, the schoolmaster who taught him German when the President elect was a child in a blue sailor suit.

"His parents brought little Franklin here for six weeks in 1891," he said today, "and when they put him in my class he impressed me quickly as an unusually bright young fellow. He was the only foreigner in the class and naturally an object of curiosity, but he had such an engaging manner; he was always so polite, that he soon was one of the most popular children in the school."

AUTOIST KILLED IN OHIO.

Denison, O., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Luther Haldreth, 25, of Freeport, O., was killed today when he lost control of his automobile and it crashed into a tree. Three cousins escaped with minor injuries.

Cuban Student Is Killed in Gunfight with Police

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 16.—Cuban students and police renewed their feud last night in a gun fight. One student was killed. Five students and six policemen were wounded. Two of the injured students are not expected to live. The slain student is Mariano Gonzalez Gutierrez, 20, of the University of Havana. Police said he was the leader of a terrorist opposition movement to President Machado's government.

SENATE ON SPOT BY ROOSEVELT'S FARM AID SILENCE

Democrats Puzzled What to Write Into Bill.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Two men are proving very embarrassing to the Democrats in congress. One is their President elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt. The other is their senatorial colleague, Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

It was Mr. Roosevelt's unwillingness to commit himself on farm relief which today caused the senate agriculture committee to postpone action on the pending domestic allotment plan, and which sent Senator Ellison D. Smith [Dem., S. C.], who will be the chairman of the committee in the next congress, hurrying to New York for a talk with his chief.

Democratic Leaders Angry.

It was Senator Long's unwillingness to see the Glass banking bill advanced which virtually tied up work in the senate for a sixth day and caused Democratic leaders to writhe in impotent anger and their Republican confreres to smile in complacent glee.

But the Long filibuster was broken this afternoon at least to the extent of allowing a vote tomorrow on the senate move to pass the Philippine bill over the President's veto.

Farm Bill Opposition Grows.

The meeting of the committee on agriculture found a group of Republicans and Democrats in agreement on one thing. They did not like the allotment plan which the house sent over so triumphantly only a few days ago.

Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.], the committee chairman, did not like the measure and made no bones about saying so. Instead of argument from his Democratic friends, he received a general concurrence in his views. He said he believed the plan unworkable; he believed that with rice, butterfat, and peanuts added to the wheat, cotton, hogs and tobacco originally in the bill, the measure had become a hybrid affair.

Growing Cold to Measure.

Southern Democrats are getting colder on the measure. They are being remonstrated with by southern textile manufacturers who would be called on to pay the four of five cents a pound tax on cotton processing if the bill went into effect.

Mr. Roosevelt has called on his loyal followers in congress to put through an agricultural program that will satisfy the pledge he made in his campaign speech at Topeka. But he so far has refused to say what he thinks the allotment plan bill should and should not contain. He has handed the bag to the congressional Democrats to hold. The senate Democrats do not like what the house Democrats put into the bag. Therefore, Senator Smith and his trip to New York on another hunt for instructions.

Agriculture Committee Waits.

Meanwhile, the agricultural committee will wait. The talk at this morning's meeting dealt among other things with the comparative advantages of taking everything out of the bill except wheat and cotton and of putting into the bill all of the important farm products.

It was when this latter suggestion was raised that Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] mentioned the fact that if the bill was to be as wholesale as that, that certainly copper should not be omitted. While not exactly a farm product, the senator pointed out, copper was as depressed as though it were turnips or prunes.

G. O. P. Laugh at Democrats.

It irritated the Democratic leaders to know that the Republicans were laughing at them for their inability to lasso the Louisiana radical. Not only were the Republicans enjoying the Democratic discomfiture, through such jokesters as Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.] and Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.] they were adding to it by coaching Senator Long in the filibuster.

It was agreed at last, however, after two days' delay of the vote on the President's veto of the Philippines bill, that debate on the measure will be limited and a vote had some time tomorrow. Predictions are that, like the house, the senate will override the veto. The unofficial poll to date is reported to show only 20 senators ready to sustain the President.

That the Philippines vote should go over until tomorrow was in itself a victory for Senator Long; for it postponed for another 24 hours the attempt, which the Democratic leaders will make, to quell him through the imposition of cloture.

Long Yields to Sheppard.

For more than three hours, early in today's session, the Louisiana senator held forth, sometimes on the Philippines, sometimes on the branch banking features of the Glass bill.

With his usual shouts and arm flappings, Senator Long denounced the "imperial bankers" and the plan, through branch banking, to concentrate the wealth of the country into still fewer hands. Senator Millard E. Tydings [Dem., Md.] angrily tried to get the "Kingfish" to desist. If the Louisiana senator really wanted to help the distressed, he said, let him stop talking and legislate. Let branch banking be abandoned, and he was ready "to talk turkey," Senator Long replied.

Senator J. Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.] inquired whether the senator from Louisiana was "aware that the present situation in the senate brought upon it the contempt of the nation and the disrespect of mankind."

INCOME TAX LAW AND DEMANDS ON YOU EXPLAINED

Below is the sixth of a series of ten concise articles on the income tax prepared for THE TRIBUNE. The articles explain provisions of the new income tax law, known as the revenue act of 1932, under which income tax returns are to be filed in March.

BY WILLIS NANCE.

Rates of Tax for Individuals.

Both the normal tax rates and the surtax rates have been substantially increased under the revenue act of 1932.

For the year 1931 and several prior years the normal tax rates were 1½ per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of personal exemption and credit for dependents; 3 per cent on the next $4,000, and 5 per cent on the entire balance of income.

For the year 1932 these normal tax rates have been increased to 4 per cent on the first $4,000 and 8 per cent on the entire balance of income.

During the last several years a surtax has been imposed upon the net income of an individual, ranging from 1 per cent on net incomes over $10,000 and not more than $14,000, to 20 per cent on net incomes in excess of $100,000.

For 1932 the surtax rates range from 1 per cent on net incomes from $6,000 to $10,000, to 55 per cent on net incomes in excess of $1,000,000.

Because of the lowering of the starting place for the imposition of the surtax from $10,000 to $6,000, a large number of taxpayers will be required to pay a surtax for 1932 who have not been subject to the surtax in prior years.

The following table shows the tax for 1932, both normal tax and surtax where applicable, in the case of a head of a family or married person having no dependents and entitled to a personal exemption of $2,500, assuming also that such person has no dividend income or partially exempt interest income:

| Net Income. | Tax. | Net Income. | Tax. |
|---|---|---|---|
| $ 1,000 | $ 0 | $ 26,000 | $ 2,700 |
| 2,000 | 0 | 28,000 | 3,080 |
| 3,000 | 20 | 30,000 | 3,480 |
| 4,000 | 60 | 35,000 | 4,500 |
| 5,000 | 100 | 40,000 | 5,800 |
| 6,000 | 140 | 45,000 | 7,140 |
| 7,000 | 210 | 50,000 | 8,600 |
| 8,000 | 300 | 60,000 | 11,900 |
| 9,000 | 390 | 70,000 | 15,700 |
| 10,000 | 480 | 80,000 | 20,000 |
| 12,000 | 680 | 90,000 | 24,800 |
| 14,000 | 900 | 100,000 | 30,100 |
| 16,000 | 1,140 | 150,000 | 58,100 |
| 18,000 | 1,400 | 200,000 | 86,600 |
| 20,000 | 1,680 | 300,000 | 144,600 |
| 22,000 | 2,000 | 500,000 | 263,600 |
| 24,000 | 2,340 | 1,000,000 | 571,100 |

In the case of a single person having no dependents and entitled to a personal exemption of $1,000, under similar circumstances the tax for 1932 is as follows:

| Net Income. | Tax. | Net Income. | Tax. |
|---|---|---|---|
| $1,000 | $ 0 | $4,000 | $120 |
| 2,000 | 40 | 5,000 | 160 |
| 3,000 | 80 | 6,000 | 240 |

To determine the tax for a single person without dependents having a net income of $6,500 or more, add $120 to the tax shown above for a married person having the same income. The addition of $120 represents the 8 per cent normal tax on the difference between the personal exemption of $1,000 for a single person and $2,500 for a married person.

The earned income tax credit, adopted after much effort in earlier laws and considered fair to individuals whose incomes were derived from personal services, has been entirely eliminated. The elimination of this credit will increase the tax of almost every taxpayer for 1932 since, in previous years, where the income of a person was under $5,000 his entire income was considered to be earned income and, if over $5,000, at least $5,000 was to be considered earned income for the purpose of the earned income credit, whether or not such income was derived from personal services.

PEOPLE WARNED CONGRESS MUST BALANCE BUDGET

Mills Appeals to Nation; Hoover to Follow.

of a workmanlike solution of the government's fiscal problems. He recalled that both parties in their campaign pledges promised to balance the budget.

"The time to make good those pledges is now," he continued aggressively. "The need is obvious. The plan is there. There is no excuse for further delay."

"The goal is so definitely possible of attainment," he asserted, "and the results will be so beneficial in many directions that one cannot help but be impatient at the difficulties and delays, and even more impatient at the uncertainty."

Sees More War Debt Defaults.

In his address the secretary again disclosed that he does not anticipate the government will be able to collect all of the 329 millions in war debt payments due this coming year. He even went so far in this connection as to term collection of all these debts highly doubtful. He urged that only about 113 millions be counted on as likely to be collected in figuring out the size of the prospective 1934 deficit in event no further action is taken to balance the budget.

The Mills statement tonight and the President's anticipated budget action tomorrow are certain to touch off a display of oracular fireworks in both houses of congress. The fact that the Hoover budget balancing drive comes on the eve of President Elect Roosevelt's arrival in Washington following his so far fruitless effort to initiate a budget balancing program of his own for the short session will act to intensify the congressional reaction.

Mills Gives Details.

In his exposition of the state of the public finances, Mr. Mills stepped hastily over the impending billion and a half deficit for the current fiscal year and devoted the major part of his time to the 1934 fiscal year for which congress is now appropriating. He stated that current expenditures for 1934, not counting public debt retirement, will amount to 3 billion 233 millions on the basis of the estimates submitted to congress by President Hoover.

"The 1934 budget, as supplemented, contemplates expenditures, exclusive of public debt retirements, of $3,233,000,000 for the fiscal year 1934, after all reductions proposed by the President, as compared with $3,771,000,000 for the present fiscal year, or a saving of 538 million dollars," Mr. Mills said.

Suggestions for Savings.

"This would be accomplished in the main by curtailing expenditures for public works by about 260 million dollars; by amending veterans' legislation to do away with certain unjustifiable payments resulting in a reduction of 127 million dollars; by the application of the strictest economy in the various departments and bureaus of the government, and a further reduction in salaries of 57 million dollars.

"Reducing the cost of government by over half a billion dollars, following the substantial savings already affected this year, would constitute a real and fruitful achievement. It is the first essential step toward bringing the budget into balance and laying a foundation for ultimate relief to the taxpayers.

"I know of no reason why the country should not get the benefit of these reductions in expenditures.

Half a Billion Short.

"But this is only part of the story. Even if current expenditures are reduced to $3,233,000,000, the budget will not be in balance.

"The total receipts, exclusive of foreign debt payments which recent events have made a highly uncertain item, are estimated at $2,620,000,000, leaving a gap of 613 million dollars which will have to be bridged by increased taxation. Assuming that we shall collect something on foreign debt account, we need, roughly speaking, a half billion dollars of additional receipts.

"The situation thus may be summarized by saying that, exclusive of public debt items, our federal budget may be brought into balance in the next fiscal year by reducing expenditures half a billion dollars and by providing half a billion dollars of new money. But this does not provide for sinking fund obligations, and it presupposes that no new obligations of any kind will be incurred."

Secretary Mills expressed the belief that passage of the beer and gasoline tax bills would fail to balance the budget. He said that in his opinion "without the manufacturers' excise tax, it will be extremely difficult to balance the budget since the field of new taxes has been pretty well exhausted."

Congress Urged to Spend Billions More Despite Taxpayers' Pleas for Economy

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—With the federal budget still unbalanced and with taxpayers clamoring for a billion dollar cut in the cost of the central government, congress is being flooded with bills calling for the expenditure of several billions.

Senator Edward P. Costigan [Rad. Dem., Col.] is pressing a measure to make permanent a federal dole to the idle from a 500 million dollar fund to be administered by a federal emergency relief board. The bill provides that to obtain the funds for the dole the secretary of the treasury is authorized to issue ten year bonds at an interest rate of not more than 4 per cent.

Loans for Idle.

Another Costigan bill provides for the creation of a United States exchange corporation with a capital of 500 millions subscribed by the federal government and with power to issue debentures aggregating two billions 500 millions guaranteed by the government. From such resources loans would be made to corporations to provide employment and to idle individuals to provide them with purchasing power.

Under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the senate, the federal government would subscribe 200 millions of additional stock for the federal land banks, which would absorb the joint stock land banks and rewrite the existing mortgages held by the two systems at an interest rate of not more than 4½ per cent. In lieu of their outstanding bonds the unified banks would issue 3 per cent bonds guaranteed by the government.

Farm mortgages would be amortized over a period extending to 40 years with a 3 year moratorium on payment of interest allowed. Of the 4½ per cent interest on mortgages, 3 per cent would be used to pay the interest on the bonds, 1 per cent for operating expenses and reserves, and one-half of one per cent for a reserve to cover the government guarantee of the bonds.

Farm Relief Cost Unguessable.

How much the domestic allotment farm relief bill passed by the house last week would cost the treasury nobody knows. Thousands of local agents would be required to check up on acreage and the bureau of internal revenue would need an enormous additional organization to administer the law, collect and pay the bounty. In theory, the system would be self-supporting—that is, paid for by the consumers of the farm products affected—but there appears to be ample room to saddle an additional expense upon the treasury as in the case of the farm board operations, which already have cost the taxpayers more than 300 millions and from 1 to 2 millions a year for administration.

The bounty paid the farmers would in effect be a sales tax on certain foods of more than a billion dollars, several times the 2½ per cent sales tax defeated by a partisan coalition at the last session.

The proponents of immediate redemption of the veterans' bonus due in 1945 were defeated in this congress in their project, which could cost 2 billions 400 millions, but are preparing to renew the fight in the next congress, an extraordinary session of which in the spring is now a foregone conclusion.

Flat Money for Bonus.

Representative Wright Patman [Dem., Tex.], leader of the bonus forces, is devoting his energies in the remainder of this congress to paving the way for the financing of the bonus payment by advocating inflation of the currency as a cure for the depression. To pay the bonus he would have 2 billions 500 millions of currency issued.

Patman and other advocates of the bonus payment met this afternoon to consider a course of action, but arrived at no decision. They discussed various plans for inflation of the currency based on either full payment of the bonus or payment to those veterans who are in need.

Bills to carry into effect the recommendations of the recent citizens' conference on the crisis in education, which call for an unspecified amount of federal aid for state, county, and municipal schools, are in process of preparation. This movement is in line with the proposals of Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, that the federal government extend financial aid to state and other educational institutions.

"We urge congress to provide for federal assistance through emergency loans for a limited period to such states as may make an adequate showing of their inability to maintain reasonable standards of support for public school education," said the conference, which was called by President Hoover.

Inflationists Welcome Educators.

The conference also adopted a resolution proposed by Dr. Hutchins which declared that "immediate efforts should be made through the raising of the general level of commodity prices, the correction of serious economic maladjustments, and otherwise, to increase the volume of income and purchasing power, and thus to provide the moneys necessary for a proper educational program."

This utterance has caused the inflationists to welcome the educators to their ranks. The resolution concluded with the declaration that "if this is not done, widespread injury will result not only to the cause of education but to the value of all obligations, public and private."

Hyde Purchase Plan.

Some of the opposition to the domestic allotment farm relief plan is crystallizing around Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde's scheme whereby the federal government would lease and eventually purchase farm lands withdrawn from cultivation. For this purpose a fund of from 150 to 200 millions a year would be provided.

Under the Hyde plan the treasury would be reimbursed from the proceeds of a tax of 8 cents a bushel on domestically consumed wheat and corresponding taxes to be paid by the consumers of other farm products.

At present there are 60 million acres planted to wheat, 100 million acres to corn, and 45 million acres to cotton. Secretary Hyde suggests that the first year the government might lease 10 million acres each of wheat, corn, and cotton lands, paying about $1.50 an acre for wheat, $3 for corn, and $2 for cotton. At that annual rental 30 million acres of marginal lands now in crops could be taken out of cultivation for 65 millions of dollars.

Would Affect Prices Quickly.

"With this fund at its disposal," said Secretary Hyde, "enough land could be leased by the government to bring about a balanced production. The plan is direct, positive, and reaches the real disease and is not a mere bandage on a symptom. The effect on farm commodity prices would be felt the instant the commodity markets knew that a part of the land now producing the surpluses was to be taken out of cultivation."

The government, under the Hyde plan, would take a ten year lease on the withdrawn lands, with an option to purchase them and devote them to a general land utilization program, whereby marginal lands would be set aside for forest production or other purposes.

A bill introduced by Senator Cordell Hull [Dem., Tenn.] provides for a two year moratorium on mortgage foreclosures and authorizes the Reconstruction Finance corporation to loan up to 1 billion dollars to farmers to enable them to meet the interest on their mortgages for two years.

Loans for Farmers.

A bill sponsored in the senate by Senator Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.] and in the house by Representative E. E. Cox [Dem., Ga.] would empower the R. F. C. to loan up to 3 billions to farmers who are able to obtain a 50 per cent reduction of their mortgage indebtedness.

The Hull bill would also authorize the R. F. C. to loan state, county and municipal governments for two years sufficient funds to liquidate all taxes due from delinquent tax payers, which had been in arrears 12 months or more. The amount of the taxes so liquidated, would constitute a paramount lien on the property of the taxpayers in arrears.

All kinds of bills proposing new schemes of federal aid to the states which is already costing the treasury 350 millions a year, are pending. Few of any consequence, however, have received committee approval. The house committee on labor, favorably reported a bill calling for an annual appropriation of 10 millions to be apportioned among states and territories to aid them in financing old age pension systems.

ACTS TO STOP EX-SOLDIER PAY TO THOUSANDS

Hines Halts Nonservice Injury Allowance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Active administrative steps to weed thousands from the list of ex-service men now receiving disability allowance for nonservice connected injuries, have been taken by the Veterans' administration, it was learned today, pending congressional action on a recent recommendation that 63 per cent of such allowances be discontinued by law.

Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines recently ordered a complete review of all disability allowance claims, with the statement that it was a purely "routine" move. The review order it was revealed today, however, followed the adoption of changes in the disability allowance regulations, under which veterans whose claims have been allowed heretofore, no longer will be eligible for the federal benefits.

Varies from $12 to $40 Month.

Disability allowance—payment for injuries not connected with military service—is paid to veterans who can prove permanent disability of 25 per cent or more. The rate of payment varies from $12 a month for the 25 per cent minimum to $40 a month for 100 per cent disability. Under the old regulations, claimants for the allowance could add up their disabilities to make the 25 per cent minimum. For instance, a veteran could claim 10 per cent disability to the eyes, 10 per cent to the ears, and 5 per cent to the arm, and become eligible for the disability allowance of $12 a month.

The change adopted prior to the review order provides that claimants no longer can add up their disabilities in this manner. Instead, they must prove that a single disability of 20 per cent, although the minimum percentage for the allowance remains at 25 per cent. Under this requirement, it was explained at the veterans' bureau, claimants must prove that at least 20 per cent of their 25 per cent disability is due to one single injury.

The change in the regulations, it was said, will apply retroactively so that those ex-service men who became eligible for allowance by adding up various disabilities will be dropped from the rolls unless they can prove 20 per cent disability due to a single injury.

Payments to Cease at Once.

Officials at the bureau stated that there was no way of estimating the number of men now on the lists whose eligibility depends on an addition of disabilities. It was said, however, that the review ordered by Gen. Hines undoubtedly will disclose a large number. Payments to these men will cease immediately.

Complete abolition of the 25 per cent minimum disability for disability allowance was urged recently by Brig. Gen. Hines in testimony before the joint congressional committee now investigating veterans' legislation. Gen. Hines recommended that the minimum be raised to 50 per cent disability, stating that such a move would eliminate 63 per cent of the veterans now receiving benefits for disability in no way connected with military service, and would save more than 51 million dollars a year.

PERJURY INDICTMENT IS RETURNED BY U. S. AGAINST 'PRINCE MIKE'

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Two indictments against Harry F. Gerguson, renowned in fable as "Prince Michael Romanoff," were returned today by a federal grand jury. One indictment brings charges in ten counts against him for perjury in examination at Ellis Island. The other contains one count charging him with false entry after deportation, another alleging evasion of examination upon entry.

Gerguson, still better known as Mike, will be arraigned tomorrow and is expected to plead guilty.

His last deportation was in the early part of last year when he was sent to France, after having stowed away on a trip to the United States. The French authorities, not amused by Mike's carryings-on, plopped him into jail. Mike appeared again in New York on Dec. 22, was sent to Ellis Island, was freed and because of the extent of a kind of fame he enjoys was given a vaudeville contract.

FOUR YEAR PLAN TO REVIVE WORLD REVEALED HERE

Proposes Arms Holiday and Debt Cuts.

Sponsorship of a plan designed "to life the world out of the fog of depression," evolved by Salmon O. Levinson, attorney and student of international affairs, was announced yesterday by a committee of twenty Chicagoans headed by Frank J. Loesch.

S. O. LEVINSON. [Acme photo.]

Basically the plan calls for a four year worldwide holiday on the construction of armaments and for the settlement of Europe's debts of more than $5,000,000,000 to the United States on the basis of $1,250,000,000, to be paid in four installments of $312,500,000 each. During the four year period there would be a gradual pro rata reduction of the existing armed strength down to 50 per cent at the end of the fourth year.

Mr. Levinson estimates that the budget savings to this country from the four year holiday on armaments construction and from the arms cuts during the next twelve years would be more than the total debt of $5,000,000,000.

"The holida," on armament construction," he said, "would save the United States $350,000,000 a year, which for four years would be $1,400,000,000. In addition, the nations would agree to a progressive pro rata reduction of armaments so that, at the end of the holiday, armaments would be reduced by 50 per cent, there to remain indefinitely or until further agreement.

"At the close of the four year period, with armaments cut 50 per cent, America could continue to make a budget saving of 300 million dollars each year. This saving, during the eight years following the four year holiday, would total 2 billion 400 million dollars. Thus the grand total saving during the next twelve years would be $5,050,000,000, more than the present worth of the full amount of the allied debts.

"The budget saving to us of $300,000,000 a year should continue indefinitely and, of course, the savings to the European powers by the armament holiday and reduction would be enormous and their buying power would be vastly increased."

Besides Mr. Loesch, the sponsoring committee includes Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor; Francis X. Busch, former corporation counsel; David Shillinglaw, past state commander of the American Legion, and many university professors, deans, and trustees.

FILIPINO HOUSE PLANS TO REJECT FREEDOM OFFER

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Members of the insular house decided in caucus today they would not accept the Philippine independence bill even if it passed over President Hoover's veto by the United States senate. The insular senate is expected to take similar action. A cable sent to the independence mission in Washington, D. C., said the "representatives agreed by practically unanimous vote the Hawes-Cutting bill as repassed by congress will not be accepted by the present membership of the house even after the return of the mission.

"The membership of the mission is informed if no other legislation can be secured, the present law should continue until receiving from the Democratic administration legislation giving immediate independence in the sense it should not be postponed except for the time necessary to effect a transfer of sovereignty."

The caucus was held prior to the opening late today of a special 10 day session of the legislature which Gov. Gen. Theordore Roosevelt Jr., called to consider a score of bills and a number of appointments. Manuel Quezon, president of the senate and outspoken foe of the Hawes-Cutting bill, attended the meeting. He previously had said he did not favor committing the legislature until congress had completed action. About half of the house's membership attended the caucus.

QUESTION COUSIN OF SLAIN BAND LEADER'S WIDOW

Louis Leppla, 30 years old, 5030 West Quincy street, a cousin of Mrs. Frances Schildhauer, was questioned yesterday by Supervising Captain John Stege in the investigation of the murder of Edwin O. Schildhauer, bandmaster of the Austin High school, who was killed on Dec. 10.

Leppla said he went to the home of his uncle, George Birkinshaw, father of Mrs. Schildhauer, on the night of the killing. Birkinshaw and his wife live on the floor above the Schildhauer flat in the building at 3435 Fulton street. Mrs. Astrid Carlson, a maid in the Schildhauer home, had told the police that Leppla told her not to return to the Schildhauer or Birkinshaw home after the killing. He denied having done so.

He said he was unable to give the police any information toward a solution of the murder.

COLDS ARE NOW REACHING OUT FOR VICTIMS!

Be Wise—Be Careful—Adopt This Simple Precautionary Measure!

Colds are increasing. In some sections Influenza is breaking out. Don't be alarmed, but don't be careless.

A cold is much easier avoided than cured! Do the sensible thing and adopt the ounce of prevention policy. Stay out of crowds as much as you can. Avoid coughers and sneezers. Dress warmly, keep your feet dry and sleep in a well-ventilated room.

Every morning and night take a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. This will keep the bowels open and combat infection by cold germs.

Millions know Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine as an excellent cold remedy, but not enough know it as an equally excellent preventive. Learn its efficacy and keep a package handy all winter long as your "safety first" measure.

If you have already caught cold there is nothing better you can take than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It doesn't merely suppress the cold—it drives it completely out of the system. At the same time it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

For more than forty years Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Now in two sizes—30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and look for the initials L B Q stamped on every tablet. Reliable dealers will not try to sell you a substitute.

JAPAN SPURNS HELP OF U. S. IN ROW WITH CHINA

Orders League to Keep America Out.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 16.—The United States must not be invited into the discussions of the Sino-Japanese dispute, under any condition. This is Japan's reply, dispatched to Geneva today, to the purported compromise resolution proposed by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league of nations.

[Dispatches from Geneva quoted Sir Eric Drummond as having denied submitting a compromise resolution to Japan. He said the compromise was drafted by Japan's own delegates and had no standing in the league.]

The Japanese reply was considered at a cabinet council this morning, and was adopted despite the fact that the resolution was submitted on condition that it be accepted or rejected in its entirety.

As another major modification of the plan Japan demands elimination of the passage stating that the committee of 19 may submit a survey of events, and in this case eight chapters of the Lytton report on Manchuria may be used. This is entirely unacceptable, the foreign office spokesman declared.

Japan Stiffens Stand.

Observers agree that Japan's attitude is more defiant now than ever.

Tokio has, to all outward appearances, decided not to make a single important concession, feeling that it can well afford to let the league go the limit by invoking article 15 of the covenant and applying paragraph 4, which provides for intervention by the league.

It is even declared in some quarters that the Japanese delegation at Geneva will be instructed to abstain from voting on the so-called Drummond resolution even if Japan's modifications are acceptable.

"As Japan's modifications are somewhat radical on fundamental points, it may be impossible for the committee of 19 to accept them, especially as Sir Eric declared the resolution must be accepted in its entirety," the Japanese spokesman said. "If this is the case we must abandon all hope of conciliation and expect the league to invoke article 15. However, even should this occur, Japan will disregard the resolution and see what consequences may ensue, as the league is powerless to act without the consent of Japan and China."

U. S. Trains Chinese Flyers.

The foreign office spokesman also discussed what was described as "sensational information" in the hands of the foreign office that at least 45 American noncommissioned naval officers are in the Chinese army in south China training Chinese flyers.

Interrogated by correspondents, the spokesman emphasized that the men are noncommissioned officers on the active list and not ex-officers, and he further declared that the result of the training is evident by the latest maneuvers, in which the Chinese, for the first time, flew in formation. He said they did this remarkably well, with sometimes as many as 21 planes flying in formation.

(On Dec. 29 last The Chicago Tribune printed a dispatch from its correspondent at Shanghai reporting that Col. John H. Jouett, late of the United States air service, and some 15 assistants were instructing young Chinese in flying at the Chinese Aviation institute at Hangchow, 100 miles southwest of Shanghai. The dispatch said the school was established by China after the battle of Shanghai last spring to train Chinese in "civilian flying.")

League Meets; Delays Action.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Meeting today for the first time since the Japanese occupied Shanhaikwan, the league of nation assembly committee on the Sino-Japanese conflict admitted that the possibility of conciliation now is extremely small, and prepared to adopt a firmer policy with regard to the Japanese program in Manchuria.

After listening to expositions of the recent developments by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, and Paul Hymans of Belgium, the committee agreed to reconvene Wednesday for a final attempt to reach a settlement on a conciliatory basis.

Failing that, they decided that the assembly must move from paragraph three, article 15, of the league covenant to paragraph four, which provides for the drafting of a report on such a conflict with recommendations for league action.

Reveals Jap Scheme.

Sir Eric disclosed that the so-called Drummond proposals for satisfying Japan were not his but were Japan's own proposals which Yotaro Sugimura and Yosuke Matsuoka worked out and transmitted to Tokio. These proposals have no standing before the committee.

The confusion over the so-called Drummond proposals led Dr. W. W. Yen, head of the Chinese delegation, to lodge a protest.

Tientsin Army Chief Sounds Battle Cry.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 16.—The critical situation between China and Japan is more dangerous to China's welfare than a state of actual warfare. Hence, China has practically reached a point where real war would be preferable to the present deadlock. This declaration was made today by Gen. Yu Hsueh-chung, military governor of Chihli province, whose headquarters are at Tientsin.

Gen. Yu, who is 42 years of age, is probably the most trusted subordinate commander under Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang. He is responsible for the protection of the Tientsin district, in which reside more than a million Chinese and the second largest foreign population in China next to Shanghai.

Determined to Hold Jehol.

In an interview with THE TRIBUNE correspondent today, Gen. Yu said an outbreak of fighting between the Chinese and Japanese armies is likely at any time. The Chinese, he said, are determined to hold Jehol province and have made adequate preparations to defend it.

"China has learned much since the Japanese occupation of Mukden sixteen months ago, but the most important lesson we have learned is that we must depend on ourselves to fight it out," Gen. Yu said. "We realize that public opinion throughout the world generally favors China, but we also realize that not a nation, not even America or Russia, is in a position to oppose the Japanese military machine purely in China's behalf. Hence, from now on, when Japan barks China will bite and any further territory Japan gains will be costly.

"China's dependence on the league of nations has cost us the Manchurian provinces because Japan has exploited the world's helplessness and achieved her original objective and now will not stop short of complete control of China.

Use Boxer Protocol as Cloak.

"The Japanese now are even using the Boxer protocol as a cloak for aggression south of the Great Wall, and China is seriously debating whether she is still bound to observe the protocol when her national existence hangs in the balance.

"We realize that our military equipment is inferior to that of the Japanese, but we have more soldiers available and we do not believe the Japanese financial and economic structure is capable of withstanding the strain of throwing an additional 100,000 troops into Chinese soil. Also, the Japanese superiority of mechanical equipment will be minimized as the Japanese advance inland, particularly in the mountainous districts of Jehol."

Gen. Yu then told a story of Japanese intrigue, alleging that large numbers of Chinese speaking Japanese reserve officers have been detailed here for the purpose of creating dissension in the Chinese ranks.

Gives Names of Japs.

Referring to a small notebook, the general read the names of the Japanese agents. He alleged that they are offering financial and political inducements to the old Anfu clique, officials of which are now in retirement, with the object of starting a rebellion in the Tientsin area to unseat the present authorities.

He alleged that the Japanese are exploiting China's recent recognition of soviet Russia.

Mother of Professor

Mrs. Anna Herrick, mother of Dr. Charles J. Herrick, professor of neurology at the University of Chicago medical school, yesterday celebrated her 99th birthday at the home of her son, 6023 University avenue. Among the members of her family present for the celebration was her sister, Mrs. Ellen Choate, 7700 Eastlake terrace, who was 89 years old last Saturday. Mrs. Herrick has lived in Chicago for the last 25 years.

BILLION A YEAR POULTRY TRADE OF U. S. SHOWN

The United States produces and consumes 600 million eggs annually and the chickens hatched each year number between 600 and 700 million. The poultry business of the entire nation last year amounted to a billion dollars.

These figures were presented yesterday at the opening of the three day annual fact finding conference of the Institute of American Poultry Industries by Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. The meeting is being held at the Medinah Athletic club. Dr. McCollum emphasized the value of research to the industry, pointing out that scientific breeding has cut the costs of production of poultry and poultry products 20 to 30 per cent in the last quarter century.

HITCH HIKES BACK TO RENEW FIGHT ON GARY'S MAYOR

Charges against Mayor R. O. Johnson of Gary of misusing public funds to build a summer cottage and a rock garden for himself which were dismissed last week were reinstated yesterday because O. W. Bailey, a former Gary city employé, hitch hiked 1,000 miles to his home to prefer new charges.

The original case had been taken out of Lake county and transferred to Porter county. Last week Prosecutor Robert G. Estill of Gary had the charges dismissed, announcing his intention to file them in Lake county.

Bailey, in the southwest seeking work, heard of the action and hitch hiked home. He arrived in Gary yesterday. He signed an affidavit asserting that he had helped to build Mayor Johnson's rock garden while he, Bailey, was employed by the city. Prosecutor Estill then swore out a new warrant. The mayor is expected to give $1,000 bond today.

Butter Merchant Shot in Battle with Bandits

Leo Bortz, 39 years old, manager of the M and B Butter and Egg company at 3657 Roosevelt road, was shot in the left arm last night when he exchanged shots with three bandits. They tried to hold him up in the 1100 block South Central Park avenue. He lives at 1116 Washington boulevard.

Crew of Liner Is Stricken with Flu at Sea; One Dead

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Influenza attacked the crew of the liner Alaunia in midocean, and before it reached Halifax one quartermaster was dead, the ship's surgeon was seriously ill, and a number of the crew were incapacitated. It is understood the passengers escaped the disease.

U. S. REITERATES NONRECOGNITION PLAN IN FAR EAST

Stimson Again Notifies Japan, China, League.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The nonrecognition policy of the United States in the far eastern emergency has been restated to European foreign offices and the league of nations through United States diplomatic officers abroad on instruction of Secretary Stimson, coincident with the meeting of the committee and 19 of the league to take up the Lytton report on Manchuria. Similar information has been given orally to foreign envoys when they have called at the state department in recent days.

The nonrecognition policy was stated by Secretary Stimson in his identic notes to Japan and China on Jan. 7, 1932.

Will Recognize No Treaty.

"The American government," the notes said, "deems it to be its duty to notify both the imperial Japanese government and the government of the Chinese republic that it cannot admit the legality of any situation de facto, nor does it intend to recognize any treaty or agreement entered into between those governments, or agreements thereof, which may impair the treaty rights of the United States or its citizens in China, including those which relate to the sovereignty, the independence, or the territorial and administrative integrity of the republic of China, or to the international policy relative to China, commonly known as the open door policy; and that it does not intend to recognize any situation, treaty, or agreement which may be brought about by means contrary to the covenants and obligations of the pact of Paris of Aug. 27, 1928, to which treaty both China and Japan, as well as the United States, are parties."

Mellon Is Notified.

Notification that this policy stood recently was sent to Ambassadors Mellon in London, Edge in Paris, and chiefs of mission in other European capitals, as well as to Prentiss Gilbert, consular representative at Geneva. Those officials were instructed to explain to the foreign offices and secretariat of the league, "if asked," that the United States' position remained unchanged.

The state department denied emphatically a London press report that President Hoover had instructed Mr. Mellon to inform the British foreign office that the United States is of the opinion the league of nations has wasted too much time in dealing with the Sino-Japanese situation and that, since all conciliatory measures have failed, the league should act in accordance with its covenant.

A number of other reports bearing on the far eastern situation, most of them originating in Tokio, also were denied by the state department.

Denial Repeated by Grew.

One of the denials was repeated by Joseph C. Grew, the American ambassador to Japan, on the basis of a telegraph from Secretary Stimson, informing him of what had been stated orally to the press here.

This was a denial of a report in Tokio that an understanding had been reached between the United States and China with regard to the supply of arms and munitions to China in case of a war between China and Japan. Secretary Stimson said there was no understanding or agreement of this nature between the United States and China.

It also was denied that there was any basis for a Japanese report that arrangements had been made for a loan from the United States to the Nanking government of $4,000,000, presumably for war supplies.

Another Japanese report that the United States was sending noncommissioned officers of the regular army to China as aviation instructors also was denied.

LOMBARD RAISES CASH TO REOPEN GRADE SCHOOLS

Grade schools in Lombard, Du Page county, which were closed in December because of a lack of funds, will reopen next Monday, according to an announcement made last night by H. B. Davies, member of the school board. The number of pupils affected is 735. The reopening was made possible by the sale of tax warrants to the amount of $10,000. An active campaign was made and last night was the deadline.

"Response to our pleas exceeded expectation," said Mr. Davies. "The people of Lombard deserve great credit for the way they purchased. We now have enough money to run through to June. One school, the Green Valley, will be kept shut, but the children from that institution will be accommodated in the two that will be reopened."

What? No Bean Soup! Senate Restaurant Menu Corrected

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—It turns out that Senator Porter H. Dale, the statesman from Vermont, who said he would get hell if he went and blabbed the figures on the deficit in the senate restaurant, is not the man in charge of the figures after all. Senator [Porterhouse] Dale is just the man in charge of the menu, a position calling for high qualities of statesmanship at times when other senators, coming in for lunch, survey the bill of fare and discover that there is, for instance, no spinach.

The phrase, "What, no spinach?" or "Yes, we have no bananas," is no idle jest when uttered at feeding time by one of the elder statesmen of the republic, and to the credit of Senator Dale it must be said that the brothers have had little cause for complaint. The rights of a senator are extensive, and if he desires spinach he must have spinach, although the citizens may have to contribute taxes at the rate of about $1,000 a week or $50,000 a year to make up the deficit in the restaurant's accounts.

Ugly Situation Averted.

I am told of the case of a senator who has long since vanished from the capital and also from the earthly scene who once entered the restaurant and exclaimed, "What, no bean soup?" An ugly situation was about to develop when the senator who was then in charge of the menu met the crisis with firm courage and resourcefulness. In much less time than it takes the senators to provide bread for persons out of jobs in the present emergency, this statesman took in the situation and solved it. A hearing was called at which the complaining senator reiterated his grievance, "What, no bean soup?"

The waiter was called to testify for the defense.

"Yes, we have no bean soup," he admitted under oath.

"Let there be bean soup for the senator," was the order promulgated that night, and thereafter there was bean soup. In fact, there has been bean soup ever since and there is still bean soup on the menu, although the senator who first discovered this and who instigated this bit of constructive legislation presumably has been dining on milk and honey for some years. It may take a constitutional amendment to get the bean soup out of the menu, but that is another matter.

A Senatorial Prerogative.

It should be remembered that under the senatorial prerogative the statesman is not required to show any record of constructive achievement to earn his desires on the senatorial menu. He may have been doing nothing more for the citizens than read comic strips aloud for the record for days and days by way of a filibuster to prevent other senators from doing anything, but if he expresses a desire for pork, then pork there must be. In this case I only use pork as a handy example, realizing that there is never any lack of pork for the members of the senate.

It is not that Senator Dale lacks access to the figures on the deficit in the senate restaurant. In his position he can get at them, but they are not strictly within his province, and his department merely sees to it that the senators do not lack bean soup if they desire it, letting the deficit fall where it may. The deficit, of course, falls in only one place. The deficit falls on the citizens. But it would not be courteous for one department to blab the figures of another department and as Senator Dale said, they would give him hell for blabbing.

Chance to End a Deficit.

At this point I would like to suggest that Harry M. Stevens, the famous hot dog magnate of the New York baseball yards and the horse parks, be elected to the United States senate to take over Senator Dale's job in charge of the menus, as Mr. Stevens has always made money on his food. If one senator then demanded bean soup and there was not a general demand for it, Mr. Stevens would put the price up to $3 per plate, or whatever the cost might be, plus a reasonable profit. This would discourage statesmen from demanding their individual hankerings and the deficit would be wiped out. Mr. Stevens, not having the U. S. treasury behind his restaurants, has never run deficits, and each item on his menus must carry its own weight, so to speak, in the right-hand column, where the prices are.

But I find myself in an awkward situation because it is a matter of record that I received a Christmas gift of one ham from Mr. Stevens only a few weeks ago. If I were to agitate for Mr. Stevens' elevation to this job, somebody would dig up the express company's receipt for the delivery of this ham and I would be revealed as a professional lobbyist, or a man with a price, to wit, one ham. Thus do the sinister coils of temptation and intrigue entrap the unwary. There is no telling what feelings troubled the heart of Senator Albert Fall, but I think I have a general idea. I can almost hear a senatorial investigating committee in action, with myself on the witness stand and Senator Walsh demanding, "What about that ham?"

Homely Advice Proffered.

Nevertheless, if some one else with a clean record would take the initiative Mr. Stevens certainly should be able to wipe out that deficit, and this, I take it, would be a popular idea among the citizens. Mr. Stevens would not only adjust the prices but would also take action to abolish the charge account, or cuff, which might yet prove to cover a considerable amount of the annual defict. I say it might because I do not actually know how big the cuff is. I tried to find out, but that was the time Senator Dale said he couldn't go into those figures lest they give him hell for blabbing.

Perhaps they cut the ham too thick in the senate restaurant. Not being a restaurant man by trade, Senator Dale could not know how important a mistake this would be.

The late Fred Harvey, the restaurant magnate of the Santa Fé, is said to have gathered his family and trusted employés around him on his deathbed to lay down his fundamental principle for the future of the business. I have also heard that Mr. Stevens, for many years, has opened all daily conferences with his sons, who help him conduct his business, with the same plain, homely advice, "Cut the ham thin, boys."

PARAGUAY ADMITS DEAL IS ON TO END CHACO WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Jan. 16.—Foreign Minister Benitez today confirmed a report that negotiations initiated by Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru to end the Gran Chaco conflict between Paraguay and Bolivia would likely materialize into a concrete proposal in the course of a few days. It is believed here that the delay in the formal announcement of the proposal is caused by difficulties raised by the Bolivian government.

The archbishop of Asuncion has ordered all chalices and gold ornaments in possession of Catholic churches in Paraguay turned over to the national defense fund. It is anticipated that this may start a nationwide offering of valuables comparable with that of the war of 1865 when Paraguayan women sacrificed their jewelry.

Bolivia Gets Planes from U. S.

ARICA, Chile, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The steamer Santa Maria today unloaded eight airplanes and 920 cases of cartridges from the United States. They are destined for Bolivia, which is in conflict with Paraguay over the Gran Chaco territory.

3 Alleged German Spies Are Executed by Poland

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Jan. 16.—Three men, convicted of being German spies, were executed this evening following sentences in the military court at Gdynia. The condemned were Jan Kropidlowski, Polish naval aviator, who was shot, and Paul Pribe and Ernst Koch, Gdynia merchants, who were hanged.

CHARITY MOTOR CORPS WOMEN TO GIVE TEA TODAY

The fifty women drivers of the Volunteer Motor corps of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies will give a tea this afternoon at the Woman's City club, 6 North Michigan avenue. They have issued a public invitation to all Chicago women wishing to join the corps who can furnish cars and gasoline at their own expense. Two hundred cars are needed immediately to transport case workers on their visits to families in distress and to carry children to clinics and hospitals. Those unable to attend the tea may obtain information at the office of the council of social agencies at 203 North Michigan avenue, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

GREEK CABINET SWORN IN; LED BY VENIZELOS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 16.—After failure to end the government crisis, President Zaimis today again asked former Premier Venizelos to head a new coalition government with the cooperation of three former premiers, George Cafandaris as finance minister, Alexander Papanastassiou as minister of agriculture, and Andrew Michalacopoulos as foreign minister. Venizelos accepted and the new cabinet was sworn in at the presidential palace tonight. The general feeling is favorable because Venizelos' leadership guarantees a decisive facing of the financial situation.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

'MOIST THROAT' ENDED HIS COUGH!

"I had coughs all winter, till I learned about 'moist throat,'" writes R. G., of New York City.

Your throat and bronchial tubes are lined with millions of pores like tiny "bottles" continually supplying moisture to the delicate tissues . . . until you "catch cold."

Then these pores clog. Phlegm collects — dangerous germs find a breeding place. Tickling, irritation and coughing set in.

Your cough will be cured only when you increase the flow of your throat's natural moisture, loosening the phlegm so it can be expelled. Many cough "remedies" contain numbing drugs which merely "deaden" the nerves . . . but don't get at the real root of the trouble!

PERTUSSIN, a scientific remedy, is the extract of a famous herb which opens the tiny glands, stimulates the flow of throat moisture and brings quick relief naturally.

If your throat's the least bit raw or dry, take a few spoons of PERTUSSIN now. It's absolutely safe, even for children. At all drug stores, 60¢.

Calvin Fentress Rejected by U. S. Referee.

as attorney." Would Mr. Jacobson withdraw as counsel, he asked. The prospective witness bellowed his refusal and Referee Charles, cutting into a lull in the shouting, ruled that Jacobson might testify without disqualifying himself as attorney.

Under questioning of his associate, Mr. White, the witness launched into a recital of how he and White came to organize the Jacobson-White committee of one thousand and what they had accomplished against New York and Chicago banks in the interest of all Insull investors.

Tells Conspiracy Charge.

As evidence of his freedom from Insull domination Jacobson said that he and White, with the approval of Judge Lindley, had drawn up a bill charging Samuel Insull, his son, Samuel Jr.; his brother, Martin; the directors of Insull Utility Investments, and ten New York and Chicago banks with a conspiracy "to cheat and defraud the public."

"We obtained information from Mr. Fentress on which to base this suit," Jacobson declared. "We're going to go into court and ask the directors to give back the $12,000,000 they authorized Sam Insull to pay Cyrus Eaton above the market price of Insull stocks in a transaction you know about to gratify his personal vanity.

"We're going to make the banks kick back the millions of collateral they grabbed, collateral which was supposed to secure the safety of the $60,000,000 of Insull Utility Investments debentures, which they were selling to the public while they were taking the collateral."

He Names Some Names.

Jacobson counted off the list of prospective defendants in the suit he said he would file. He named Britton I Budd, receiver for the elevated and interurban lines; Walter S. Brewster, La Salle street broker; John F. Gilchrist, vice president of the Commonwealth Edison company; Harold L Stuart, head of Halsey, Stuart & Co.; the three Insulls; Field, Glore & Co.; A. B. Leach & Co.; Hill, Joiner & Co., and the investment affiliates of the ten New York and Chicago banks which lent the Insulls above a hundred million dollars.

"Did you say this suit is filed or is going to be filed?" rasped Ettelson.

"I say it's going to be filed as soon as we elect a trustee," Jacobson yelled back. "Yes, and we've tried to get other action on it. I wrote to Herbert Hoover, President of the United States; Senator Peter Norbeck, chairman of the senate banking committee; State's Attorney Swanson, and United States Attorney Dwight Green."

"Want 60 Million Back."

"We want our sixty million back," he concluded, evoking applause from the crowd. "And I'll give a copy of our bill of complaint to any one who wants it for a "legitimate purpose."

MR. ETTELSON—I'd like a copy of that bill of complaint.

MR. JACOBSON—Yes, but I don't believe you want it for a legitimate purpose. [Hisses and handclaps.]

THE REFEREE—You see the temper of these people? I don't want the impression to go out that this court is against any creditor. Let's have decorum.

A torrent of abuse broke on both sides. Words were indistinguishable, but Jacobson finally emerged to shout alone. He addressed himself to Referee Charles.

"If you're going to call me down for calling him a liar, then call him down for calling me a liar," he stormed, apparently referring to Ettelson. "You let him spout two hours of hot air and poetry last Thursday and you're going to give me time now whether you like it or not."

Jacobson Makes Correction.

Some of the lawyers looked aghast. The referee did not change expression. "Just keep that up a little longer," he said, quietly but ominously.

"I want to correct some of what I said," Jacobson said, reflecting a moment. "I said Swanson and Green made no answer to my letter. Swanson sent over an assistant for a $20 campaign contribution. Later he answered my letter. Yes, I heard from the White House also—from the President's secretary, Lawrence Richey."

The direct examination was over. Ettelson, armed with some of the literature White and Jacobson had sent out to solicit deposit of debentures of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., with their committee, tossed his ammunition on the desk and waded into cross-examination of Jacobson.

Q.—You're a member of the bar admitted to practice before the Illinois Supreme court? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You're familiar with the Supreme court decision condemning the action of an attorney testifying in a cause wherein he is attorney?

The question provoked Jacobson to fury. Leaping from his chair he launched into a tirade against Ettelson, charging him with participating in a case where "somebody tried to steal $30,000 from a poor widow."

The referee cautioned Jacobson, but he would not be checked.

A bondholder interrupted, assailing Ettelson. Ettelson turned on the man. "Are you one of Jacobson's starving bondholders?" he asked.

An elderly man in the crowd stood up, trembling with rage. "I'm a starving bondholder," he said. "I lost $21,000, all I owned. How dare anybody make such a remark as that?"

Ettelson began reading from the Jacobson committee's literature. It contained an allusion to "the splendid progress achieved by this committee under leadership of Messrs. White and Jacobson, whose retention will only strengthen our case."

"Do you approve of that?" Ettelson asked.

"I was not the author of that," Jacobson retorted. "I'm proud of what our committee has done. If the committee seeks to praise us I'm grateful."

Takes Up Subject of Fees.

Ettelson began exploring the subject of Jacobson's fees.

"I see where you are to get up to 20 per cent of all claims recovered," he observed. "I see where you get a $2 advance payment for each $1,000 debenture deposited with you. I understand the court has already awarded you $13,000 in fees as well."

Jacobson broke forth with a torrent of contradictions. The $2 fees were only to cover legal expense, he insisted. The 20 per cent contingent fee would be allowed only if the executive committee of the full committee approved it.

"No human being has ever had the guts to do what we are doing—attack the banks," he shouted. "I'll show you letters, thousands of them, congratulating us for attacking the almighty Owen Young and the king pin, J. P. Morgan."

Again Referee Charles tried to check him, asking: "Are you trying to scare somebody?"

"No, I'm not trying to scare anybody," Jacobson retorted, "nor am I going to be scared by anybody."

Warfield Quizzes Ettelson.

Attorney Warfield broke in to interrogate Ettelson.

"Senator," he began, "I think they call you senator around here."

"Yes," stormed Ettelson, "I served seventeen years in the Illinois senate—got reelected five times. Is there any disgrace in that?"

"We're objecting to the sneering references you have made to Mr. Fentress," Warfield resumed.

"Wait a minute," Referee Charles interrupted. "Are you attorney for the receiver?" he asked Warfield. "All right, let the record show you made the remark. You're supposed to be helping this court here. Let the record show also that the court has been facing a terrible situation here, with attorneys trying to incite and inflame the creditors."

Telephones for Guards.

The referee stepped out to telephone for deputy marshals. The shouting continued unabated. The referee resumed the bench and proclaimed his "shame at having such a record made in this court."

Mr. Jacobson flung back his statement that the referee should be ashamed and a few minutes later tried to withdraw it. The referee insisted that it stand.

"He who excuses himself accuses himself," remarked Attorney Ettelson.

"I charge and I can prove that Mr. Fentress and all the other receivers and receivers' attorneys were named at a conference of twelve men in Samuel Insull's private office," he went on. "A receiver, like Cæsar's wife, should be above reproach. Mr. Fentress may be an honest man. I know nothing against him. But he is not qualified to act as trustee in this case."

Referee Orders Election.

The hour was 7:30 p. m. Referee Charles said the time had come for election of a trustee. The creditors, most of them on their feet for five hours, began milling around the room. The referee pointed out that the election was important. The office of trustee is a position of grave trust, wherein the man elected must finally wind up the affairs of a company for the equitable benefit of all creditors, he said.

"Are there any further nominations?" he asked. A man identifying himself as counsel for one Joseph F. Courtney, stepped forward and proposed the name of one Louis J. Kessell, whom no one seemed to know.

Albert W. Sims, attorney for the so-called McDevitt or eastern committee of debenture holders, stepped up and cast $10,000 worth of debentures for Mr. Fentress, "notwithstanding the presence of White and Jacobson."

Small investors, confused by the argument, went forward, some calling "Fentress" in clear voices and others mumbling that they knew not whom to vote for.

Asks Jail for Insull.

"Will you send Insull to jail?" demanded the white haired man who had lost $21,000. "I want him in jail, Mr. Fentress."

"Speak up, Mr. Fentress," urged Jacobson.

The receiver murmured something to the effect that criminal prosecution was the function of the United States attorney, but that he would discharge his full duty. The old man voted for Fentress. Jacobson and White announced the voting of their committee's $3,000,000 of debentures in favor of Fentress and the issue seemed decided.

But Referee Charles had yet to rule.

"On the basis of the record in this case, I disapprove the result of the election," he said. "The trustee here should be totally disinterested. The attorneys who nominated the trustee elected have been shown in this record to be guilty of soliciting business and violating the legal canons."

The ruling stunned the crowd. Jacobson and White looked incredulous. Ettelson beamed. The referee adjourned the hearing until Jan. 26 to allow review of his record by the United States district court. The case may go to Judge Lindley or to Judge James H. Wilkerson or Judge George A. Carpenter. Ettelson indicated he would object if the review were undertaken by Judge Lindley.

Still confused by the barrage of charges and legal jargon they had heard for five hours, the creditors filed out of the courtroom, trying to clear up their bewilderment in conversation among themselves.

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 16.—Cancellation of Samuel Insull's passport by the American government cannot force the deportation of the fugitive Chicago utilities man as an undesirable alien, Greek officials said today. Washington's action is interpreted by the Greek court of appeals and police as a political action, which seeks to override the court's verdict that Insull should not be extradited.

Ask That Flossmoor Idle Get Village Police Jobs

A petition signed by 97 residents of Flossmoor, requesting the discharge of Chief of Police Willis Barnard and Patrolman Harry Sundeen, was presented at the village board meeting last night. The village president, Dr. William Miller, delayed action to the next meeting two weeks hence. Barnard was engaged two weeks ago and Sundeen is his appointee. Both were Chicagoans. The petition related that a number of Flossmoor residents were idle and that the jobs should be given to local men. Barnard retired from the Chicago police force recently with the rank of lieutenant.

ROYAL BAPTISM ANGERS VATICAN; POPE TO PROTEST

Bulgarian Orthodox Rites Stir Catholic Church.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 16.—A sharp protest to King Boris of Bulgaria is being prepared by Pope Pius as a result of the baptism of the new born Princess Marie Louise in the rites of the Orthodox church, Vatican circles, however, have denied that the apostolic delegate at Sofia would be recalled as he is serving not as a diplomatic representative but simply as a religious agent, maintaining only personal and confidential relations.

Prelates said that King Boris and Queen Joanna—formerly Princess Giovanna of Savoy and the daughter of the king and queen of Italy—had made both written and oral promises that their children would be reared in the Catholic faith.

Recall Similar Protests.

It was recalled that the pope presented a similar protest against an Orthodox marriage ceremony for Boris and his queen at Sofia and a Catholic ceremony was subsequently performed at Assisi. It was declared today that the royal couple had agreed to a simple Orthodox marriage ceremony so as not to give the impression that the Catholic rite was just a pretense in order to obtain the pontiff's dispensation to marry.

[Queen Joanna is Catholic and King Boris Orthodox in religion. The Bulgarian constitution requires that the king be of Orthodox faith.]

Vatican circles now assert that the Orthodox marriage rites at Sofia were contrary to agreement and that it was made an official state affair.

It was pointed out that the baptism of the princess took place almost clandestinely and in the presence of a very few persons and without any previous notice. It is also pointed out that Queen Elena of Italy, who has arrived in Sofia, did not attend the event.

Papal Envoy Sees King.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 16.—Diplomatic warfare broke out today between the royal house of Bulgaria and Pope Pius.

Msgr. Roncalli, papal delegate at Sofia, called upon Premier Alexander Mouchanoff and protested against the Orthodox baptism of Princess Maria Louise. The premier replied that it was the wish of the father, King Boris, and the population that the princess be reared in the Orthodox religion.

Msgr. Roncalli angrily turned away and went to see the king. He told Boris that the pope never would have permitted the king's marriage to Princess Giovanna in 1930 had he believed that Bulgaria would disregard the agreement that the royal couple's children were to be reared in the Catholic faith. But Msgr. Roncalli received a similar answer—that it was the wish of the government, the people, and the king.

Reports Are Conflicting.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—Catholic circles here declare that the hurried orthodox baptism of the Princess Marie Louise of Bulgaria was performed because her grandmother, Queen Elena of Italy, who arrived too late to attend the baptism, was speeding to Sofia with a message from the pope. In this message, the pope is reported to have pointed out the agreement made at the time of Princess Giovanna's marriage to King Boris that their children be reared as Catholics.

Not having a pragmatic sanction law as there was in Austria-Hungary under the Hapsburgs—making it possible for a woman to ascend the throne in case there is no male successor—Viennese believe it was King Boris' idea to leave open the question of his successor.

$3 worth of protection for $1 if you use Pepsodent Antiseptic

PEPSODENT ANTISEPTIC is 3 times as powerful as other leading mouth antiseptics. Hence it goes 3 times as far. And whether you buy the 25c, 50c, or $1 size, you still get 3 times as much for your money.

IT DIDN'T take the public long to figure out the difference between Pepsodent Antiseptic and other leading kinds. Common sense said, "Here's the difference between one dollar and three dollars . . . the difference between positively killing germs and being fooled when diluting old-style antiseptics."

Two kinds of antiseptics

Most mouth antiseptics kill germs only when used full strength. But Pepsodent Antiseptic is powerful enough even when diluted with 2 parts of water to kill germs in 10 seconds! Pepsodent Antiseptic is at least 3 times as powerful as other leading mouth antiseptics. It goes 3 times as far—gives you 3 times as much for your money—and gives you greater protection against sore throat colds.

Use Pepsodent for safety

Millions who once diluted ordinary antiseptics now discover their mistake. Be sure you choose the antiseptic that, even when mixed with water, kills germs. Insist on Pepsodent Antiseptic—be sure! Be safe . . . and save your money!

IMPURE BREATH (Halitosis)

The amazing results of Pepsodent Antiseptic in fighting sore throat colds prove its effectiveness in checking Bad Breath (Halitosis). Remember, Pepsodent is 3 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics. Remember, even when diluted with water it still kills germs.

A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get plain, ordinary Liquid Arvon from any drug store. It won't cost you more than thirty-five cents (35c), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You should know the Truth about the cigarettes you smoke

A great deal of confusion has been caused by certain representations made in cigarette advertising. A clamor of competitive claims has bewildered the public. We have received hundreds of letters asking us the truth about the conflicting claims of various brands. Because Camel first popularized cigarette smoking, because Camel has sold more billions of cigarettes than any other brand, we were the natural people to write to. And we are the natural people to tell the facts about cigarettes. We have always offered an honest cigarette, honestly advertised.

1. Question: What is the mildest cigarette?

Answer: The fact that a cigarette is insipid and tasteless does not mean that it is mild. The fact that it has been artificially flavored or scented does not mean it is mild. Mildness means that a cigarette is so made that it is gentle and non-irritating without sacrifice of flavor. This is almost entirely a question of the quality of the tobaccos and the skill in their blending. Practically all of today's popular cigarettes are manufactured and rolled in much the same way. The difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. While the irritating effects of cheap, raw tobaccos can be removed to some extent by intensive treatment, nothing can take the place of the more expensive, naturally fine tobaccos. The mildest cigarette is the cigarette that is made of the best tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

2. Question: What cigarette has the best flavor?

Answer: There are just three factors that control the flavor of a cigarette. The addition of artificial flavoring. The blending of various tobaccos. And the quality of the tobaccos themselves. Quality is by far the most important. Cheap, raw tobacco can be disguised in part by artificial flavoring. But it can never equal the goodness of mild, ripe, costly tobaccos. Adding a number of poor things together will not make a good thing. And when you consider that domestic cigarette tobaccos vary in price from 5¢ a pound up to 40¢ a pound, and imported tobaccos from 50¢ to $1.15, the difference in cigarette flavors is readily apparent. Tobacco men long ago learned to choose, for flavor, the cigarette blended from the costlier tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

Answer: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest ripe tobaccos. Cheap grades of tobacco are, as you would naturally expect, harsh in their effects upon the throat. And there is a peppery dust occurring to some extent in all tobaccos. Finding its way into many cigarettes, this dust has a decidedly irritating effect. A special vacuum cleaning process has been developed that removes all trace of dust. The absolute rejection of inferior tobaccos and elimination of this dust represent the highest standards ever attained in cigarette manufacture. The cigarette that is blended from the most expensive tobaccos under these modern conditions is as non-irritating as any smoke can possibly be. It's the tobacco that counts.

4. Question: What about heat treating?

Answer: This is one of the real superstitions of the tobacco business. All cigarette manufacturers use the heat-treating process. But harsh, raw, inferior tobaccos require considerably more intensive treatment than choice ripe tobaccos. High temperatures conceal, to some extent, the harsh effects of low-cost tobacco, although this parching process may produce a rather flat and lifeless flavor. But neither the heat treatment nor any other treatment can take the place of good tobacco. Heat can never make cheap, inferior tobaccos good. It's the tobacco that counts.

5. Question: What cigarette is coolest?

Answer: Many myths have been woven around "coolness." The facts are simple: Coolness is determined by the speed of burning. Fresh cigarettes, containing as they do 12% moisture, burn more slowly than parched, dry cigarettes. That is why they smoke cooler. This makes the method of wrapping very important. Improperly wrapped cigarettes begin to dry out as soon as packed. They smoke hot and dry. The Humidor Pack, although more expensive, gives protection ordinary cellophane cannot equal. It is made of 3-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane, tailored snugly to the package, and WELDED into a seamless envelope. Air cannot get in. Freshness cannot get out. The cigarettes are always in prime condition. An illusion of coolness can be achieved by adding certain chemicals to tobacco. But even chemicals cannot do more than mask the heat of quick-burning, dry tobaccos. The coolest cigarette is the freshest cigarette—the least irritating, the one that has the costliest tobacco. A cigarette blended from expensive tobaccos tastes cooler than one that is harsh and acrid. It's the tobacco that counts.

6. Question: What is the purest cigarette?

Answer: All popular cigarettes are made under sanitary conditions unsurpassed even in the packing of foods. All cigarettes are made with practically identical modern machinery. Uniformly fine cigarette paper is used. If any single manufacturer should claim superior purity it could only be interpreted as a confession of weakness unless he pinned his claim exclusively on the tobacco he used. Purity in a cigarette lies in the tobacco used. Choice grades of tobacco, from which even the fine dust of the tobacco itself has been removed, are less irritating, therefore "purer" than inferior tobaccos. It's the tobacco that counts.

7. Question: What about blending?

Answer: Even if other manufacturers should in the future use the finer, more expensive tobaccos which go into Camels, they would still be unable to duplicate Camel's matchless blending. Tobaccos are blended to give a cigarette its own distinctive individuality. The characteristic delicacy and flavor of the Camel blend have won not only the esteem of the American public, but the sincere admiration of other cigarette manufacturers, who have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars and years of effort trying to discover how the costly tobaccos in Camels are blended. But in vain. Camel's matchless blend is a priceless asset. Yet its fine full flavor is made possible because Camels use more expensive tobacco. It's the tobacco that counts.

It is a Fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. We actually pay MILLIONS MORE every year to insure your enjoyment.

SEARS STATE-LOOP STORE
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

January thirteenth,

Chicago, Illinois.

Attention.- Mr. W. E. Donahue.

Gentlemen:-

As you know, for the past several months, we have been running a consistent campaign of advertising in the Daily Tribune on specific items. We have been more than pleased with the results secured from this campaign of individual advertisements. For instance, you may be interested to know, that on a single advertisement for a metal folding table, sales registered in the thousands with results pouring in over a period of ten days.

Because of the responsiveness of this Daily Tribune campaign, we decided to upset tradition and plan our first major 1933 sales event for the Daily Tribune. It was a bold move to transfer this event from an evening paper promotion to the morning Tribune. However, our experience in both the Daily and Sunday Tribune over ten months led us to believe that such an experiment carried tremendous possibilities of success.

The rest is a matter of record. We announced our Annual Mill End Sale with four full pages in the Tribune on Thursday morning, January 12th, and the highly gratifying response we received from your readers is now common knowledge all over town. Sales for Sears Chicago Stores were by far the largest for any single day in January we have ever known.

Very truly yours,

N. W. JERAN, District Manager,

FOUR full pages in the Chicago Tribune on Thursday, January 12—right back with four more pages on Sunday, January 15—that's the way Sears, Roebuck and Co. makes plain their latest appraisal of Chicago newspaper values!

For the past several months Sears, Roebuck and Co., have been running a consistent campaign in the Daily Tribune. Results could be definitely checked—and were.

"Because of the responsiveness of this Daily Tribune campaign, we decided to upset tradition and plan our first major 1933 sales event for the Daily Tribune," writes N. W. Jeran, until recently manager of the Chicago retail district and now assistant to D. M. Nelson, vice president in charge of merchandising of all Sears retail stores.

"It was a bold move to transfer this event from an evening paper promotion to the morning Tribune," continued Mr. Jeran. "However, our experiences in both the Daily and the Sunday Tribune over ten months led us to believe that such an experiment carried tremendous possibilities of success.

"The rest is a matter of record. We announced our annual Mill End Sale with four full pages in the Tribune on Thursday, January 12, and the highly gratifying response we received from your readers is now common knowledge all over town.

"Sales for Sears Chicago stores were by far the largest for any single day in January we have ever known."

Sears' record-smashing results once more emphasize the importance of the Tribune's heavy coverage of the able-to-buy families in Chicago and suburbs. Tribune circulation in the better-grade districts and suburbs alone is practically as great as the total circulation of any other Chicago daily newspaper.

In 1933 it is more important than ever that your advertising reach families with money to buy. If you want bigger sales, ask a Tribune salesman to give you the latest facts about the Chicago newspaper situation.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

THURSDAY TO BE DOLLAR DAY IN LOOP'S STORES

Expect Shoppers from All of Chicago Area.

The purchasing power of today's dollar is to be demonstrated Thursday in the observance of Downtown Dollar day. This event is part of the program of loop merchants to lead the way toward better times.

The motivating thought behind the program is to increase sales, bringing an increase in the demand for commodities, which will revive commerce, trade, and industry and improve employment. To this end the merchants have notified manufacturers. All have pledged coöperation. In the coöperation of manufacturers and merchants the public will benefit. Unusual bargains in merchandise will be offered throughout the loop.

For the purposes of Downtown Dollar day the boundaries of the loop will extend from Wacker drive to Congress street and from Michigan avenue to Market stret on the east and west.

Acres and Acres of Display.

In the area to be embraced on Downtown Dollar day there will be a display of merchandise in 250 acres of space in eight large department stores alone. These represent the finest institutions of their type in the world. In addition hundreds of other stores will add to the total display space.

A portion of the now immensely valuable realty included in the Downtown Dollar day area sold for scarcely more than a dollar—five shillings—in 1796. The five shilling sale was made by Baptiste Pointe de Saible, Negro settler. The buyer was a French trader known only as Le Mai.

Sponsors of the Downtown Dollar day movement say they cannot match that bargain, but will give values and merchandise which the original dollar could not have procured. The first United States dollar—of silver—was minted in 1794. Years later some of its companion dollars passed over the counters of Chicago's pioneer stores.

These pioneer merchants were George W. Dole and P. F. W. Peck. Dole brought a store of goods overland from Michigan on May 4, 1831, and set up in business near Fort Dearborn, where the London Guarantee and Accident company's building now stands. Peck followed in July. He also settled near the Fort.

A United Movement.

A united movement of all downtown merchants as exemplified in Thursday's Downtown Dollar day is without precedent. Today's shopper in the loop will find a countless number of objects of merchandise. There will be articles for the home, school, office, and every conceivable need—all priced at one dollar.

State street windows, which have been famous for many years, and other loop stores as well, will be made attractive and instructive for the occasion.

The loop will take on a carnival air. Shoppers will move along the sidewalks under great banners which will be hung across the streets and from store front to store front. The lamp standards, which made State street a great white way when the present lighting system was inaugurated seven years ago, will be gay with flags and posters. Interiors of the stores also will be decorated.

To herald Downtown Dollar day the participating merchants will display official posters in their windows. The background of the poster is an airplane photograph of a portion of the loop. It is finished in three colors. The posters will be displayed on street cars and buses.

Expect Huge Crowd.

Sponsors of the event predict the loop will be packed with shoppers from every section of the city. They also expect shoppers from the entire Chicago area, so that the day will see one of the largest crowds of purchasers ever assembled in the downtown district.

The event will not be limited to stores which sell merchandise in units of $1. Stores selling merchandise in larger units will have special attractions. Under this plan every store in the loop will be included in the day's program of bargains.

The managers of many of the participating stores announced that they would make sizable additions to their selling forces for the day. The increase will be made to provide prompt and intelligent service to the expected throngs of shoppers.

Chicago Pointing the Way.

"In Downtown Dollar day Chicago is again pointing the way to other communities as it has always done," one of the sponsors of the movement said yesterday. "Each participating merchant is coöperating to bring better days back rapidly. The time has now come to prove that things can and will be brighter."

"A definite trend upward has been observed in the last few months," said a loop merchant. "We are recognizing this with action. It is time for every one to act. If further stimulus is given the upward movement will continue and increase.

"We propose to do our part toward stimulating business by offering merchandise at phinomenally low prices. We made this plan as soon as the upward trend was noticed. For months our buyers have been searching the storehouses and warehouses and manufacturing plants of the world for the best that is in them.

"These buyers took with them our proposal and it was received with a pledge of coöperation. Thus commodities will be offered at prices lower than they will be in the foreseeable future. In taking advantage of these prices by making purchases the shoppers not only directly benefit themselves but will indirectly be benefited through participation in a program which we are confident will work toward the restoration of prosperity."

Girl Is Missing

DOROTHY CLARK.

Mrs. Irene Clark, 7000 Dante avenue, yesterday requested aid in a search for her daughter, Dorothy, 19 years old, who has been missing since last Friday.

That evening the girl attended an Eastern Star meeting in the Masonic Temple building at 62d street and Cottage Grove avenue. Friends saw her on an eastbound 63d street car at about midnight. No clew to her whereabouts has been found since.

Dorothy graduated from the Hyde Park High school in 1931. According to her mother there was no trouble at home, and it is feared the girl was kidnaped. She was described as blonde, blue eyed, of medium height, and weighing about 115 pounds.

LAWYER OWNER OF GUN TAKEN FROM SAM HUNT

A revolver which the police seized last week in arresting Sam Hunt, No. 33 on the new police list of hoodlums, is the property of Ben Short, criminal court lawyer, it was learned last night. Attorney Short said the weapon had been stolen from his home.

Hunt, who sometimes used a golf bag to carry his guns, was arrested with Ralph Pierce, bodyguard to Murray Humphries, in a garage at 63 West 14th street. Neither was armed, but two guns were found in a truck in the garage, and both men were booked on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Their cases are pending in court.

Sergt. Frank Ballou, police gun expert, traced the guns through the factory. One was sold in Peoria. The other was sold to Attorney Short on Jan. 27, 1927.

"One of my hobbies is gun collecting," said Attorney Short. "On Aug. 23, 1930, burglars broke into my house and stole 35 of my 50 guns. This was one of them. I do not know Hunt. I never represented him."

BEN FRANKLINS HOLD BIRTHDAY MEETING TODAY

The organization of Chicagoans whose first two names are Benjamin Franklin will hold its annual luncheon and meeting this noon in room 1144, 208 South La Salle street, in observance of Franklin's birthday.

The Rev. Benjamin Franklin Root, pastor of St. Simon's Episcopal church, 1151 Leland avenue, will be the speaker. Afterward members will place a wreath on the Franklin statue in Lincoln park.

Yesterday students of the physics department of the Central Y. M. C. A. college, under the direction of Prof. V. C. Lohr, reënacted the Franklin kite experiment in La Salle street. Two large green triangular kites were flown down the street as students held the ribbon silk ends of the string.

NO PROPELLER FOR THIS PLANE; IT'S CRASH PROOF

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Adolf Rohrbach informed associates today that after two years of experimenting he had completed plans for the construction of a crash proof, propellerless airplane which he expects to be in the air some time this year.

It is an all metal plane, similar to the ordinary monoplane, but with movable wings working on what is described as a transverse axis, whereby both propelling and lifting power are generated. It carries an ordinary airplane motor.

The claim that the plane is crash proof, Rohrbach said, is based on a technical control of centrifugal forces whereby the machine cannot be overstrained by sudden maneuvers.

PUT CORPORATE MEDICAL GROUPS TO COURT TEST

Outcome May Affect New Low Cost Clinic.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Efforts of orthodox physicians to stop what they consider the commercialization and deterioration of their profession through the corporate practice of medicine have taken form in a test case now on call before Judge E. I. Frankhauser in the Superior court, it was learned yesterday.

This is a quo warranto proceeding brought by Attorney Harry Eugene Kelly on behalf of the Chicago Medical society, with the consent of the state's attorney. Dr. Thomas Dyer Allen, chairman of one of the medical society's committees, is the relator. The American Society for Conservation of Vision, which at present consists only of Dr. James L. Hawkins, 100 North La Salle street, is the defendant, represented by Attorney John J. Kelly.

The Question in Dispute.

The question at issue is whether the practice of medicine by a corporation is legal in Illinois. It has already been decided that corporations may not practice law, as in the case of a bank, and Attorney Kelly of the prosecution in this case believes that he will get the same sort of a decision in favor of the doctors.

Such a decision might affect many hospitals in Chicago, as well as university clinics, for the question of profit or nonprofit does not enter into its legal phase.

It might also be employed by the medical societies against such organizations as the United Medical Service, Inc., whose clinic at 25 East Jackson boulevard, will open for practice tomorrow with twenty salaried doctors in attendance and many more on call for consultation. The American Medical society's magazine already has expressed disapproval of this departure from approved medical ethics and disciplinary measures have already been taken against three doctors associated with the new experiment.

Would Set a Precedent.

There will not be much of a test of the case from the defense, according to Attorney John Kelly, who says that his client is not greatly interested, as he is practicing alone anyway now. It would set a precedent, however, of far reaching importance. New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri, and Utah have already declared against such corporate practice, while the Nebraska court declined to act on the ground of the possible effect on hospitals.

The Illinois medical practice act of 1923 does not mention corporations. They are neither permitted nor forbidden to practice medicine except by implication and interpretation. The law refers only to "persons." It has been held in other cases that corporations can act only through persons, that they have no mind which can transgress the law.

In the meantime hundreds of visitors are inspecting the four floor home of the United medical service in the Finchley building, of which Dr. Joseph G. Berkowitz is president. He is former head of the Public Health institute, which also might come under the scope of the pending court case.

Special departments of the clinic, which, it is declared by its backers, will cut costs far below the regular fees of experts, include cardiovascular, respiratory, neurology, metabolic, proctology, urology, gynecology, eye, ear, nose and throat, and dental. In addition the clinic will offer important special services in general medicine, with X-ray, dental laboratories, optical, drug, and medical appliance departments.

Doctors Face Problem.

"Conscientious physicians today are faced with the most distressing circumstances of their experience. For example, patients of modest means will come to them with an affliction usually diagnosed by the patients themselves as 'stomach trouble.' This may involve one or more of a dozen ailments, or it may be entirely due to worry and the mental condition. In many cases it is a minor condition, but in others it is a more or less serious affliction which has failed to yield to home treatment.

"In such instances the conscientious physician, who regards each patient in the same light as he would one of his family, knows immediately that the proper way to treat the case is to find out first the organic reason for the distress. To do this he may recommend a series of X-ray or other tests which, in the most part, involve tremendous expense, which the patient had not anticipated. If he follows his physician's advice the tests may involve hospital accommodations which the patient must pay for upon receipt, with the result that his funds are depleted or exhausted before the doctor receives his fee."

Under the clinic plan the patient may be put through the tests, hospitalized, if necessary, at low cost, and the reports submitted to the physician, who may specify whether the bill should be sent to him or to the patient.

22 MINERS INDICTED IN TAYLORVILLE AREA ON MURDER CHARGES

Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—State's Attorney John Coale of Christian county tonight set March 13 for the first of the murder trials against 22 Kincaid coal mine pickets indicted by the grand jury today for the deaths of two miners and a woman.

All those indicted were held without bond, except Fred Bassana, proprietor of a gasoline filling station at the end of the lane leading to the mine. He urged his release on bond so he might put his affairs in order. The bond was set at $25,000 but he said it was beyond his reach.

It was charged that machine gun fire came from Bassana's place on the night of the rioting, which took the lives of Vincent Rodems of Springfield and Mrs. Cumeriatto, who was watching the picket line from the porch of her home.

All those indicted were charged with murder for the death of Rodems, nine with murder for the death of Mrs. Cumeriatto, and two—Chief of Police Albert Mattozo of Kincaid and Emil Dupire—with murder for those two slayings and also that of J. G. Hickman, a miner who was shot to death from an ambush on top of a hardware store the morning after the shooting.

Mattozo and Dupire were indicted also for assault to murder Fulton Smith and Henry Helmers, two working miners, and eight others were indicted with assault to murder Clarence green, a deputy sheriff.

TELL OF HEALING WAVES IN AIR AT DOCTOR'S TRIAL

But "Good Emanations" Often Go Astray.

Disciples of "aetheronics," medicine of the fourth, fifth and sixth dimensions, took the witness stand yesterday before the medical committee of the state department of registration and education to defend Dr. Dorr Eldred Wood. Dr. Wood, who has offices at 17 North State street, is charged with practicing medicine under false pretenses in advocating treatment by "remote control."

The hearing room was crowded with men and women, many of them former patients of Dr. Wood, whom he had invited to his trial. These applauded as the witnesses told of physics, metaphysics and natural philosophy underlying "aetheronics," which Dr. Wood dispenses through various intricate contraptions at $15 a treatment.

Healer Explains Cures.

One witness declared "aetheronics has succeeded where prayer has failed." He is William R. Hoschouer, 5106 Kenmore avenue, who described himself as a minister of the Unity Fellowship, an independent religious sect concerned with spiritual healing. He said cures are worked under the system by emanations of "aetherite," a substance discovered by the founder of the "science."

"All that is necessary," Hoschouer said, "is that the name of the person being treated be placed in one of Dr. Wood's machines. Emanations from the name are sent out by the machine and returned to the person, to work beneficial results. The name does not have to be written by the person receiving the benefit.

"I got a machine from Dr. Wood and found that it worked in many instances where prayer was of no avail. Because of my study of physics, metaphysics and philosophy, I understand an etheronics, but it is difficult to explain."

Under cross-examination by Assistant Attorney General Philip E. Ringer, Hoschouer said that emanations must have the name of the person to work good. If a person changes his name the operator of the various machines should be notified.

"In other words, the emanations would bound about the world seeking to do good, and could do nothing because the patient had changed his name, as in the case of a woman who had assumed the name of her husband," Ringer said. "There may be hundreds of thousands of such well meaning emanations bounding about the world!" Mr. Hoschouer agreed that such might be the case.

Another witness was Madame Rene de La Chapelle, 424 St. James place. She described herself as a "ghost writer" for scientists, versed in dynamic symmetry, a playwright and novelist.

Studies Ancient Alchemists.

"I learned of aetheronics through the study of alchemists of the middle ages and such eminent scientists of today as Compton, Milliken and others," she said. "I know and admire Dr. Wood. I first came into contact with him by "ghosting" some of his works on aetheronics."

Under cross-examination Mme. de La Chapelle confessed that scientists of today had written nothing of aetheronics directly, but said their writings corroborate its claims.

Another witness, Homer Saunders, an advertising man, 5106 Kenmore avenue, said he had been aided by Dr. Wood.

FIRE AT ROCK ISLAND.

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Fire, believed to have started from a defective heating system, inflicted damage of $175,000 today at the J. J. Newberry company and F. W. Woolworth & Co. One fireman was overcome with smoke.

THE SENATE AND TAX REFUNDS.

The Democrats and radicals in congress have united in support of a plan to set up a joint congressional committee which must approve any tax refund of more than $5,000 before payment can be made from the treasury.

The debate in the senate on the measure consisted almost entirely of innuendoes directed against the secretary of the treasury, Ogden L. Mills. Much was made of the fact that Ogden L. Mills as secretary had granted a claim for refund submitted by Ogden L. Mills as executor under the will of his father, who presumably left a substantial portion of his estate to Ogden L. Mills, beneficiary.

It might be argued from this state of facts that Mr. Mills should have resigned his secretaryship if he chose to prosecute a claim for a refund in his own department. Though the debate in the senate disclosed no particle of evidence that Mr. Mills' subordinates showed him the slightest favor to which he was not entitled under the law, the Mills refund does disclose dramatically the possibilities of political and personal advantage to be derived from the power to refund.

There will always be differences of opinion on the application of the tax laws in particular cases, and, as long as the treasury insists upon payment under its interpretation and litigation of the disputed portions later, there will be some refunds. A dishonest treasury will authorize dishonest refunds and an administration determined to have a well oiled political machine will use its power over taxes to shake down reluctant contributors. Chicagoans who remember how the board of assessors and board of review worked the tax racket a few years ago will understand how the vast powers of the internal revenue department are susceptible of abuse.

But to argue from these premises to the conclusion that the evils can or will be obviated by transferring the final authority over refunds from the treasury to congress is to throw logic and experience out of the window. If there is suspicion of dishonesty in the treasury there is certainty of it in congress. If there is ground for fearing that the treasury might make political capital out of its authority over tax refunds there is certainty that congress would use such authority for no other purpose.

The senate has voted to break down the traditional separation of powers in this matter and has done so under cover of its intense indignation at Mr. Mills' behavior. Lest there be any doubt on the point, it should be observed that this is the same senate whose members operate their restaurant at a loss of $50,000 a year incurred, so it is said, in large part by the failure of the senators to pay their bills. The facts are somewhat difficult to obtain, as Mr. Pegler discovered when he set out to get them, but it is known that the senate restaurant pays no rent and has no bills for light or heat or taxes. It has a fairly steady clientele of 96 senators and serves only one meal a day. The conclusion is unavoidable that the senators are not charging themselves enough for their food, or alternatively, that their membership includes a substantial proportion of deadbeats. Perhaps it is a little of both. In any event this honorable body of petty grafters who use the senate restaurant to steal an average of $500 per senator per year from the taxpayers does not seem to be ideally constituted to supervise the refund of millions of dollars of taxes illegally assessed against individual citizens. Nor can it be argued that this honorable body which has attempted to conceal its own petty graft in the matter of the restaurant from an inquiring newspaper man is ideally constituted to give pitiless publicity to tax refunds.

There is, of course, no graftproof system of passing upon applications for tax refunds. As long as the government persists in its attitude of requiring payment of disputed amounts there will be claims for refunds running into many millions of dollars each year. There has been much objection to the consideration of these claims in the same department of government which has already passed adversely upon them, and obviously such objections have weight. Congress' alternative of conferring upon itself the final authority is a guarantee of even graver abuses. Both the taxpayers and the executive and administrative branches of the government would be benefited if contested claims were to be heard and decided by a court designated for the purpose and independent of both the executive and legislative branches.

HOODLUM POST NO. 1.

The funeral of a hoodlum and gangster named Newberry, who was murdered by other gangsters, was held the other day in Chicago under the auspices of an American Legion post. A former commander of the post is authority for the statement that Newberry was a member of the organization.

That is all the evidence which the higher officers of the Legion should require for withdrawing the charter of the Yarmo-De Vere post. A unit which would knowingly admit such a scoundrel and gangster to membership is obviously unfit to remain in the Legion. A unit which, in addition, confers honors upon the scoundrel has no proper appreciation of the purposes for which the Legion was established. The sooner such a post is disbanded, the better.

THE INSANITY RACKET.

Ten years ago a man named Abbate was charged with rape and, being adjudged insane, was sent to the Elgin asylum. Seven years later he appears in the news as the founder of a religious cult and is charged with another rape. Upon this charge he was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to life imprisonment. The Supreme court reversed the judgment and upon a second trial he was convicted and sentenced to ten years. That was better, but not good enough. So Abbate has had another try, and, a jury having found him insane, he has been consigned again to Elgin.

How he got out the first time we haven't heard. He may have just walked out, with no one interested enough to pursue or get him back. Or the authorities at Elgin may have got tired of bothering with him or they may have decided he was cured, or never had been insane at all. Or some lawyer criminal may have fixed the proper party. In any case he was at large. Sane or insane, he had got away with one rape and in due time tried another. Now he is in again, but for how long no one who has observed the peculiar dealings of our laws and institutions with such animals will venture to predict.

His is only one symptom of a state of things that is certainly rotten and a stench in the nostrils of the community. An optimist may think it is only a cooperation of official carelessness and stupidity. It looks to us a good deal worse. It could not persist as it does, year in and year out, setting dangerous animals free to prey upon society merely because the people we pay to protect us are indifferent to their duty or habitually incompetent. More vicious forces are at work to make a farce of our protection. Graft or political pull is breaking its meshes. There ought to be a house cleaning. Insanity has become a general alibi for the worst crime, an open door to immunity from punishment. Those who commit crimes should be dealt with as criminals. Instead they are called insane and later turned loose as sane. Sane or insane, they should be shut up and kept shut up. The insanity plea has become a racket. It is a conspiracy against the safety of the community and it means something more than official stupidity.

REPEAL THE JONES LAW.

The Jones five and ten law is the worst product of the régime of bigotry which masked itself in the noble motives of the prohibition experiment. It could compete very confidently for a prize for the worst law in civilized history. It expressed the Sadistic impulse of the prohibition fanatic, his will to persecute and oppress, his disregard of justice and humanity. So long as it stands upon the statute books it is a blot upon them which future generations will blush for and which the present generation demands shall be immediately removed.

The present congress owes it to the nation and to itself to rid our law at once of this monstrosity. It will be a dishonor to shirk that duty on to the next congress, a privilege to perform it.

Editorials of the Day

THERE MUST BE AN ORGANIZED REVOLT.

[New York Evening Post.]

Wets must be prepared to organize to defeat the Blaine monstrosity which the senate's judiciary committee adopted yesterday under the label of repeal.

It is only another prohibitory amendment.

It puts into the constitution something that already exists as a statute.

It uses the police power of the constitution to regulate the personal conduct of free citizens.

It allows the government to maintain its forces, snoopers, and spies.

It intrudes the federal authority into the sovereign power of the states.

It permits Kansas and Nebraska to tell New York how it shall and shall not dispense liquor.

Finally, it disregards the nation's thought on the proper way to repeal, and gives power of ratification to state legislatures instead of to state constitutional conventions.

In essence, the senate committee gives to the nation a prohibitory amendment that perpetuates the cardinally evil theories against which friends of the American constitution have revolted.

We have learned by sad experience not to expect from the White House leadership on this vital national issue. Evidently we cannot now expect it from the President elect.

We turn, therefore, with relief and thanks to Speaker Garner and Minority Leader Rainey in the house of representatives. They say they will stand firm against the senate monstrosity and in favor of "naked repeal." If they do not, if they give us one more repeal bill fiasco, it will, in our opinion, be necessary for the wet organizations to revive their lines of battle in order to go out into the states and defeat this twenty-first amendment.

WHEN NEW ENGLAND FAVORS FREE TRADE.

[Boston Transcript.]

An illustration of how the presence of the "South in the Saddle" may affect adversely the interests of sections far remote is supplied by one of the contortions the farm parity bill is going through in the national house. The bill levied so heavily on the cotton textile trade that it threatened to improve the position of jute. Representative Fulmer of South Carolina sought to prevent that by inserting in the bill a provision imposing a duty of five cents a pound on jute imports. Jute, which always has been on the free list and is procurable chiefly from India, is the raw material of the Ludlow Manufacturing Associates, makers of the twine used by the postoffice department; and now Congressman Granfield of Massachusetts, notwithstanding he also is a Democrat, is moving heaven and earth to have the item struck out.

For years southern members have tried to supplant jute twine with cotton twine, but congress has been unwilling to wipe out a standard Massachusetts industry. Moreover, postoffice officials have declared repeatedly that jute twine is superior to cotton; and on top of that the item for twine is so relatively small that the only effect of abandoning jute would be to wreck a prosperous business in this state without broadening the market for cotton enough to make the slaughter worth while. The item may go out, as it is a tariff matter, on which the committee on ways and means has not passed. If it does not, a stiff fight will be waged against it in the senate, which is likely to prove successful. The Democrats will establish for themselves a very unfortunate precedent if they try to use the tariff to destroy an American industry.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

"LETTERS BASIS for $500,000 Libel Suit."—Headline. Which reminds us again of the hazards of letter writing. Don't write; telephone. But no, maybe somebody has tapped the wires. Talk it over in a taxi. No. The taxi driver is probably a detective in disguise. After all, the best thing is not to say it either by letter, phone, telegraph, postal card, or by word of mouth. Forget it.

"LIST OF CHICAGO Job Seekers Handed to Gov. Horner."—Headline. Why all the bother? Just send him the city directory.

THOSE TECHNOCRATS say that robots are being invented overnight that do everything but talk. But even if a robot is invented by next Tuesday that can mix a grand cocktail, shake it properly, pour it in the glasses and pass it around to the thirsty guests, is there any guarantee science can give us that the bootlegger who started to bring over the gin won't be grabbed by the prohibition sleuths and sent to jail or else waylaid by highjackers and taken for a ride? We can't imagine anything more lonesome than an A1, well oiled and mechanically perfect cocktail dispensing robot standing around while his bootlegger's in jail or gone for a ride. After all, no matter how many machines are invented, you've always got to figure in the human equation.

WHERE IS PRAXITELES?

The marble of winter is building a spring,
Where is Praxiteles?
The brown-antlered branches are ready to sing—
Where is Praxiteles?
Not in this woodland with adder-tongue darts—
Not here, Praxiteles;
Not here, Praxiteles.

Where the cool, modeled head of pale Orpheus lays . . .
There is Praxiteles,
Where no maiden goes while Apollo still plays,
There is Praxiteles.

Finding in marble the warmth of a breeze,
Molding great figures but missing the trees,
There . . .
There is Praxiteles.

RACHEL MACK WILSON.

SOMEHOW WE CAN'T get a bit excited when we see pictures of our very best society folks getting their backs beautifully tanned on the sands in Florida or California or Mexico. We just look at the picture and hope a chigger or a sand flea or a humming bird bites 'em. What a disposition! What a disposition!

THE SENATE has held on like grim death to its unlimited debate rule permitting one man to hold the floor for days reading everything including the Bible, Shakespeare's plays, the report of the Alaskan fish commission from the year 1870 to 1920, inclusive, Letters and Documents of the Civil War, Mother Goose Rhymes, and Full Reports of the Patent Department of the United States from Its Inception. No, the senate would not change its rule. And then came Hooey Kingfish Long. And after a few days of Hooey the most conservative senators turned and had to be carried out into the fresh air, as they murmured weakly: "Cloture! Cloture! For heaven's sake, cloture!"

"CUT RATE WEDDINGS" are advertised by a preacher out in Vancouver, Wash. Why is it that people look around for cut rates for a wedding and don't give a darn how much the divorce costs?

SEEK NO FURTHER, LADY— YOU'RE VERY WELCOME.

Sir: Well, I'm home again, after traveling 200 miles for five Linebooks—and still I've nary a one. Just how many millions of these here now Linebooks have you sold—can you tell me? I stopped first at a bookstore and asked nonchalantly for five Linebooks. "Sorry, madam, just out." The next place was a magazine counter and I asked hopefully for four Linebooks. "Not today, lady, maybe next week." The third place was a general store, conglomeration of a little of everything, but I saw a couple of books in the window and stepping in fearfully, asked in a small voice for two Linebooks, only to be met with a smile and: "Why, lady, we would have to hire an extra clerk if we sold Linebooks." I was beginning to feel mad by that time and decided I'd go into the next store, no matter what kind of a store it was. As it happened it was a fur coat shop, but I walked boldly in and asked haughtily: "It isn't possible, of course, that I might find a Linebook here?" Blandly the manager replied: "Ah! You have come to the right place, let us sell you a nice warm fur coat that you may be comfortable while seeking your Linebooks?" But I was mad now, so I answered in a snappy voice: "Indeed, you may find it necessary to cover yourself with furs and whatnots, but I am so wrapped up in the Linebooks I need no other protection. He should have had me arrested. However, here I am, home again, with no Linebook. Now, I'm sending 26c and asking you to pul-lease send me two Linebooks, if you still have that many; if you haven't, well, I'd appreciate any little scraps you have left. Desperately yours,

SHERBERT OF AMBOY.

HOW'S YOUR LIVER?

THE liver is the largest organ in the body, and one of the most important when the matter is one of health and comfort. Although there is nothing of dramatic immediacy that characterizes interference with breathing or heartbeat, when the liver goes on a strike somehow the machinery of life goes wrong.

For centuries it has been a greatly discussed organ, but because the talk was very loose it did not get us far. And yet we knew that the liver must have very important work to do else there would not be so much of it. Any one who has seen the liver of an old man alongside that of a young child could not escape the conclusion that life takes toll from the liver.

In recent years methods of testing the liver function have been discovered. Some of them are in fairly general use. A well taken X-ray picture shows the outline of the liver and gall bladder. Not infrequently gallstones can be seen in it, but we cannot conclude that none are present because no shadows are seen. People under suspicion of having them are apt to be fat, with thick abdominal walls which obscure the picture, and not all gallstones are opaque to rays.

A dozen years ago the Graham and other tests were perfected. These show how well the gall bladder empties and often by using these tests we can be certain that gallstones are present or absent. But these are tests for gall bladder function.

More important are the half dozen tests for liver function. Most of these are well known to physicians. Almost any physician has had experience in using one or more of them. Probably the best of them in the present state of the art is known as the icteric index. Another one, with which many physicians have had experience, is the Van den Bergh test. This is more difficult to carry out and, for that and other reasons, is generally ranked below the icteric index test. Others are: Bromosulphalein test, galactose test, urobilinogen test, and the Portis test.

It is probable that the common, everyday use of liver tests may lead to very considerable changes in our diet. It is not probable that we will use as much mustard, horseradish, pepper, pepper sauce, and other condiments when we know more about the liver. The writer looks for important information as to the effects of whisky and beer drinking. Temperance should be promoted by what the liver will tell us. We may eat less heavily with advantage to longevity and good health. Possibly we will learn how to prevent apoplexy.

POSTURE DISTRESS.

A. Z. writes:

1. I am a boy 19 years old. I had rickets when a baby and as a result I am swaybacked, round shouldered, and larger on one side of the chest than the other. Sometimes when I am in a certain position (half lying and half sitting) I have a dull ache in my chest. Is this a sign that something is wrong?

2. Am I too old to remedy the posture defects by exercise?

REPLY.

1. It may mean that your bad posture causes pressure on some nerves.

2. Corrective gymnastics should be of service. It must be persisted in.

ABOUT TEETH.

Mrs. S. A. P. writes: I am four months pregnant. My teeth are in bad shape.

1. Is it time yet to have them fixed?

2. My 7 year old girl's lower teeth are not growing straight. The dentist advises a brace. When is the proper time, now or later?

REPLY.

1. It is.

2. Wait several years, say about five or even seven. If they are straightened now the job probably will have to be done again.

THROUGH GROWING.

M. H. writes: I am 20 years old, weigh 120 pounds, and am 5 feet 3 inches tall. Is there anything I can do at my age to grow a few inches?

REPLY.

No.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEM.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—[Friend of the People.]—A young woman who is a Swedish citizen is temporarily in the United States under a visitor's visa. If she should marry an American citizen during her visit here [1] would she have to leave the country at the expiration of her visa and subsequently apply for readmission to the United States as the wife of an American citizen? 2. In approximately what length of time could action be taken on her application for readmission to the United States, assuming that she went to Canada and resided there during the pendency of her application for readmission? 3. As a condition to her readmission to the United States, what proof would the immigration authorities require to show that she would not become a public charge if readmitted to the United States? E. A.

You are advised that the marriage to a citizen of the United States of an alien who is in the United States under a visitor's status will not serve to permit her to remain here indefinitely, but she will be required to leave at the expiration of her authorized stay. Following her departure her citizen husband may petition the secretary of labor for the issuance of a nonquota immigration visa in her behalf.

What length of time will be required for her to obtain a nonquota immigration visa cannot be stated in advance, as the issuance of immigration visas is a matter vested in the American consuls, who work under the jurisdiction of the department of state.

An alien desiring to enter the United States will be expected to submit such evidence as is available, tending to show that she will not become a public charge.

K. I. ZIMMERMAN,
Acting District Director of Immigration.

NOTICE ADVISABLE.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—On Oct. 17 I bought an electric sign. The contract read that the sign was to be delivered as soon after Nov. 1 as possible. I signed a judgment note, payments to be made monthly starting Nov. 17, 1932. The sign has not been delivered yet and no payment has been made on the note. When and how long do I have to wait before I can sign a new contract with a new firm?

C. S. D.

We suggest that you notify the contract vender that if he does not perform within a stated reasonable period, say one week, you will regard the contract as at an end and will make other arrangements. We advise against trying to forfeit the contract without notice.

RECEIVER'S SERVICES.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. What fee is a receiver of a building allowed? 2. Is there any difference according to the size or income of the building? 3. If so, what would be the fee on a building with a rent totaling less than $75? 4. Can the receiver collect back rents? That is, rents that were due before his appointment? 5. Can the receiver pay bills that were contracted before his appointment? 6. To whom and when does the receiver have to make an accounting for the income and expenditures on said building? 7. When and how does the receiver turn over what remains of the income, after all bills and fees have been paid?

K. K. K.

1. Depends upon the character of the services, upon the resistance that is made, upon the attitude of the judge, etc.
2. Yes.
3. There is no definite figure.
4. Depends on the wording of the order appointing him.
5. Same.
6. To the court.
7. Fifteen months are allowed for redemption from the foreclosure sale. Unless there are other reasons for delay, receiverships should ordinarily be closed up shortly after the expiration of this period.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 17, 1917.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Admiral George Dewey, the nation's Spanish war hero and by priority of grade the ranking naval officer of the world, died at his home here tonight in his eightieth year. Mrs. Dewey and the admiral's only son, George Dewey of Chicago, were at the bedside. President Wilson and Secretary Daniels were immediately notified when Admiral Dewey died, and the news was flashed by wireless to American naval vessels and stations all over the world. The message carried orders that all flags be half-staffed. The President will confer with Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Badger and arrange for the funeral, which probably will take place on Jan. 20. Burial will be at Arlington National cemetery, on the Virginia shore of the Potomac river, where many of Admiral Dewey's former comrades have been laid to rest before him.

[Editor's note]—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE was the first paper in the United States to publish the account of Dewey's victory at Manila bay. It was one of the most notable scoops in the history of journalism. The battle was fought and won on May 1, 1898. For six days thereafter the world was in ignorance of its result. Dewey had cut the cables. Then, on the morning of May 7, a brief but conclusive message from Edward W. Harden, TRIBUNE correspondent in Manila, was printed in THE TRIBUNE announcing the complete victory of the Americans. Between 3 and 6 a. m. of that day THE TRIBUNE also telephoned the administration chiefs in Washington, giving to Secretary John D. Long of the navy, Secretary Alger of the war department, and Gen. Miles their first information. Word was likewise sent by telephone to President McKinley's secretary. On the morning of May 8 THE TRIBUNE printed the facsimiles of telegrams from cabinet officers acknowledging that the first news of the battle's results had been given them by THE TRIBUNE. When the victory was assured Harden took passage on a revenue cutter for Hongkong, where he beat two other correspondents to the cable office and thereby was first to give the news to the world.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—More sensations in the stock gambling scandal involving administration officials and their friends reputed to have had advance information of President Wilson's peace note are scheduled for tomorrow. Mrs. Ruth Thomason Visconti of Washington, whom Thomas W. Lawson named as his informant that Private Secretary Tumulty and W. W. Price, White House correspondent of the Washington Star, profited from the lead, was located and readily accepted service to appear before the house rules committee conducting the inquiry. She promises to create a sensation, for she professes to have much interesting personal information concerning administration officials.

LONDON.—The arrival in Greece of Gen. von Falkenhayn, former German chief of staff and of late in command of part of the forces engaged in the campaign against Rumania, reported from Saloniki, is interpreted here as evidence that the Greek and German plans for combined action against the allies are at last mature. Gen. von Falkenhayn is said to have embarked on a submarine at the Greek port of Kavala, now in the hands of the Germans, and to have landed at a point on the Greek coast whence he made his way to Larissa.

WAR SUMMARY.—Massed Russian attacks near Galatz, in the Rumanian war theater, were repelled with heavy losses, Berlin reports. The Austrian war office claims successful mine operations. The Italians deny it, Rome says the attackers were victims of their own operations. Berlin explains to the United States that the sinking of the Norse steamer Lokken and the British craft Barbara was because they carried war contraband. Lloyd's reports the loss of two British and three neutral ships.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Japan is considering the advisability of preventing the $5,000,000 loan to China by the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago. The Tokio government is investigating. If Tokio decides the loan is "of a political nature" Japan will demand its cancellation. This may be the first step by Japan in her policy of a financial "Monroe Doctrine" in the orient. Chinese officials here say Peiping is protesting vigorously against the Japanese attitude.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE RAILROADS?

Chicago, Jan. 9.—The morning market news carries a statement that car loadings for the last week decreased 37,000 cars. Part of this is, of course, due to the fact that general business is slow, but much of it might be due to an ill proportioned freight rate.

Chicago, the great central market for live stock and grain, used to have a freight rate from central Illinois to Chicago, back in 1918, of 4½ cents per hundred pounds. This rate is now 8 cents per hundred on grain. At greater distances this increase in rates amounts to from 45 to 55 per cent. In most of the grain territory the railroad collects from one to two times as much as the producer of the commodity; this despite the fact that railroad cars have doubled in capacity, motive power has doubled in capacity, and trackage facilities as well as switching facilities and terminal facilities on the railroads have greatly increased.

The best farm relief that could be afforded and the best thing for the railroads would be reduced freight rates. Perhaps these are precluded by excessive taxes in local communities and the arbitrarily high and unreasonable "basic" railroad wages and working rules; but regardless of why railroad rates cannot be reduced [theoretically] the fact remains that trucks are taking the railroads' business. Acting for an eastern distributor, our firm, James E. Bennett & Co., took delivery on a considerable number of carloads of eggs within the last two weeks. Three cars of these eggs were shipped from Chicago to a large point on the C. & E. I. railroad, about 175 miles from Chicago. The eggs were released for shipment on a certain Friday at 2:30 p. m. They were loaded on trucks, one at 4 p. m., two at 6 p. m. The eggs arrived in Terre Haute, one truck at 3 a. m. and two trucks at 5 a. m. Saturday; and the rate for this service, which is 100 per cent faster than railroad service, was 20 cents per 100 less than the railroad rate for the same service.

Many suggestions have been made for handicapping truck service. To be sure, commercial transportation on public highways should be made to pay at least the cost to the public in furnishing the right of way, but the answer is that the public will continue to buy in the cheapest market; and unless the railroads furnish the cheapest market they will lose the business. It has been said that under the existing laws the railroad labor union racketeers can stall wage reductions for five years. Whether or not this is a fact I cannot say; but it seems to me that the railroad operators and managers are lax in their duty in not making a reasonable endeavor to meet freight rate competition or passenger rate competition.

This incident of cheaper, superior service furnished by trucks, with no reasonable effort on the part of the railroads to meet the competition, is only one of many. Grain normally passing through the Chicago market and Chicago warehouses is also moving in large quantity by truck at less cost and more satisfactory service than furnished by the railroads. The railroads have the facilities but do not use them, and the public is entitled to relief from this situation. It is a menace to every investor, to every insurance policyholder, and to a suffering public whose business is stagnated by a high cost service that is out of line with the times. JAMES E. BENNETT.

PEGLER IN WASHINGTON.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—I should like to express my keen appreciation and enjoyment of Pegler's articles on Washington. H. E. SMEETH.

SHAKE, BROTHER.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—The people of these United States elect a President every four years to carry on the affairs of the nation. For this we pay him a good salary and are entitled to expect an adequate return.

Several thousand out of the many million citizens stand in line at the White House every four months with the idea of doing as much harm to the President's hand as the barbarous method of shaking hands will permit. Then for a week or so the President has his good right hand bandaged and undergoes medical treatment to repair the damage.

I suggest that instead of this periodic orgy the President be empowered to issue an engraved certificate to those entitled to a handshake [by proxy] to all such citizens as will pay a reasonable fee. This certificate to serve as a patent of nobility, such as the G. A. R. and Mayflower descendants can show on their escutcheons—and which the certified can leave to their descendants.

The fee paid for this certificate from this American College of Heralds would be sufficient to pay the soldiers' bonus, and should be deductible on the income tax. G. M. MCBEAN.

FROM A HOUSEHOLDER'S NOTEBOOK.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Let me report the following recent instances in regard to work:

Middle aged woman, strong and healthy, owes me money and wanted to borrow more. Was living in a "shelter" in the near west side. We offered board and room if she would help with the housework. She could come and go as she liked in looking for work; we would furnish car fare and give her money in addition—never came back.

2. Woman out of work. We gave her $5 per week, room and board. She worked ten days; wanted a vacation over the holidays. She got it and is still vacating.

3. Asked a steamfitter to measure a radiator with the idea of getting more radiation; he promised to see me the following week with estimated cost. This was a month ago; haven't seen or heard from him.

4. Made an appointment with another steamfitter for Dec. 29 to make some changes in the hot water heater, and up to date have not seen him. E. B. W.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR NEW BUILDINGS.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—I refer to Mr. Frank J. Petru's article in yesterday's TRIBUNE proposing tax exemption for five years for all buildings erected during 1933.

If there is one method of killing real estate that would be the surest way. If any tax exemption is to be granted the buildings already erected should be given the same exemption as the 1933 buildings, as the older buildings are the ones which have been carrying the high tax burden for the last five years.

The buildings erected from now on will be at a much lower construction cost and a lower rate of financing and can better afford to pay taxes than can other buildings.

THE PASSES OF YESTERYEAR.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—I see by an article in an Erie, Pa., paper that an H. F. Wilbor claims to have the country's largest collection of railroad passes in the 19th century. I think I have a better claim, as I have seventy-one different annual passes for the centennial year 1876. These were owned by my father, T. P. Dobbins, who was president of the Chicago and Pacific railroad. Wilbor claimed 40 different pads.

BUREAU OPENED TO HEAR PLEAS OF IDLE GROUPS

BarGrievanceCommittees from Relief Stations.

A new bureau of public relations was established by the Cook county bureau of public welfare yesterday in the old west park police station in Union park. The new office, first of three which are proposed, is intended to receive grievance committees from various organizations of the idle which in the past have carried their complaints to district relief stations and interrupted the routine there. Supervisors of the various districts will continue to deal with individual complaints.

Seymour H. Olmsted of Winnetka, former assistant supervisor of the Irving Park relief station, has been placed in charge of the new bureau. He will have a staff of four social service workers.

Moss Tells the Reason.

"Since the start of the depression," he said, "various groups have been formed, ostensibly for the protection of the idle. The theory was that a man who couldn't speak good English, was not educated, and didn't understand the routine of the relief service, needed some one to handle his case for him to insure him attention from the social workers. Frankly, a good many of these groups are communistic, and their ideas of procedure are radical in the extreme.

"As long as they pressed cases with a justifiable basis, we were only too glad to coöperate with them. The result was that we began to be swamped with such incidents.

"When one or more of these delegations confronted a supervisor in a district office, the situation was bound to get out of hand because of the methods employed by the delegates. It was expensive, time consuming, ineffective and irritating to both sides. Therefore an order was issued for all supervisors to transfer these organization complaints to the Union Park branch."

Discuss La Buy Plan Today.

A joint administrative committee of the county board and the Illinois Emergency Relief commission will meet today to discuss the recommendations of a subcommittee on a plan of work relief suggested by County Commissioner Walter La Buy, under which persons on the relief rolls would be used as assistants to professional case workers in investigating families asking relief.

Commissioner La Buy said he understood that 1,000 to 1,200 persons on the relief rolls might be given work of that sort.

2 YOUNG BANDITS GET 14 YEARS ON MURDER CHARGE

CRIMINAL COURT.

George Hoskell, assault to kill, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; Martin Rowan and John Haas, murder, sentenced to 14 years each in the penitentiary by Judge Harry A. Lewis.

Morris C. Owen, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Michael Feinberg.

Martin Rowan, 17 years old, and John Haas, 16 years old, were sentenced to 14 years in prison on a murder charge yesterday by Judge Harry A. Lewis in the Criminal court. The youths participated in the holdup Sept. 23 at 85th street and Racine avenue in which one of the two victims, William Walsh, was killed. One of the robbers also was slain and another was seriously wounded.

In imposing the minimum sentence for murder Judge Lewis said he was guided by the fact that Rowan and Haas had taken no part in the shooting. William O'Brien, the robber who was wounded, was identified as Walsh's slayer. He has been sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Policeman William Kenny, formerly assigned to the state's attorney's office, was Walsh's companion when the bandits tried to hold them up. Kenny killed Albert Schwartz, one of the robbers, and shot O'Brien.

Cuban Gunboat Saves Five from Plane Down at Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 16.—The gunboat Matanzas today picked up Pilot McKennedy and four passengers of the National Aeronautical company's plane which was forced down at sea Saturday night 30 miles northeast of the Isle of Pines. A faulty motor caused the accident, the pilot said. An army flyer saw the plane floating yesterday and called other planes and the gunboat to the rescue.

EXPECT ACTION ON CHARITY COAL CONTRACT TODAY

County Board Group to Draft Specifications.

Members of the county board at their meeting yesterday defended themselves from charges growing out of the charity coal contract situation. President Emmett Whealan announced after the meeting that the public service committee will meet today to decide upon new specifications for contract coal.

Commissioner Grace Fleming introduced a resolution demanding an investigation by the state's attorney of a charge made last week by Edward L. Ryerson Jr., chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, that a cheaper grade of coal than specified in county contracts has been delivered to families on the relief rolls for years. The motion was referred to the finance committee.

Seven Contractors Barred.

President Whealan introduced a resolution to bar seven charity contractors, who admitted substitutions recently to the relief commission, from supplying coal under county contracts until the charges against them are cleared. It was adopted. President Whealan then had a prepared statement covering his actions in the charity coal contract controversy inserted into the minutes of the meeting.

Mrs. Fleming denounced criticism of President Whealan's course in the charity coal contract situation. Commissioner Peter M. Kelly declared that President Whealan was out of town and had nothing to do with a recent draft of charity coal specifications which, it is charged, were made in order to favor certain bidders.

Buy Coal on Open Market.

Supervisor of Public Service Frank H. Chambers was instructed by the board to purchase charity coal in the open market pending the award of new contracts. He was told to follow the specifications contained in the contracts recently canceled by the relief commission, except to eliminate the "carrying in" of the fuel, and to deduct 55 cents a ton because of the elimination of that service. The specifications restrict the purchase of coal from mines in Franklin or Williamson counties in Illinois.

Phone Girls Replace Men on Police Switchboard

Nine girl switchboard operators yesterday went to work at the police headquarters building, 11th and State streets, releasing that number of policemen for active duty. ## Live in Aurora

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hassett, the second couple married in St. Mary's church, Aurora's oldest Catholic church, yesterday celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home, 321 South Lincoln avenue, Aurora. He served an internal revenue inspector in the Chicago district during the Grover Cleveland administration.

Following an anniversary mass before the same altar where they were married 60 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Hassett greeted hundreds of friends at a reception held at their home.

ACTRESS' SUIT FOR $250,000 IN BALM DISMISSED

West Chester, Pa., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Chester county court today dismissed a $250,000 alienation suit filed by Judith Vosselli Lloyd, stage and screen actress, against Mrs. Mary Penrose Gilford Lloyd, of West Chester and New York.

The action was dismissed because the actress, now said to be in Hollywood, failed to deposit $400 with the court to insure costs if she lost the case.

The actress charged the former Mrs. Gilford "unlawfully appropriated John Eshelman Lloyd to herself."

Mr. Lloyd, Philadelphia lumber merchant, secured a Reno divorce from his actress wife, and later married Mrs. Lloyd as he lay in a hospital in San Francisco.

The second Mrs. Lloyd brought her ill husband east in a private car. He died at her West Chester home after the present action was filed.

COURT TO HEAR WINNIE JUDD'S VERSION TODAY

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Tomorrow will offer Winnie Ruth Judd her first opportunity to "tell all" in open court regarding the "trunk slayings" of Agnes Anne Leroy and Hedvig Samuelson.

Preliminary hearing for her friend, John J. "Jack" Halloran, was continued until tomorrow in the court of Superior Judge J. C. Niles. Halloran is charged as an accessory after the fact. Nineteen state witnesses have been subpoenaed for the hearing, which is expected to last two days.

Attorneys for Halloran today asked for a transcript of Mrs. Judd's testimony before the grand jury, contending they needed it to prepare their defense. Judge J. C. Niles took the matter under advisement.

CHILDREN GIVE BENEFIT TO FEED HUNGRY MATES

2 Pupils Contribute $50 to Fund.

Children in the lower grades of the Kenwood-Loring school, 4600 Ellis avenue, sent $10.35 to the Hungry School Children's fund. It was their turn to give a benefit to help feed hungry pupils as other classes have done in the past.

"We had loads of fun not only in buying and selling but in the thought of feeding and making other children happy," they wrote. "We had eight different kinds of sandwiches and a great 'mystery cake' with Kenwood-Loring school written in pink letters on white frosting. That in itself brought $2.50."

Two Children Give $50.

Several other children helped the fund yesterday. "Two children of Peterson school" sent anonymously $50 to the fund. During the next ten days these two youngsters may be happy in the knowledge that their gift was sufficient to give 100 children a lunch every day during that period.

Then at the Shoreland hotel five girls gave a play to help the fund and made $1.52, which they sent with this wish: "We hope this donation will make some one very happy." The children taking part were Betty Ann Starr, Rosann Friend, Mercedes Weinshenk, Anita and Marion Goldberg.

Tena Koener sent another $1 as she has many times during the last four months, and one anonymous contributor sent twenty-five cents, explaining: "I didn't go to church today, so here's my collection."

List of Contributors.

$50—Two children of Peterson school.
$10.35—Children of Kenwood-Loring school.

Fire Destroys Hotel Built in Revolutionary War Days

Canaan, Conn., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Knickerbocker hotel, a converted house dating back to revolutionary war days, was destroyed by fire today. The hotel was closed last Friday by order of a receiver. Several Hessian soldiers are said to have been held prisoners in a dungeon beneath the building after the surrender of Burgoyne at Saratoga.

OCEAN STEAMER TRAFFIC DECLINES 82,006 PERSONS

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—There were 82,006 fewer trans-Atlantic steamship passengers last year than in 1931. Decreases in first, cabin, and second class more than compensating for increases in the number of tourist and third class passengers. There were 859,969 steamship passengers last year.

The decline compares with one of 394,889 in 1931, but the smaller 1932 decline failed to fulfill the hopes of shipping men as to the effects of the rate reductions. At the beginning of the travel season last spring first class rates were cut 20 per cent and tourist and third class rates 10 per cent.

JAPAN ASKS AID IN FINANCING WORLD FAIR EXHIBITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 17 [Tuesday].—An appeal for assistance in financing Japanese exhibits at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago this year was made by Baron Kumakichi Nakajima, minister of commerce and industry, at a luncheon of business and industrial leaders today.

"Sponsors of the fair, as well as the President of the United States, have extended an invitation to Japan and in view of the importance of fostering friendly relations with America, especially at this time, I appeal to you gentlemen to do all in your power to assist the government in its endeavors to make the Japanese exhibits outstanding," Nakajima said.

"The government believes that it is of no small importance to avail itself of this splendid opportunity presented by the people of Chicago to introduce the industrial and commercial progress of Japan to the world. As a result of the marked depreciation in the exchange rate, 500,000 yen [$105,000], the governmental appropriation, will be insufficient and therefore I solicit your coöperation."

may start the MOUTH BREATHING HABIT

When a cold causes your child to breathe through his mouth instead of his nose, beware of the deadly mouth breathing habit.

The nose filters out the deadly germs that enter with each breath, but the mouth cannot. During mouth breathing these germs invade the lungs and undermine vitality. Body and mind are stunted. The child is dull in school. The unnatural breathing distorts his mouth.

Take no chances! Keep the nostrils open by inserting Mentholatum night and morning. This soothing ointment clears the nasal passages and promotes natural nose breathing.

CONOCO

plus the hidden quart

*The Germ Process (exclusive Conoco patent) imparts to this motor oil that peculiar ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. Of the first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart n-e-v-e-r drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself; worth its weight in gold.

All of the Merits that Any Oil Boasts . . . Plus One Gift None Other Can Claim

Ordinary oil, d-o-w-n in the crankcase, is worthless except for the pump. From the vital parts it drains away, for hours when all is still. Oil may be light, de-waxed and free-flowing, yet it must be forced back to work. During the minutes it takes to get going, 50% of the wear occurs. Experts say this is so.

But there is one oil, and only one, that does not depend on the pump. It is Conoco Germ Processed Oil; the oil with the *hidden quart. The germ process adds to pure, paraffin-base, de-waxed oil, an almost uncanny gift . . . the ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces, so it CANNOT drain away.

Motorists, in a pinch, have driven miles and miles on this *hidden quart alone. You can have this margin of safety. It costs no more than for other, so-called good oils. But it will save you — heaven knows — how much. Drain and refill with Conoco Germ Processed Oil. Dispel those lurking doubts.

700 MINISTERS LAUNCH CHURCH LOYALTY DRIVE

All Protestant Sects Will Join in Work.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Nearly 700 Protestant pastors, representing all denominations, assembled yesterday morning at the Chicago temple to launch the city-wide church loyalty campaign. This united effort has been designed to stimulate interest in church life, not only among active members of the 1,000 Protestant churches in the city but also among the half million persons whose religious interests have lagged.

With the proclamation of the Holy Year by Pope Pius XI., which will bring increased interest in Catholic church life, the simultaneous cooperative effort among Protestant faiths of Chicago predicts a religious revival year for the city to parallel the secular stimulation of the Century of Progress exposition.

Praises Pope's Proclamation.

The Rev. Dr. John Thompson of the Chicago temple yesterday praised the proclamation of the Holy Year and announced that he would preach on the theme in the temple next Sunday. "The pope's message," he said, "is very significant."

The loyalty campaign plans which were laid before the Protestant ministers yesterday by their author, the Rev. Dr. George G. Dowey, head of the home missions council, are said to be the most intensive and thorough ever attempted in a great city. Definite dates for sixteen sectional meetings which will marshal the leaders of 25,000 church workers were announced.

The principal sectional meetings will be held at Buena Memorial Presbyterian church, Broadway and Sheridan road, on Jan. 31; the First Baptist church, Oak Park, on Feb. 2, and at the Englewood Baptist church, 62d street and Stewart avenue, on Feb. 3. A city-wide meeting for members of women's visiting teams will be held on Feb. 6. The place of the meeting will be announced later.

Young People's Rallies.

Young people from the churches will rally on Feb. 12. Each pastor has been asked to appoint eight committees to look after campaign work in his church. These committees include women's visitation, publicity, Sunday school attendance, young people's work, men's work, financial canvass, mid-week family nights, and friendly invitations.

The agenda at yesterday's all day meeting of the ministers contained outlines for Sunday sermons which, Dr. Dowey said, would increase the influence of church life throughout the city. While the outlines may be used at the discretion of each pastor, Dr. Dowey urged that the messages from all pulpits emphasize the same theme each Sunday from March 5 until the close of the campaign at Easter.

Bringing Sects Together.

Greater coöperation among Protestant churches is one favorable result of the depression, according to the Rev. Ernest Halliday of New York, executive secretary of the National Executive council, who spoke before the council yesterday at the opening of its four day conference at the First Congregational church in Evanston.

Dr. Halliday declared that sectarianism has been dealt a death blow by the depression. He said that sectarian lines in larger cities will continue to separate religious groups somewhat longer than in the small towns. Lack of funds to maintain so many churches in smaller places, he said, is bringing the various sects together.

DIES FROM BULLET WOUND.

A bullet wound he received in a fight Saturday in the poolroom at 6310 Archer avenue yesterday caused the death of Arnold Beasley, 38 years old, 7716 West 62d place, a Negro.

BEATRICE KIRK IN COURT, PLEADS SHE IS BANKRUPT

Miss Beatrice Kirk, daughter of Walter R. Kirk, millionaire soap manufacturer, yesterday testified before Referee Harry A. Parkin that she had sold a $1,400 ring for $100 and another small ring for $10 to her father, who is listed as her principal creditor in the voluntary bankruptcy suit filed by Miss Kirk Dec. 24.

"This whole case is ridiculous," said Mr. Kirk after the hearing. "I have no comment whatever to make about my daughter's testimony."

In her petition for bankruptcy Miss Kirk listed liabilities of $11,991 and assets of $828. Her father was named as creditor for $9,000; Herman Goldberg, Kenoshia horse dealer, has a claim of $2,000, the price of a horse she bought from him, and Harry Owens of Wadsworth has a claim for $800 for maintenance of the horse. Goldberg obtained a judgment against Miss Kirk for the price of the horse in Waukegan last Nov. 4.

Miss Kirk said she was living with her mother at the Drake hotel. The hearing was continued until Feb. 2, when her father will be questioned.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

ADELAIDE, South Australia, Jan. 16.—The first of the wheat race ships, Archibald Russell and Abraham Rydberg, left today, heading to catch the westerly winds on the Cape Horn route. Both are expected to take about 100 days for the voyage to England.

Six sailing ship captains now in the port of Adelaide expect the Herzogin Cecilie to win. She is expected to sail this week-end. She has already won nine races. Experts believe she is capable of making the voyage in ninety days.

The ship race now comprises nineteen vessels, the largest field in the history of the event.

MAKES HIS WILL, THEN KILLS SELF IN OAK PARK CLUB

Orville Toussey, 63 years old, a retired civil engineer, shot and killed himself yesterday in his room at the Oak Park Elks clubhouse, 938 Lake street, several minutes after he had signed his will. The police were told that Toussey had been despondent over a protracted heart illness.

Toussey had asked Frank Smith, another resident of the club, to witness his will. Smith agreed and went with Toussey to the office of Attorney C. A. Willard at 1101 Lake street, Oak Park. After signing the will Toussey and Smith returned to the club.

"I'm going to my room for a minute," Toussey told Smith; "wait for me." When Toussey did not rejoin him Smith went to Toussey's room and found the body. A suicide note directed that a son, Orville Jr., of Cedar Rapids, Ia., be notified. Young Toussey was a track athlete at the University of Iowa several years ago.

AMERICAN WIFE OF BRITISH PEER DIES IN PARIS

Wedding a Society Event.

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The marriage of the former Edith Starr Miller, who died in Paris today, to Almeric Hugh Paget, Lord Queensborough, occurred 12 years ago and was an outstanding event of the New York social season that year. They had met a few months earlier while Lord Queensborough was in this country visiting his brothers-in-law, Payne Whitney and Harry Payne Whitney.

About a year ago it was disclosed that Lady Queensborough was seeking separation on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion. In her complaint, filed in New York, she charged he deserted her in 1930.

ENDS LIFE WITH AUTO GAS.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY FOR MRS. HICKS

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Dunn Hicks, philanthropist, who died early yesterday in her apartment at the Hyde Park hotel, will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 5203 Lake Park avenue, with Dr. Edward S. Ames officiating. The body will be cremated at Oakwoods cemetery.

MRS. HICKS.

Mrs. Hicks was the widow of Oliver Hewlick Hicks, former chairman of the Sefton Manufacturing corporation. He left an estate said to have been in excess of $1,000,000.

Mrs. Hicks made several gifts to the University of Chicago, including one of $300,000 to establish the Gertrude Dunn Hicks memorial hospital, a division of the orthopedic hospital. Terms of the grant provide that preference in admitting patients should be given to poor children. Among her other gifts to the university were a tapestry valued at $25,000, a table, and a number of rosaries collected during two trips around the world.

3 POLICEMEN DIE IN 3 DAYS FROM HEART ATTACKS

Policeman John M. Clancy was fatally stricken with a heart attack this morning shortly after attending the midnight roll call at the Stanton avenue station. He died at the Lakeside hospital. Policeman Clancy was 45 years old and lived at 6558 Ingleside avenue. He was the third policeman to die of heart trouble in three days.

Policeman Christopher Moran, 44 years old, 705 North Central avenue, assigned to the detective bureau, died yesterday in the Edward Hines Jr. hospital of a heart attack. Moran was a veteran of the world war and had been married ten months. The widow is Mrs. Cora Moran.

Funeral services for George Simpson, 46 years old, policeman for 11 years, will be held at 1:30 p. m. today from the home, 6538 Loomis boulevard, and from the Presbyterian church at 64th street and Marshfield avenue. Burial will be at Mount Hope cemetery. Simpson died Saturday of a heart attack. His mother, two sisters, a brother and the widow, Mrs. Helen Simpson, survive.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Walgreen's advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your Pile agony or money back.

In Memoriam.

DURKIN—Bridget Nevills Durkin. In memory of our loving mother, who passed away one year ago today, Jan. 17, 1932.
She bid no one a last farewell,
She said good-by to none;
Her loving heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew it she had gone.
She did not fail to do her best,
Her heart was true and tender,
She worked hard for those she left,
And ever will be remembered.
As we loved you, so we miss you.

Latest Berlin Piece Is Satire on City Rule

'Face the Music' Vigorous Extravaganza.

"FACE THE MUSIC."
THE CAST.

Martin Meshbesher .....Charles Lawrence
Mr. O'Rourke .....George Anderson
Pickles .....Margaret Lee
Joe .....Jack Good
Prosecuting Attorney .....John Ehrle
Judge Furlose .....Thomas Reynolds
And others.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

"Face the Music," Irving Berlin's latest contribution to song-and-dance theatricals and an accredited Broadway hit, is now lodged at the Grand Opera house. It is a copious and vigorous extravaganza, generously supplied with revolving stages, mirror numbers, Albertina Rasch girls and the prevalent acidosis of the sense of humor that New York regards as "satire." Offered at a reduction in the scale of box-office prices appropriate to the times, it has all the appearances of a theater-going bargain.

Stimulated by the example of "Of Thee I Sing," masterpiece of fantastic irony applied to the theme of national politics, Mr. Berlin and his librettowriting collaborator, Moss Hart, decided to give municipal administration the works. So they drafted a wild-eyed story about a wonderland of corrupt police and other civic employés who, to dispose of their vast hoards of loot, plunge into the theatrical business and back an extravagant impresario, who might be the late Mr. Ziegfeld, in a delirious production called "Rhinestones of 1932." However, they have followed the form of the revue rather than that of the operetta, and the result is somewhat frantic and freakish. The show is feverish with the current jeers, snarls, cynicisms and flippancies of the Broadway temperament, covering all the topics of the day from the depression so the sad condition of the municipal budget.

So far as the mirthful aspects of its story are concerned, "Face the Music" strikes me as an ingrown affair, prepared for the diversion of a special cult of Times Square gossips and quidnuncs. It is saturated with Broadway's private jokes. It is decidedly bright at the New Yorkish game of saying, "Oh, yeah!" and more witty equivalents to the world; and for about an hour its discussion of the depression's effect upon the show business gives one the impression that the boys who wrote it are fiendishly clever. Then it begins to pall—or at any rate, my own spirits began to droop in the feverish air. I felt then like a tourist jaded with the metropolitan point of view and wondering when the first train left for the west.

Mary Boland is the star of the company, giving one of the many variations on her inimitable characterization of Mrs. Malaprop. She appears as the bedizened spouse of a Monte Cristo police commissioner, blazing with gems and encircled with furs, who hurls herself gleefully into the adventure of show business.

Miss Boland is eager, aggressive and sweepingly comic in the garrulous, commanding style for which she is noted. Her study of the incredible Mrs. Meshbesher is highly diverting, and she carries the performance along merrily in spite of the fact that the librettists have forgotten to supply the rôle with situations. This is Miss Boland's first adventure on the lyric stage, and it is a striking success. She does not sing, neither does she dance; but "Face the Music" couldn't get along without her.

Robert Emmett Keane is also an important contributor to the proceedings as the madhouse impresario. John Barker is useful in the songs, especially when Mr. Berlin drops into his penthouse and bungalow-for-two style of verse writing. My general impression of the tunes and rhymes is that Mr. Berlin's five year holiday has slowed him up a bit.

The stage settings are elaborate and decorative; the girls are numerous, attractive and spirited. However, I feel like publishing the fact that I have seen the dancing groups schooled by Albertina Rasch several times too often.

A Job a Day

Every little improvement we give our home right now helps us—and the other fellow, too.

On cold days there is nothing so thoroughly uncomfortable as a heating plant that lacks "pep." On investigation you will find that you can improve the working capacity of your hot water system by installation of a circulating pump on a return line to force water more rapidly through the system. Or if your system is vapor vacuum you can also add to its efficiency by adding a modern vacuum pump or similar device. Have a reliable heating contractor investigate your heating plant if it is lagging on its job. Such improvements make a system more flexible and economical to operate.

A Cop Loves Torch Singer in Gang Film

Brodie .....Harry Seymour
Alberti .....Jack La Rue
Landlady .....Claire Ward

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning.

Be she young, old, black, white, or indifferent of color, no woman lives who, down in her heart, hasn't yearned to be wanted by some man the way Jack Holt wants the heroine of this picture.

He wants her with the sort of concentrated, hard working, undiscouragable yen that usually wins its object. One of the truest things that has ever been said is to be careful what you pray for because your prayers may be answered. "Strong Arm" Johnny McCloud wants and wins his torch singer and you hope they live happy ever after. That, of course, is problematical.

This is a gangster melodrama and has to do with Mr. Holt's pursuit and final roundup of a bunch of rum runners who have been giving the police department much grief. Their headquarters are a de luxe speakeasy owned by a fat, sinister, smiling, continuously eating gentleman who is lord over this particular covey of law breakers.

Here sings the apple of Johnny's eye. She, alas, has no love for the "copper," but is sold on one of Ennis' henchmen. Here, as portrayed by Gavin Gordon, is one of the most thoroughly unpleasant characters it has been your experience to meet in pictures. Rat, from the word go. Mr. Gordon is a compleat stick when cast in a noble or romantic rôle, but he certainly knew what to do this trip. Golly but you hate him.

His pursuit of Perry—and the girl—who follows the fellow she adores like a shadow, leads Johnny into various climes and predicaments. But he gets his man (men) and his girl and—another movie ends.

This is not one of the blue ribbon gangster films, but it is an interesting runner-up, smoothly directed and satisfactorily staged.

Mr. Holt, Walter Connolly, and, in fact, all of the men are excellent in their rôles. Lillian Miles as the torch singer hasn't much to sing and isn't much of a singer. She is a conscientious girl who performs with almost frantic earnestness. You don't see how the hero happens to be that way about her, but the picture needed romance, so don't be fussy.

Shaw Letter of 54 Pages Brings $2,400 at New York Auction

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Archibald Henderson collection of letters, manuscripts, and books from the pen of George Bernard Shaw, who once in an overseas address to an American audience said "Look, you boob——" brought a total of $7,887 at an auction sale today.

The highest price paid for a single item was $2,400 for a 54 page letter in the Irish playwright's own prim hand. Gabriel Wells, professional rare book collector, was the successful bidder.

This letter, written to Prof. Henderson in 1905, is virtually an autobiography and forms the basis of Henderson's first book about Shaw's life and works. Since then the North Carolina mathematics professor has published seven volumes on the subject.

Bidding for the 12,500 word letter, which took Shaw 14 days to write, started at $300.

Other items in the collection, which totaled 204 entries and was described by the American Art association Anderson galleries, where the sale was conducted, as the largest in America, brought from $3 to $950, the second highest price.

Living in different parts of the world, Shaw did not meet his biographer until the first volume was half completed. Upon hearing of what Dr. Henderson was doing, Shaw wrote to him for a photograph, which was sent. Shaw's reply was: "You seem to be the man for the job."

Greek Orthodox Churches Honor St. Anthony Today

Greek Orthodox churches of Chicago will hold services today in commemoration of St. Anthony, said to have been the first Christian monk. It is stated that more than 8,000 Chicago citizens of Greek descent were named for this saint who forsook Alexandrian society in the third century to live alone in the wilderness. In all nine Orthodox churches of Chicago the commemorative masses will be accompanied by the most ancient Byzantine music. Tonight the same music will be rendered in St. Anthony's honor at Orchestra hall, when the city-wide Byzantine choir, directed by Marion Schroeder Booras, will sing the ancient liturgical settings.

Mrs. Roosevelt to Retain Her Present Secretary

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A lone woman, Miss Malvina Thompson, will shoulder all the secretarial duties of America's next first lady, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Miss Thompson has been for years the capable agent to whom Mrs. Roosevelt has entrusted her personal affairs. For seven years Miss Thompson has been Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary and for three years before that she was with the women's division of the Democratic state committee, with which Mrs. Roosevelt always has been actively associated. In private life Miss Thompson is Mrs. Frank J. Scheider. Her husband is a teacher in a vocational high school.

Mrs. Clay Judson (left) and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster with one of the paintings which may be seen on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday of this week when the Brewster residence at 2704 Lake View avenue will be open from 11 to 6 o'clock so that their art collection may be shown for the benefit of the Chicago Public School Art society. Mrs. Judson is chairman of a committee of Mrs. Brewster's friends who will act as a reception committee on the three days. This painting, by Leopold Survage, is called "The Woman with the Basket."

Will Rogers Tells Farm Plan as He Parts with Star of Film

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—It was all right for Will Rogers and Julian A. McPhee, state superintendent of agriculture of California, to step before the camera and have their pictures taken with Blue Boy, temperamental 950 pound blue ribbon hog at the Fox studio, but Blue Boy simply wouldn't stand for Sally Eilers.

When the actress tried to join the group for the shot, Blue Boy grunted in disgust, lifted his twitching nose to bare a fang and started toward Sally with a wicked hunching of his shoulders. Sally withdrew. She wasn't pleased about it, either. Maybe Blue Boy didn't appreciate Sally's lily of the valley perfume.

The occasion was the champion hog's leave-taking of the movies, in which he has spent four months as a principal in Fox's just completed film "State Fair." "A great number of the people in the movies had an aversion to eating any of Blue Boy," Rogers said. "So they gave him to me. I had a friend's aversion to eating an old pal, so I am turning Blue Boy over to the California Polytechnic institute at San Luis Obispo, Cal., and Mr. McPhee here will see that he is safely installed there."

Rogers said: "The truth of the matter is the studio couldn't afford to feed the hog any more, so they gave him to me. But I can't afford it either, so I give him to the state of California and the state can get a loan from Washington to support him. There's a big tip for the farmers in this. Find somebody you can give your hogs to at the present price of pork, and if you raise corn find somebody who will accept your farm as a gift, and you'll have far less worries."

Twenty-eight youths who are preparing for a farm future turned out to hear Will's homilies and sniff the farm yard aura which swathes that part of the Fox studio where Blue Boy and his pals, Judge Dike and Bell Boy, have been quartered for four months. The youths came from McKinley School for Boys at Van Nuys and the California Junior Republic agricultural classes, and each of the boys' groups took one of the hogs away with them to use for heading their school breeding stock. Blue Boy won first prize at the 1932 Iowa fair, Judge Dike won fourth prize and Bell Boy fifth. After the leave-taking with his porcine pals Rogers took the 28 stripling farmers on a personally conducted tour of the Fox plant and had them all to lunch.

Gail Patrick has been told she must gain five pounds. Most Hollywood girls would beam at the prospect. But Miss Patrick doesn't know how to gain and she's worried and getting thinner.

Eddie Sutherland, director at Paramount, has a new stunt. He practices golf shots on the set between scenes. He uses cotton balls, which don't hurt anything, instead of hard rubber.

A Los Angeles bakery has begun a specialty of keeping tab on film players' birthdays and sending them a nice big birthday cake, free, on the proper day. They do not put candles on the girls' cakes.

They are furnishing up an entire bungalow at the Fox plant for Lilian Harvey's dressing room. This is a distinction. Only three other persons on this lot have a whole bungalow to themselves so far as I know: Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Jesse Lasky.

Ruby Keeler (Mrs. Al Jolson) plans to stay on in movies since her rôle in Warners' "Forty Second Street" received such favorable attention.

Lilyan Tashman has signed for a stage run in far west key cities in "Grounds for Divorce." She opens next Sunday in San Francisco.

First Straw Hats of Year Call Shopper

An Exciting Time Awaits the Pioneer.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

New straw hat shopping!

It's the most exciting form of gamble, especially now when the very first few collections are being unpacked. Now is the time you will see every thrilling new straw, fabric, the newest ideas in dips, and curves, and swirls, the breezy bits of trimmings that seem to rest so lightly and sprightly on tips of the crowns, on the very edges of the brims, and anywhere that clever inspired designers may have decided to put them.

You'll see fluttering, vivacious models made of straw that looks like ric-rac braid, expertly woven, with a two toned band of ribbon around the crown . . . you'll see sleek, shining black affairs to wear with your smartest, sleekest tailleurs for street wear . . . you'll see demure little hats that zoom way up in the back and slant dizzily way down over your eyes.

But practically every hat you will examine will have a flattering brim and if you are in any doubt as to the becomingness of a brimmed bonnet as compared to a brimless model, all you have to do is to listen to the strong, disparaging male remarks freely offered against the brimless creations.

One stunning black straw hat that ought to be hung quickly in some smart gal's collection is a smooth, dull finished, moderately sized creation with a well designed crown, and this crown is completely surrounded by white daisies. The entire inspired creation looks as classically perfect as anything you would ever dream about to wear with smart street clothes, especially suits and printed silk costumes.

Another chapeaux of deep midnight blue straw has two demure flat tailored jade green bows for attraction and trimming . . . one bow sits primly on the dipping curve that shades the right eyebrow, the other perches on the left back section.

New gray hats will delight any shopper. At last they are sending us gray hats and clothes of the right shades, the shades that are becoming and flattering, so everybody who eschewed gray last fall, not because they didn't like it but because all the trying tones of that fashionable shade seemed to arrive first, can now shop confidently and find some of the most alluring tints of this well known and fashionable color that have been seen in weeks.

Also there are any number of extremely interesting navy blue hats of smooth and rough straws that will keep the indigo enthusiasts satisfied and even cheerful . . . some of the neatest and nicest of these navy blue creations have bows and trimmings of spanking white pique, white straw, grosgrain ribbon, and patent leather.

Veiled glances are still frequent, fashionable, and quite exciting . . . lots of the newest, smartest straws are made with attached wisps of veiling, not the limp, fragile variety but the interesting new stiffened veils that slant beguilingly down over the eyes and tip of the nose.

You can take the veiling proposition this year or leave it, it all depends upon your personal likes or dislikes, but the new meshes are something to really reckon with because they distinctly differ from former patterns and styles.

Turn Spotlight Off Yourself, Doris Tells 17

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Her name is "Nora." She is 17, feels like an old girl of 27, she says. Is discontented with herself and every one. Goes to bed at night and cries herself to sleep. It seems everything she planned and hoped for has failed. She's a very serious type—and sincere. Hates parties. Likes to keep by herself. Is a business girl. Won't bother with boy friends because those she did put faith in have failed her.

They proved to be "utterly worthless." All except one young man who will have her love forever, even though her mother did make her give him up.

"Please try to give me some advice," "Nora" pleads. "I am so unhappy."

If you ask me, "Nora," what you need is a good dose of medicine. A 17 year old girl just couldn't get like that unless her system is badly infected. Either this or you're such a confirmed little egotist the world must revolve about your every whim or you won't play.

Sometimes you 17 year old ones go on these pity orgies just for the pleasure you get out of them. You have a grand time feeling that nobody understands you, don't you?

Hop out of it, "Nora," while you have a couple more 'teens left. They are grand years for fun—and you'll never catch up with them again so long as you live. You'll never look quite so pretty as now, with all that girlish freshness of skin and charming contour of face and body. But you can't go parking your charms off to bed night after night, dousing them with bitter salt tears—all for what, now, if not for an orgy of self-indulgence?

You'd better change your tune about boy friends. They're good for you to have. You need the tonic of their most excellent company. And you need their company so you can forget about that absorbing little ego that's gnawing at your vitals and reducing you to a dull, uninteresting girl a boy wouldn't have any fun with anyway.

Styles of Century Will Be Shown at Spring Exhibition

Miss Chicago of 1933 will be shown in the same style silhouette as the original Miss Chicago of 1833 in the exhibit of 100 years of style to feature the fifth semi-annual style show of the Chicago Association of Commerce to be held in the Hotel Sherman on Feb. 6, 7, and 8. Living models will illustrate the evolution of fashions in the last 100 years.

The spring styles for this year, officials of the show said, will feature a garment that embodies the silhouette popular when Chicago became a city, and also characteristic of the garment worn by the Gibson girl of 1893.

More than 8,500 apparel buyers are expected to attend the style show, which is to be in a Century of Progress setting.

MINUTE MYSTERY CAN YOU SOLVE IT?

BY H. A. RIPLEY

Dr. Fordney is professor of criminology at a famous university. His advice is often sought by the police of many cities when confronted with particularly baffling cases. This problem has been taken from his casebook covering hundreds of criminal investigations.

Try your wits on it! It takes but ONE MINUTE to read! Every fact and every clew necessary to its solution are in the story itself—and there is only one answer. How good a detective are you?

A HORRIBLE MISTAKE.

Completing his examination of the room and finding everything as it should be, except the body and blood on the floor and blood on the window sill, Prof. Fordney turned to the man sitting dumbly in the chair.

At a word he recounted the tragedy.

"Several times tonight my wife was alarmed by noises outside the house and she asked me to investigate. I did, but finding nothing amiss put it down to some jokester trying to frighten us.

"We retired at 1 o'clock and some time later I was awakened by a scraping noise and a low voice. In a few seconds my eyes became accustomed to the darkness and I made out a figure standing at the window. Reaching for my gun under the pillow, I fired twice, jumped up, turned on the lights and was horrified to see my wife lying there dead. I phoned Dr. Willard and then . . ."

"One bullet passed clean through the shoulder, the other entered the back, passed through the heart and emerged from the left breast. Death was practically instantaneous," the physician replied.

"Touch anything but the body, doctor?"

"Nothing."

"And you, Danley?"

"Why—only the telephone and then it was so cold I—I—went to the cellar and built up the fire in the furnace."

"And a hot one you made, indeed," interrupted the professor, raising the room's single window to let in some air. "A very stupidly planned crime, Danley. Arrest him, sergeant!"

WHY?

Winter Sport Lovers Yearn for Cold Days

Ice Vanishes on Popular Club Ponds.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE springlike weather has spoiled all the ice on which there has been skating in and around Chicago, but if the weather man was right in his prognostication yesterday, there will be "bigger and better" ice today.

Out in Lake Forest the Winter club pond is the favorite skating rendezvous and the pond was crowded Saturday and Sunday, but any one who wanted to venture on it yesterday would have needed a boat instead of ice skates.

The club is planning a winter carnival for the near future if the weather is seasonable, and all the boys and girls who skate on the pond are eager for good ice again so that they can practice every afternoon after school in preparation for the event.

Yesterday afternoon the "coach" took the boys who assembled at the club after school for a hike, since there wasn't any skating, and even when there is no ice there is plenty of young life around the popular club, for the Lake Forest youngsters meet there for dancing classes, basketball, and similar exercise and entertainment practically every day.

West of Lake Forest in Barrington there are or ought to be skating and ice boating on three ponds, and even yesterday "Gus" Hallberg had his iceboat on Honey lake, although nary a skater took a chance on the soft and slushy ice.

Many Guests at Barrington

Barrington was crowded with early luncheon and supper guests Sunday, for the householders in that community took advantage of the Carvski meet to have friends out from the city for the day. Persons who live in the country always feel that they must have some special entertainment to provide for their city friends when they come to the country in the winter, but as a matter of fact most city residents welcome the chance to motor to the country on Sundays unless the weather is bad, and a roaring fire and something simple to eat and drink are all they desire from their country hosts.

In Wheaton the winter residents and their guests skate on the pond at the Chicago Golf club, but for the last two weeks the ice has been too thin for safety. This pond is about eight feet deep, so it cannot be used when the ice is thin, as can the ponds in which the water isn't so deep. There was wonderful skating out there during the month of December, however, and the members are anticipating more of the sport soon.

Still further west and a bit to the north in Wayne on the Bartlett pond there had been good skating for weeks until yesterday, and last week when the moon was full crowds of skaters from Geneva, St. Charles and Wayne crowded the pond every night, usually having supper before or after the skating at the Dunham Woods club.

Groups of young people from the city are finding the club an ideal place for week-end house parties and almost every Saturday several car loads of young couples with one or two married ones as chaperons drive out to the attractive old place for a day or two in the country.

The mild weather and snowless condition of the country recently killed the good times the Glen View members were having early in December on the pond and the toboggan slide, but for one week there were gay parties of winter sporters out at the club every day and night, and these will be repeated as soon as we have some more snow.

The Indian Hill club, too, is not able to use its pond just now, but it will be as popular as ever as soon as there is freezing weather.

Pleasant Tea for School Head

The tea that Mrs. Albert G. Simms, Mrs. Raymond E. Durham, and Mrs. A. Harris Whiting gave yesterday afternoon at the Casino for Francis Froelicher, head master of the Fountain Valley school at Colorado Springs, was not the large, crowded affair one might have expected it to be, but the guests, numbering less than 100, had a much pleasanter time than they would have had at a party with a larger attendance.

The reception, which preceded an illustrated talk by Mr. Froelicher, was most informal and friendly. Tea, which was to have been served after the lecture, was served before instead and the guests were ushered directly into the dining room without having to stop for the formality of greeting Dr. Froelicher and his hostesses in the receiving line, which disbanded shortly after the party began.

Mrs. Cecil Barnes and Mrs. Whiting poured at the tea table, while Mrs. Durham and Mrs. Simms saw that everybody had an opportunity to meet Mr. Froelicher and to talk with him about his school. Mrs. A. Rosecrans Baldwin, who spent last summer in Colorado with her three young sons, was particularly interested in hearing all about the study courses and athletic program of the school, and so were most of the other women whose sons are approaching the age for preparatory schools.

Among the guests were Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. William Waller Jr., Mrs. Samuel M. Rinaker, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr., Mrs. John L. Senior, and Mrs. William R. Odell Jr.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Simms gave a dinner for Mr. Froelicher at the Casino, with the guests including Mr.

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

FOLLY ISLAND

By Wallace Irwin

INSTALLMENT I.

SYNOPSIS.

Bart Burgess is marooned in a catboat on Peconic bay, fifty miles from his Long Island home in Wyattville. His companion, Ingalls Frederick Warren, spoiled child of a new made fortune, known as "Nosey Ingy," rows over to a town for a carpenter.

INSTALLMENT II.

GIRL IN A RED CANOE.

Down the path of painted sea shot a bright red canoe. An optical trick made the paddler a part of that which carried her; as the centaur is the horse, the girl and the canoe were one. She wore a red bathing suit: slender arms, plying effortlessly, seemed Hawaiian in the near distance. Her head was down, and the sun made violet shadows in her jet black hair. In the stern sat a small boy, trailing his hand in the lazy waves.

When she turned her face toward him Bart was startled by her trick of coloring. Light blue eyes, clear aquamarines, contrasted with a gypsy skin, suave, silky, dark and lively with the young blood clamoring beneath it. She was seventeen perhaps.

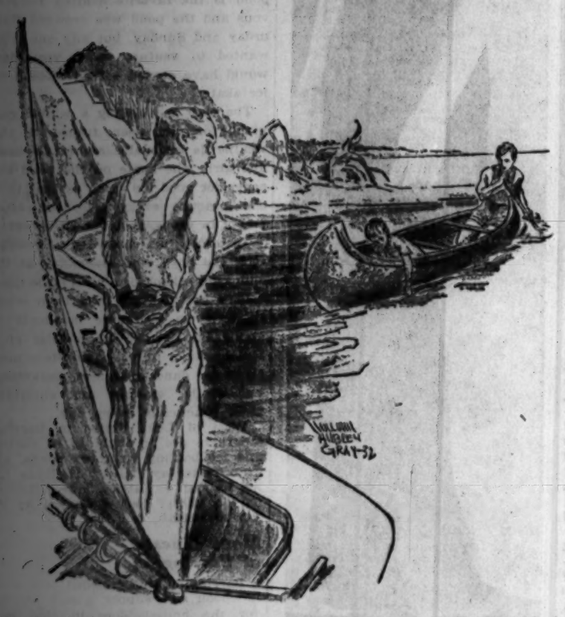
"No, I'm looking for my pocket knife," smiled Bart.

The girl laughed; it was like a wild bird's note over the water. But when she spoke her voice was soft like rubbed velvet.

"Too bad you've missed the channel. It's out there."



Her head was down, and the sun made violet shadows in her jet black hair. In the bow sat a small boy, trailing his hand in the lazy waves.

"We certainly needed a pilot. I wish you'd come along a little earlier." Bart removed the newspaper from his head, a gesture of gallantry.

"Daddy says——" began the small boy.

"Hush, Ben!" cut in a sisterly command. But a little round dimple blossomed like a tea rose in her left cheek. It gave her face a slight irregularity, an impishness which made her lovely and disturbing.

"Well, Ben," said Bart, "I guess your daddy'd be about right if he called me a blooming landsman, the way I've managed this boat. And don't you let your sister bully you."

Brother and sister looked at each other, a shy, mischievous glance. He was freckled and blond, she dark as the Romany people. But in the turn of their heads, their fleeting expression, the odd, charming color of their eyes they were alike.

"I often wonder why sailors don't carry parasols," she said. Her gaze was full of him, elfin and solemn.

"To sail with, you mean?" This girl was fun.

"No. To keep the sun off when they get shipwrecked."

"You don't look so very cruel," he said. "But I guess you must like to see things suffer——"

"No, she doesn't," broke in the boy. "Do you, Alice? When daddy shoots a bird——"

"O, hush." Then, turning her challenge to Bart, "But you look hot. If you had time and weren't so crazy about the sand bar I might take you over to our island——"

"Don't be silly!" objected Ben. "You know that mother would throw a fit if you brought anybody."

This time she didn't tell him to hush; but her clear eyes threw a glance that stilled the boy. Alice was guarding some queer little family secret.

"I don't know much about these waters," said Bart, "or I wouldn't be stuck here. Where's your island?"

It was like the skimming of a swallow's wing, the fleetness with which she raised a slim brown arm and pointed across the inlets. Distantly a mound of amethyst loomed out of the glassy calm. But his interest was more in the girl than in the island. They certainly make 'em pretty around here, he was thinking. She wasn't the small town type, not shrill or given to misplaced verbs.

"That's Folly island," she said, still pointing. "And if you want a geography lesson, the town over there is Port England." Her little brother was breaking in. "That's where the school and postoffice are, and the grocery and——"

"Folly island," repeated Bart, charmed with the name, the day, the girl. "And what follies have you in your kingdom?"

"O, we're horribly sane," somewhat moodily, then brightening. "But Folly island was named by a cross old pirate. You don't believe it, but it's so. That was in days of yore when it was fun to be silly. This pirate hid some gold there, and next day it was gone. Hence the name." Her eyes were merry slits, teasing him.

"Cross my heart, I believe it," he said. But now her thoughts were elsewhere.

"Has your friend gone for somebody to tow you?"

"I know what you are. You're a bay detective." Bart hoped she wouldn't think he was getting fresh and go away. In spite of her unconventionality he felt that one couldn't take liberties with the girl in the red bathing suit. But he asked, "How do you know I've got a friend?"

"Well, it takes two to sail a catboat."

"Yeah? And the same to make a quarrel."

Again her dimple, and with a flash of white teeth. This gypsy has a temper, the quick thought came.

"Men don't quarrel," she said.

"Oho! Where'd you get that news?"

"Men are too big and noble and generous to quarrel. They fight the great, stern battles of life and leave the petty squabbles to poor, weak woman." The glint of mischief in a corner of her aquamarine eyes!

"Whoops! You are giving me a ride!"

"Maybe you'd better put that newspaper on your head again. You might get a sunstroke."

Her paddle brushed the water gently, and he had a panicky fear that she had decided to go. Now, roughly in a hope of holding her, he asked, "Don't you find things rather quiet here in the winter?"

"Sort of." She had a way of saying "sort of," not like that of other girls. With a slight indrawing of the lower lip, not quite a lisp, but very naïve. Curious mixture she was of growing child and wise young woman. "Well, I wish I could be of some help to you," she said, after an unexpected shyness had silenced them both.

Looking on her slenderness he smiled and said, "You might pull me out of this." Her giggle seemed to delight her, as a bird enjoys its own song "I mean practical help," she said.

"I'd feel better if somebody'd just talk to me." She was charming like the day; like the water her face was sensitive to shade and shine.

A Chicago Student Loans $25,000 Canvas He Keeps in Room

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 16.—(AP)—A canvas by El Greco, an artist of the sixteenth century, and valued at $25,000, has been taken from its place on a fraternity house wall and loaned to the Baltimore Museum of Art for its showing of Baltimore owned art treasures.

The canvas, the subject of which is St. James the Divine, was loaned by Michael Pijoan, a student at Johns Hopkins Medical school and a son of Dr. Joseph Pijoan, professor of art at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Pijoan, who is in Baltimore translating a history of art, said he purchased the work in Spain five years ago and let his son take it to decorate his room at school.

Overcooking Ruins Flavor of Vegetables

Carrots Fried with Apples New Combination.

BY MARY MEADE.

Miss Meade will be glad to answer questions pertaining to cookery and the kitchen. For personal reply, send stamped, addressed envelope.

What this country needs is five new vegetables. But with the inventors all tied up with the technocrats, the chances of getting them look mighty slim. So, while we're marking time, why not a few more palate tickling ways of serving the old favorites to put a thump into winter eating?

For when the beans and peas, corn, carrots, cauliflower and cabbage all begin to taste as though they had stepped sorrowfully out of the same cooking kettle, it's time to rustle some new flavors and cookery tricks that will make vegetables irresistible to the most choosy diner.

Just as a background for new trimmings, however, remember that the first thing a good vegetable demands is a guiding eye over the cooking. Most vegetables, following cleaning, cook best if plunged into freshly boiling water and cooked, usually uncovered, until just tender. As a rule, spinach and chard are best cooked uncovered in almost no extra water other than what clings to the leaves. Young, sweet flavored vegetables such as carrots, peas, celery, tomatoes, and squash call for a very little water which can be cooked down almost to nothing or drained off and used for soup stock.

Parsnips, green beans, asparagus, artichokes, sweet corn, beets, and lima beans need boiling water to cover. Again cook till just tender. And finally, strong flavored vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower, onions, turnips, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, and the stronger flavored greens call for lots of water and an open kettle.

For a sendoff try cauliflower blanketed in a lazy coat of cream cheese. Cook the whole head until just tender, then spread over it a package of cream cheese and watch it melt lazily into a thick, nippy sauce delectably flattering to any well cooked cauliflower.

Or when next you serve disks of tender hot carrots cheer them along with trickles of tangy parsley butter. Leave the butter at room temperature until workable, then blend one-fourth cup of it with one tablespoon of finely minced parsley and one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice with a sprinkling of grated lemon rind. Dot this over a dish of hot carrot slices and watch the family cheer.

And if you're still thinking in terms of carrots, have you tried pan frying raw, sliced carrots with apple slices? Give them time to take on a golden brown and grow tender, then garnish them with water cress and serve as an accompaniment for juicy roast beef.

A few little button onions or a bit of garlic and mace added to the cooking water of carrots adds a piquancy we seldom enjoy, and small carrots are utterly delicious when parboiled and dipped in fritter batter and fried in deep fat until a golden brown.

The familiar spinach also becomes quite another story when cooked, chopped fine in the French style, and blended with a little rich cream, a dash of nutmeg, salt to taste, and a few judicious bits of butter added to top the serving dish.

TURNIP CUPS.

Pare the turnips and cut them crosswise into pieces about two inches thick. Cut out the centers, leaving a sturdy shell. Cook these in boiling salted water, and at the same time cook the chopped-up center of the shell with diced carrots or beets or with peas. Butter the shells and fill with the buttered vegetables. Sift clipped parsley over all and serve hot.

Or have you glazed your onions lately? For a pound of small white ones—that's about thirty—you will want one-fourth cup of butter and almost as much sugar. Cook the onions in plenty of salted water until just tender. Drain and let dry, then jiggle about until glazed in the butter and sugar which have been melted together in a saucepan.

Hold Tea After Lecture Thursday

For the tea party that Mrs. Charles S. Dewey will give Thursday for the junior members of l'Alliance Française after Miss Phyllis Walsh's talk in French at the Historical society's new building in Lincoln park, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster will arrange the table, which insures that it will be a feast for the eyes as well as for the palate.

Mrs. Brewster will cover the table with one of the two lovely cloths that are in the society's collection and that were made in America at the time of Lafayette's visit, and on it will be two bas-reliefs by Keneys, one of a primitive Indian and the other of La Salle. Charles B. Pike, president of the Historical society, will receive the members.

Mrs. Brewster is giving a small dinner party tonight at her Lake View avenue residence for Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, who will be leaving Chicago in about ten days to sail around Feb. 1 for her annual sojourn abroad. Geneva, Switzerland, is Mrs. McBirney's objective.

Mrs. Brewster tells me that we caused a furor last week when we designated the members of the reception committee for the special exhibition of the Brewster art collection on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week, as connoisseurs, but the feelings aroused by this statement were not alike in the breasts of all the women; some were terrified at the idea of being expected to give expert information about the paintings and sculpture, and others were proud of being designated thusly and immediately started to work studying and equipping themselves so they can answer all questions pertaining to the collection.

Tactful Mrs. Brewster has relieved the minds of the timid ones by explaining that the members of the reception committee have been invited to display their engaging social qualities rather than their knowledge of art, and, of course, the other group will be of help to the experts who are going to be on hand the three days of the exhibition, which is being held for the benefit of the Chicago Public School Art society.

Announce List of Art Experts

The experts who will be present are Daniel Catton Rich, Dudley Crafts Watson, Hubert Ropp, John Storrs, Miss Lucy Driscoll, Miss Jean Crawford Adams, Mrs. Inez Cunningham, Miss Alice Roullier, Chester H. Johnson, and Adelbert Quest.

Mrs. Clay Judson is chairman of the reception committee and Mrs. John A. Holabird is vice chairman. Mrs. William A. Nitze is chairman of the ticket committee and she asks that we tell the world that tickets may be purchased at the door, for, although an effort has been made to send invitations to all who might be interested, the committee is anxious that no one who wants to see the Brewsters' stunning collection in its charming setting will not feel welcome to attend.

Mrs. Howard Linn, another socialite who is noted for her artistic ability, is chairman of decorations for the stage at Orchestra hall next Saturday night, when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak under the auspices of the Illinois League of Women Voters. Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank has taken the chairmanship of the committee planning a reception for Mrs. Roosevelt in the foyer after the talk.

Patty McCormick In Baltimore

Miss Patty McCormick is expected to return from a visit in the east the end of this week. She spent last week-end in Baltimore as the guest of Miss Mary Herbert Buckler, debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Warren Buckler. Miss Buckler was given a dinner dance Saturday night by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Herbert Boone of New York, who went to Baltimore for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Brosi [Celeste Murphy] are dividing their time between Mrs. de Brosi's two sisters, Mrs. Julius T. Benedict and Mrs. Edward N. Hurley Jr., during their visit to Chicago, spending part of the time in town with Mrs. Benedict and the rest in Wheaton with the Hurleys, who did not come to town for the winter as is their custom and are finding life in Wheaton almost more fun in the winter than it is in the summer. The de Brosis have been here about a wek and they plan to be here another week before returning to their home in Great Neck, L. I.

A company of about thirty-five, all relatives of the bride or the bridegroom, will witness the ceremony that will make Miss Olive Atwater the bride of George F. Getz Jr. today. The service will be read at noon by the Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder, dean of St. Stephen's cathedral at Harrisburg, Pa., at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley of 2466 Lake View avenue.

The bride's attendants will be the Wrigleys' two daughters, Ada Blanche, who is 9 years old, and Dorothy, who is 7. James Getz will serve as best man for his older brother and ushering will be a cousin, Harry Getz Jr. of Moline, and Mr. Wrigley.

Miss Atwater is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Atwater and Mr. Getz is a son of George F. Getz. Among the relatives who have come from other cities for the wedding are the bride's aunts, Mrs. Helen Shrader of Iowa City, Mrs. F. G. Carlson of Mason City, Mrs. Jessie Atwater of Milwaukee and her daughters, Margaret and Suzanne, and a cousin, Gordon Atwater of Madison, Wis.

The bridegroom's grandfather, James E. Rankin of Henderson, Ky., is here and also Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rankin Jr., Miss Kate Mason, and Mrs. Starling Thompson, also of Henderson. Mrs. Harry Getz Jr. of Moline accompanied her husband to Chicago.

Other Events on Calendar

Also on today's calendar: the annual meeting of the Fort Dearborn Seminary Alumnæ association at 11 o'clock at the Drake hotel with a luncheon and program following—a meeting of Le Cercle Francais at 2 in the afternoon; the annual meeting of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society from 12:15 to 2:30 o'clock a the Fourth Presbyterian church—the last of three Causeries by Anna Louise Wangeman of Paris, a former Chicagoan, at the residence of Mrs. Albert H. Wetten, 209 Lake Shore drive, at 11 o'clock—and a meeting of the Junior Friends of Art this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Belden-Stratford hotel at which the Finnish consul, Elmer A. Forsburg, will talk on 'The Art and Music of Finland," and there will be a musical program by Lennart von Zweygberg and Aarre Merikanto.

From Miami comes a note about the opening of the winter racing meeting at Hialeah park which will open Thursday with several well known Chicagoans represented by horses on the track or by attendance in the boxes. John D. Hertz, who has a winter place at Miami Beach, is a club member and a box holder; H. Teller Archibald, also a club member and a box holder, has his stable at the park; Warren Wright, who has a new winter residence at Miami, is a box holder, and so is Charles A. McCulloch.

Tape Measure Tells Story of Reducing

It's Best Proof That You're Growing Slimmer.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

'Member how I asked you in the beginning of this series to get out your tape measure and keep a record of what these exercises would do for you?

Well, "Harriet J." did that very thing—and you know what? Here's "Harriet's" own word for it:

"That stretching work is MARVELOUS! I wasn't terribly fat, but the fat I did have— eleven pounds of it—was all centered around my middle, waist, hips, and abdomen. The rest of me was all pretty good. Believe it or not, I've got an inch and a half off both hips and abdomen and just a fraction short of that off the waist.

"But, lordy, how I've been stretching! Before I jump out of bed, after I hop out, and during the day every time I think of it. Just pull myself up on my toes and go stepping around tall and stretched. I know I'm a new girl. I feel so differently. Thanks awfully, for the stretching information."

Other women are also having good results from the exercises. In inches. I like the tape measure idea! It does something to the spirit. It think it is that women begin to see with an inch or two off the waist, hips, and bust that they'll be able to pick up better clothes bargains and snappier looking things generally to wear.

Weigh on the scales, too! But try the effect of reducing by inches on your silhouette. Waist, hip, bust, and abdomen girth are better regulated by this measure. You can keep better track of them. And weight with most women is most heavily deposited on the named sections.

One of the tests by which you know whether or not you are "getting on in years," or "looking the part" is in the way you get up. If you push yourself up with your hands you're not so young. If you rise without that telltale push and lift yourself easily wth the muscles you're good for a long run yet.

If you want to fool the observer, or please him, pratice the exercise I give today. It will make you a better "riser." A younger looking one.

It's a "sitting up" one. First, lie on your back on the floor, hands over head. Count one and raise the trunk to sitting position with arms in front horisontally. Count two, return to the lying position with the arms overhead. Keep the heels on the floor. Repeat five times at first, then ten or twelve times.

Paris Brightens the Dark Dress with Flame Red

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special.] — Flashes of flame playing over a dress of somber black, blue, or brown is a fashion that Paris likes for informal evening.

Black frocks and coats are also seen, without a touch of color, but worn with a hat of flame colored feathers and gloves of the same color.

The dinner dress from Lucile Paray, shown in our sketch today, is one in the dark and flame combination. The dress is made of darkest brown satin, and is sleeveless. It has a skirt that is flared by two box plaits in front and two in back, released just above the knees. The simple bodice has a slightly dropped shoulder yoke in front, and is open in a triangle below the V neckline in back.

Two Year Old Has Diversity of Playthings

Blocks Appear First on Equipment List.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Never having been "smart" enough to find time to write letters and read many books when our "young" were very young, I always feel sympathetic with the busy, housekeeping mother. So, in case you just can't find time to write for the pamphlet recommended yesterday, I am going to list the playthings for 2 year olds that are mentioned in it. These choices are the result of years of expert teaching and have been proved right for the children by the teachers—and the children themselves!

The first play equipment mentioned is that for indoors, and the first things listed are those sources of countless variations and endless satisfaction, blocks. Among the varieties most "playable" are sets based on a unit, the unit given being 1⅝ inches by 2⅝ by 5⅛. There may be blocks a fraction of this unit size or two or three times the unit.

Materials for doll play come next, which hardly need be listed here, except to note that plain boxes are used for the doll's bed, and tiny washtubs and clotheslines and irons are suggested.

The drawing materials need a comment. They consist of large size crayons, sheets of manila paper 9x12 inches, the plaster which has some oil in it to keep it soft, and wooden bread boards for clay modeling.

Those mothers who are at sea trying to satisfy the big muscle activity of a 2 year old will see how legitimate their incessant need is when they read this material that the nursery school educator gives them: Slides, springboards, sawhorses, swings, low benches, set of three steps, sand box, raised and having castors; pebbles for pit, solid paving blocks (wood), hollow blocks, hammers, palls, shovels, pans, paint brushes, brooms, wagons, wheelbarrows, pushwagons, packing cases, boards.

There are only four books listed. The two ten cent ones are "Baby's First Picture Book" and "On Our Farm." The Steichen book of photographs for little children, called "The First Picture Book," and scrapbooks made by the teachers are the two others.

These suggestions were taken from the pamphlet, "Equipment for Class of Ten 2 Year Old Children," published by the Bureau of Educational Experiments, 69 Bank street, New York City, price 27 cents postpaid.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

After one dance they pass her up. They forget that rose-petal skin, those dreamy eyes, her agreeable manner, her grace on the dance floor . . . She has "IT," all right —but not what you think!

WHAT A SHAME that she ruins her great charm by this undesirable "it"—perspiration odor . . . the stale hint that comes when lingerie isn't quite fresh.

Why doesn't she protect her daintiness—and her popularity—Lux underthings after each wearing? All healthy people perspire, frequently over a quart a day, though many never even feel sticky. Underthings absorb this perspiration, but Lux removes it, takes away odor completely. Saves color and fabric. And it takes only 4 minutes, or less!

AVOID OFFENDING
Underthings absorb perspiration odor—
Protect daintiness this easy 4-minute way

Wash after each wearing. One tablespoon of Lux does one day's undies . . . stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

SEE WATERWAY BRINGING TRADE BACK TO CHICAGO

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Opportunities for Chicago to recapture diminishing wholesale markets in the south and southwest are discerned by some merchandise wholesalers in the Illinois waterway, which is almost on the verge of completion. At Joliet late yesterday the last concrete was poured at the McDonough street bridge gap.

The gates at Brandon road dam had been closed earlier and the water began to back up into the Lake Joliet pool. By Friday the pool level is expected to be filled almost to the proposed height. The old Economy dam, No. 1, at Joliet, remains to be taken out of the river. It was being drilled yesterday and its removal is scheduled for next week.

Ready for Navigation.

Below the Brandon road dam the construction work on the Dresden island lock and dam has been all ready for navigation for some weeks, but the pool cannot be flooded to its proper depth. This is because of Smith's highway bridge, a low structure. The state is building a new bridge, which is expected to be ready for traffic early in March. Efforts have been made to get the state to pull out the old bridge and detour traffic via Joliet or Morris, but so far they have been unavailing. The pool has been flooded as deep as possible without putting the highway and bridge under water.

Predictions were reiterated by construction officials yesterday that the Illinois waterway from Lockport to Utica would be ready for navigation by March 1.

Potentialities of the lakes to gulf waterway for the transportation of general merchandise, dry goods, hardware, and the like were under discussion in trade circles. One leading wholesaler pointed out that the new waterway will be enhanced in shipping value by the automobile and the presence of hard roads tapping the water route.

One argument advanced was that use of the waterway would enable Chicago wholesale merchants to regain some of the trade they have lost in Texas, Oklahoma, and other southern territory through the comparatively new railroad practice in St. Louis, Kansas City, and Dallas, Tex., of giving free pickup and free delivery within a 300 mile radius. This is reported to have cut into Chicago trade in the south in an extensive line of merchandise.

Barge-Truck Combination.

Some shippers yesterday dwelt upon the feasibility of using a combination of barges and trucks to get back into their old market territory on a traffic parity with competing cities. One prominent merchant suggested that trucks might be loaded in Chicago and placed on the waterway barges for transportation to river ports between Chicago and New Orleans. The trucks would leave the barges under their own power, and hard roads, running almost everywhere these days, would bring remote points into the zone of trade.

For some months, it was pointed out, loaded trucks have been placed on railroad cars and carried from Chicago to St. Louis. In similar way, some shippers set forth, trucks could be sent from Chicago to St. Louis, Memphis and other ports on barges, going by highway thence to their destinations. By some traffic experts it was declared economically feasible.

U. S. SUPREME COURT RULING SEEMS BLOW TO GULF WATERWAY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The Supreme court today denied the petition of the six Mississippi valley states that Edward F. McClennen, special master in chancery hearing the sanitary district diversion case, be instructed to make his present inquiry include an investigation of the water needs of the lakes to gulf waterway.

Missouri and five other states bordering on the Mississippi waterway requested the Supreme court to modify its 1929 decree so as to permit the diversion of sufficient water to make the lakes to gulf route commercially successful. The petition asked that as an initial step Mr. McClennen be instructed to determine the needs of the waterway in the light of the 1930 rivers and harbors bill, which made the waterway wholly federal.

Under the court's recent order Mr. McClennen is holding hearings to determine whether all possible steps are being taken by Illinois and the Chicago sanitary district to comply with the 1929 decree progressively limiting the Chicago diversion to 1,500 cubic second feet in 1938.

The order was entered as the result of a complaint by Wisconsin, Michigan, and other lake states that sewage treatment construction work required under the decree was willfully being neglected.

SEE BOOTLEGGING GROW UP UNDER ALLOTMENT PLAN

Farmers, Millers Also Figure Huge Tax.

BY PAUL POTTER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pekin, Ill., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Congregating about the mills in this and other downstate towns where they bring their wheat to be milled into feeds or bread flour, farmers have figured out, they say, that the domestic allotment scheme for farm relief in senate committee and already passed by the house will not only bring on a huge sales tax, but will open the door to a new kind of bootlegging on a wholesale scale.

It matters not whether the tax is placed on the wheat or on the flour in finished form, the corps of government inspectors that prohibition enforcement carried in its heyday will be a Coxey's army compared to the one needed to prevent evasions on foodstuffs, according to millers and farmers.

N. P. Easling, owner of a mill here and serving 2,500 farmers in central Illinois, has put it down in black and white. And his story of how tax evasions will start piling up in breadstuffs may be multiplied by a number of commodities now listed in the allotment bill—seven in all. They are wheat, hogs, cotton, tobacco, peanuts, rice, and butterfat in all its forms—milk, cream, butter, and cheese.

"Then suppose congress finds these bootlegging operations getting out of hand," asks Mr. Easling, "and a law is passed prohibiting the milling of whole wheat flour to be sold as feeds. A farmer could drive into any of the thousands of mills in the country and ask to have his wheat cleaned for seed. He could reload, drive around the block, change his mind and decide to have it ground over in a feed mill, and the government agents still would be unable to stop him."

Suspended Postal Clerk Admits Theft of Mail

Bryant B. Dabler, 29 years old, 818 Dakin street, a postal clerk suspended recently for inefficiency, was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Walker on a charge of stealing 275 pieces of mail after breaking into the Lake View postoffice substation. Dabler admitted the charge and waived examination. He said he had been drinking. The theft occurred early yesterday and Dabler was seized a short time later by a detective squad. Commissioner Walker held him to the federal grand jury. Bond was set at $5,000.

ACCUSED TORCH MURDERER TAKES POISON IN CELL

London Builder Tricks Police Guards.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A few hours before Samuel Furnace, London builder, was due to appear in court for arraignment on a charge of murdering Walter Spatchett, he was discovered lying in his cell, unconscious from poisoning.

The object of the greatest man hunt Scotland Yard has conducted in recent years has been under the closest guard since his arrest at South End, seashore resort, 35 miles from London, yesterday afternoon. He was searched twice at the police station there and was again stripped and searched after he was driven to London in a police car and lodged in a cell in a police station in the north London quarter.

The accused torch slayer was permitted to take a hot bath last night and was then locked up, with a policeman stationed at the cell door. Early this morning Furnace asked for a drink of water. An hour later he was found nearly dead.

A police ambulance was summoned and he was rushed to the hospital. An examination revealed he had swallowed a dose of spirits of salts.

How he contrived to obtain the poison was thoroughly investigated by Scotland Yard detectives while the fight to revive the accused man was carried on for hours. The glass from which Furnace drank was sent to the home office to be examined by chemists. The guard assigned to him was closely questioned.

This morning Furnace revived slightly, but relapsed during the afternoon and was unable to recognize his wife. He did not regain consciousness until this evening. Late tonight physicians held no hope for his recovery.

Spatchett's burned body was found on Jan. 3 by firemen called to put out a blaze in Furnace's workshop. The father-in-law, brother, and two friends of Furnace identified the body as his and a search was begun for Spatchett, a rent collector and Furnace's friend. Later the identification was checked and it was determined that Spatchett was the man slain. Three bullet wounds were found in the body.

Police were detailed today to control the hundreds who stormed the tiny Marylebone court where Furnace's arraignment was scheduled to take place. There was a rush for the door when the court opened, but few were permitted to enter.

Suffering from two minor stab wounds in the chest, August Greene, 56 years old, of 7247 Oglesby avenue, president of the South Chicago Chamber of Commerce, was taken to the Jackson Park hospital last night. He was later taken home.

"I was driving north in Yates avenue and I stopped for a light at 83d street," he told police. "Two men with knives dragged me out, stabbed me, and robbed me of $4."

IT'S KIECKHEFER TO STRETCH, BUT LONG SHOT WINS

Jackson Beats Cue Champion, 50-48.

Games Today

THE schedule of matches in the three cushion billiard tournament today follows:
1:30 p. m.—Otto Reiselt vs. Tiff Denton.
3 p. m.—Art Thurnblad vs. Jay Bozeman.
8:15 p. m.—Welker Cochran vs. Allen Hall.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Away back nearly 13 years ago Man o' War went to the post the favorite at 1 to 100. Then Man o' War won.

Last night as the world's championship three cushion billiard tournament opened at 131 South Wabash avenue, Augie Kieckhefer squared away against Clarence Jackson of Detroit. Augie, the champion, was at 2 about 1 to 10 in the betting. If lots of betting men had been around Augie might have ruled as a 1 to 100 shot just as Man o' War did.

Then what did Augie do?

Well, to the dismay of the wise betting people, he was trimmed by a nose. He lost to Jackson, 50 to 48, in 58 heartbreaking innings.

What a Finish!

Maybe the billiard folks want to put on spectacular finishes for the crowds. Jackson had trailed throughout the early innings. Then he came along with a run of six in the 41st inning. He got a cluster of seven in the 55th inning, which put him in the lead, 47 to 44. He clicked off two more in the 56th inning while Kieckhefer made one. With the crowd in a turmoil, Jackson was leading, 49 to 45. Kieckhefer rallied in the 57th inning and his score went to 48.

The 1,000 spectators, many in evening dress, could no longer retain their dignity. They came up to their feet cheering. But the cool, methodical Jackson, who everybody thought was a setup for the champion, with a short angle snap shot registered his 50th point and victory.

Kieckhefer Off Form.

The champion was away off. He had been brilliant in practice, yet last night he couldn't make shots that the greenest amateur would click off. Kieckhefer's defeat gave his nine rivals in the tournament an advantage of one game, which will be hard for the champion to overcome with such a gang of challengers knocking on the door of the throne room.

Some of the dignity of three cushion billiards was taken out of the opening when a fellow from Detroit with a raucous yell began to shout, "Atta boy, Clarence!" every time the Detroit star made a difficult shot.

Then when Jackson got into stride and Kieckhefer was missing shots by the hundreth part of an inch, the dress suit crowd from Chicago sort of lost its dignity.

Champion Starts Fast.

"Hard luck, Augie!" they shouted out in chorus when the champion missed a close one. The kids from the loop were a bit more serious. They chimed out, "Get going, Augie!"

It was all Kieckhefer in the early stages. Jackson opened the game with a run of three in the first inning and got another one in the second round. But Kieckhefer shot two in the second innings, another in the third and then by difficult around the table shots got four in the fourth inning. This sent him into a 7 to 4 lead.

When the 30th inning came along Kieckhefer was leading, 27 to 16. In the 40th inning Augie was in front, 35 to 25. At this stage Jackson, a methodical old player who squinted out through his spectacles, appeared to be figuring his shots from every angle. Then he staged his rally.

Jackson Takes Lead.

In the 50th inning the score was 38 to 35 with Kieckhefer still in the lead. In the 55th inning Jackson scored seven and went into the lead for the first time. With Kieckhefer apparently bewildered, it was easy for Jackson to coast on out.

Most of Kieckhefer's major rivals go into action today. According to the schedule Kieckhefer cannot demonstrate that his first defeat was an accident, until about Thursday or Friday. By that time one of his rivals may be a couple of games in front.

How will Augie catch him?

YANKS MAIL RUTH A CONTRACT; HE SHOOTS IT BACK

Report Club's Offer to Babe Is $60,000.

New York, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The first shot in the expected battle over 1933 salary figures of baseball's highest paid player—George Herman Ruth—was fired today. In fact, there were really two shots.

The first one came in the morning when the New York Yankees dropped a contract down the mail chute addressed to Mr. Ruth.

The second came almost like an echo when the Babe cast one glance at the figures on the document, reached for an envelope, and fired it right back at the Yankees without gracing it with the famous signature that has adorned thousands of baseballs.

Reported Offer $60,000.

What the salary offered was, Ruth declined to say, but that he considered it wholly inadequate was a matter he made no attempt to conceal. From one source it was learned that the Yanks had proffered him a one year contract at $60,000, a slash of $15,000 from the $75,000 contract he received last season.

"What they offered me," said the Babe, "is something I'd rather let the club announce, if they feel like it. But I will say their offer wasn't enough by a long shot, and they'll have to raise the ante if they expect me to sign."

Barrow Not Surprised.

In some quarters the Babe's swift and emphatic response to the Yankee's opening offer was taken as giving credence to a report circulated some ten days ago to the effect that Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the club, and his general manager, Edward G. Barrow, had decided on reducing Ruth's salary as low as $50,000. But neither this figure nor the more accepted $60,000 could be verified tonight.

Barrow announced he would have nothing to say until he arrived at the Yankee offices tomorrow morning. However, he did not appear to be greatly surprised or taken back.

"After all," said Barrow, "the Babe has been doing that with almost every contract we've sent him. But I don't want to say anything more about it now."

Good for 100 Games.

Ruth scoffed at the idea that he would not be in as good playing condition this year as ever.

"Why, I feel great," he said, "and all that talk about me not being able to go at least 100 games this year is nonsense. I'm only a pound or two away from my playing weight right now."

The Babe has been working out lightly almost every afternoon at the gymnasium of his private trainer, Artie McGovern, and in the mornings he plays golf.

With the battle of the Babe's salary on, firing from other quarters may also be expected within the next few days, for, along with the Yankees, the Giants and Dodgers also mailed out their contracts yesterday.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern's speed and accuracy in shooting upset the previously undefeated Wisconsin basketball team last night at Patten gymnasium, 40 to 22, before a capacity throng of 6,000. It was the third time this year the Wildcats have performed before a full house, and last night's crowd saw Capt. Joe Reiff score 14 points, four field goals and six free throws, to bring his total to sixty points, by far the best in the Big Ten.

The game was distinctly one of those home affairs, for the several hundred Badger alumni never had reasonable opportunity to cut loose except for a bit of preliminary singing of "On Wisconsin." Wisconsin's boys were big and tall, but this advantage of height under the backboard was more than offset on the court, where the Wildcats had superior speed.

Badgers Drop Short Passes.

The short pass system, for which Wisconsin teams once were famous, was abandoned in the second half and the Badgers resorted to long shots. By this medium Wisconsin kept pace with Northwestern, about eight points behind, which was the margin separating the teams at the intermission. At that time Northwestern led, 17 to 9.

Joe Reiff dominated the play, but he had valuable assistance from his teammates who followed his instructions in use of floor plays. Then, too, Elmer Johnson, whose value sometimes is overlooked, dropped in five fields goals. Two of these were the result of plays from out of bounds under Northwestern's backboard on which Reiff put the ball into play.

Reiff led the Northwestern offense down the floor, but Johnson and Al Kawal were responsible for taking the ball from Wisconsin's backboard. This was a genuine assignment last night, for when Bob Knake started batting the ball underneath there was no time to rest.

Reiff Makes 6 Out of 6.

Reiff scored six free throws without a failure. Indeed Al Kawal, who missed three in four attempts, was the only Wildcat who marred the free throwing exhibition. Wisconsin's total of 12 fouls, as compared to Northwestern's six, was about the ratio one might expect, considering the difference in speed and Northwestern's precision in working the free throw line plays.

Twice in the second half Northwestern worked a block play which sent Nelson Culver under the backboard for uncovered shots, both of which resulted in field goals. The play was made possible when the Badger defense men failed to change men. Johnson was on the line and Reiff, on the right side of the floor, took Kawal's short pass. Don Brewer stepped in the path of Culver's guard, so that it was easy for Culver to run in to receive Reiff's pass under the backboard.

Northwestern started the first half without delay. Reiff's one hand shot, followed by another by Brewer and a second goal by Reiff on his third shot of the game, built up a 6 to 0 advantage. Ray Wichmann then scored for Wisconsin, but Northwestern came back to lead, 10 to 2. Johnson got his second field goal on an accurate pass from Brewer and Northwestern added five points on free throws to finish ahead, 17 to 9.

N. U. in 23-11 Lead.

Wisconsin scored first in the second period on Tom Smith's long shot. Culver, Reiff, and Johnson produced six points for a 23 to 11 lead. The scoring alternated three times, with Wisconsin registering long shots and Northwestern working the ball in close. When the Badgers failed to continue the long shot game successfully Northwestern soon raced to a decisive lead. Culver's two goals on the plays previously mentioned made the score 36 to 19.

At this stage Northwestern's substitutes took the court for all except Reiff. In the final minutes the teams played on even terms.

MAROONS GIVE IOWA A BATTLE, BUT LOSE, 36-32

Evans, Parsons Lead in 2d Half Rally.

Iowa took its expected victory over the University of Chicago Maroons last night, but the score, 36 to 32, rendered the outcome dangerously close to one of those Midway moral victories.

Playing the best ball they have shown this season, the Maroons gave a crowd of 1,000 at the Midway fieldhouse the first thrill of a desolate season by outplaying the Hawkeyes in the second period. Trailing, 20 to 9, at the half, Chicago pulled up to within three points of a tie before the gun ended the game.

Maroons in Early Lead.

Chicago took an early lead of 6 to 2 on two baskets and a pair of free throws by Chiz Evans. Iowa took command at that point to run up 18 points while Chicago counted three. Howard Bastian, rangy Hawkeye center, gyrated in the pivot position to the bafflement of Keith Parsons, Maroon pivot man who guarded him.

It was Parsons, however, who led the Maroon second half rally. Keith contributed four field goals as Chicago ran the count to 25-28. The Maroons missed ten free throws while Iowa capitalized on all but five such chances. Coach Norgren used only five men, with Tommy Flinn, midget football quarter back, adding verve but no points to the Chicago attack. Lineup:

OHIO STATE, 33; ILLINOIS, 22

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Ohio State brushed another obstacle from its path to the Big Ten title tonight by defeating Illinois, 33 to 22, before a crowd of 6,194. It was Ohio's third Big Ten victory without a defeat.

Ohio State slowly but surely wore down the Illinois five, pulling gradually away and increasing its 15 to 11 half time lead with Illinois never closer than two points.

Beitner and Capt. Mattison kept the Illini from many easy shots, while Hosket proved a big factor in the Buckeye defense as well as being high individual scorer with 10 points.

Hellmich was unable to get his percentage of the center jumps and was held to two baskets and two free throws.

PURDUE, 40; MINNESOTA, 16

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Purdue's basketball squad came back with an aggressive game here tonight to bury Minnesota, 40 to 16. Purdue started a new forward combination and kept the veterans, Stewart and Kellar, on the bench throughout the game.

Joe Wheeler and George Hertzing, who played most of the game at the forward position, turned in neat performances, and the Boilermaker was vastly improved, both in passing and defensive work.

With every member of the starting lineup smashing through for field goals Purdue piled up a 21 to 3 lead at the half. Minnesota started a belated rally at the start of the second half, but the Purdue offensive soon got under way, paced by three long shots from near the middle of the floor by Ed Shaver, who relieved Parmenter late in the game, and the margin started to mount in jumps again.

Norman Cottom, sophomore floor guard, was high scorer with four field goals and three free throws. Ed Shaver and Dutch Fehring were next in line with six points each. Lineup:

Schank Again Named Head of Hawthorne

John C. Schank, for the eighth straight year, was elected president of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association yesterday. This organization controls the Hawthorne track. The track's $25,000 Hawthorne Gold Cup during the last few years has become one of the most famous races run in America.

All the stockholders at the meeting indicated they desired to make the Gold Cup value $25,000 for its running during the Century of Progress Exposition early next August. No action was taken, however, on stake and purse values.

Other officers elected were:
Vice president—Joseph A. Murphy.
Vice president—Albert Sabath.
Treasurer—Charles Krutckoff.
Secretary—Charles W. Bidwill.

Mr. Schank and Vice President Sabath will depart this morning for New Orleans, where they serve in similar capacities at the Fair Grounds track, which opens its winter season next Monday afternoon.

"We expect to renew all our stakes, particularly this year during the World's Fair," President Schank said. "We hope to keep their values up to the prizes offered by any other track in the country."

DEMPSEY IS STILL UNDER BAN, N. B. A. STATES WARNED

The National Boxing association yesterday called to the attention of its members that Jack Dempsey is still under suspension in N. B. A. territory because of his disagreement with the Mississippi commission.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BASKETBALL TRIPS.

BECAUSE games are played at night, basketball differs from football in the rest and mealtime periods of participants. Naturally the usual heavy dinner never is enjoyed. Let's take the trip of Illinois to Ann Arbor for Saturday night's contest and last night's affair at Columbus as an example. We inquired the details while in Ann Arbor for presentation of THE TRIBUNE'S ninth annual Silver Football to Harry Newman.

After boarding a late Friday train out of Champaign, Coach Craig Ruby and his Illini charges left Chicago for Ann Arbor Friday night, arriving about 6:30 the next morning. Instead of having to tumble out of their berths, however, their special sleeper was sidetracked and the boys slept until 8:45. Then a light breakfast, followed by the usual lunch.

After resting in their rooms most of the afternoon the boys were summoned to dinner at 5:15, only it wasn't dinner in the usual sense. Poached eggs on toast or something of that light character, with milk or tea and perhaps a baked apple, was the usual order. The game was at 7:30, after which the boys were privileged to have a meal of about what they wanted within training rules.

Thereafter their schedule varied from what we thought might be proper. Illinois was to play Ohio State last night. Now, there is no quieter place than Ann Arbor on Saturday night if you are without a "date." We supposed they might rest there overnight in their quarters at the Michigan Union and take a day ride to Columbus, avoiding a sleeper jump, then a night's rest in the Buckeye capital Sunday night with plenty of time for more rest Monday. How wrong we were!

Shortly after the game the Illini took a train for Detroit, then a sleeper to Columbus, there to await the game. To our request for a reason Coach Ruby and others explained that long day rides were the most exhausting and nervous energy destroying things which could happen to basketball teams.

To prove their point our disputants cited the crucial game of the 1931 season between Northwestern and Minnesota by which the Purple clinched the title. It was a Monday night game. Northwestern played at Iowa Saturday, took a train to Cedar Rapids after the game, then arrived in Minneapolis Sunday morning after a sleeper jump. Minnesota played at Columbus Saturday night, arrived in Chicago Sunday morning, and then took a day ride to Minneapolis in order to have a night's sleep in their own beds rather than another sleeper ride.

According to those arguing against us, this day ride was "fatal." After the first ten minutes of the game the Gopher players were "dead" on their feet. We argued they might have been anyway with two nights on a sleeper, but those who ought to know more about it than we do thought otherwise. Anyway, there's your theory of basketball trips.

Ah, This Is Love.

[This verse is prefaced by the typical brokerage firm phraseology, "The appended information has been obtained from what we regard as reliable sources, and while we do not guarantee it we believe it to be accurate."]

And the love of a baby that's unafraid—
All have existed since time began.

But the most wonderful love, the love of loves,
Is the tenderest, infinite, passionate love

1,200 Attend Notre Dame Grid Banquet

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 16.—[Special]—More than 1,200 persons paid tribute to the Notre Dame 1932 football team tonight at the thirteenth annual civic testimonial dinner.

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who was the principal speaker, said regarding President Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt: "I am confident that his plans will not be interfered with by blocking as the word is used politically. Rather he will be aided because he will have men everywhere who will be glad to do his blocking for him in the way in which the word has been used in connection with football."

The Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, said that the current depression has helped football.

"American people were coming to take their pleasure more seriously than their work," he said. "The depression has put football in its proper place—it has made it a game. It has provided the antidote that colleges and universities have long been applying from the inside in their eligibility requirements and scholastic standards."

Cincinnati Ball Club Bars Week-end Radio Broadcast

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team today announced there would be no broadcasting of Saturday and Sunday National league games played here in the coming baseball season. Broadcasting of the opening game here also will be banned.

ICE FISHERMEN GET BIG STRINGS OVER WEEK-END

Pickerel, Black Bass Are Hungry in Winter.

BY BOB BECKER.

The sport of fishing through the ice in the northern Illinois lake country went to a new high last week-end when one of the largest crowds of winter anglers the lake country has seen in recent years was on hand with all sorts of fishing gear. While the fishermen watched their lines skaters with sails scooted over the rough ice at a fast clip. The strong wind coming out of the southwest was ideal for this sport.

Game Warden Walter Hamburger of Fox Lake reported Sunday afternoon that he had found ice fishermen on nearly all the lakes in the Fox lake country. Many of the fishermen had come from Chicago to try their luck. When we checked some of the catches which had been made by four o'clock Sunday afternoon we found Pistakee had won top honors for the day. One lucky angler displayed a 6½ pound pickerel or northern pike. There was no guesswork about this fat pike. A scale was available to determine its exact weight. Pistakee also produced a bass which weighed between 3 and 3½ pounds.

Use Live Minnows for Bait.

These good sized specimens were taken with live minnows by fishermen who were dropping their lines through the ice just off the edge of a large weed bed or else in pockets among the weeds.

Although a majority of these fishermen are using live minnows for bait we saw two boys on Pistakee who were demonstrating that a long string of fish could be taken with the old fashioned garden hackle, the lowly angleworm. The bluegills were going for the worm baits in great style when we visited Pistakee. The fishermen used small hooks, worms, a small cork on the line and a short, crude rod. As soon as one of the corks began bobbing they picked up the rod and hooked their fish. Besides pickerel and large mouth black bass we saw one good sized sunfish, the only sunfish that we have seen caught by an ice flaherman this year.

Keep Your Eyes Open, Fisher!

Sunday we noticed that the ice on the lakes was only about 4 or 5 inches thick. This thickness is, of course, safe for skaters and fishermen. On the other hand the recent warm weather hasn't helped the ice and fishermen are hoping for another spell of cold weather to add several more inches to the present surface.

Chicagoans who are planning on fishing Fox, Pistakee, Marie, and other lakes in northern Illinois and are unfamiliar with the sport of getting 'em through the ice should keep their eyes wide open when they walk around. There are hundreds of old fishing holes only partly frozen over. They are so small that one can't get his body through any of them. But they are large enough to engulf a leg and give a fellow an unpleasant soaking.

Lightweights Lead in I.A.C. Ring Entries

Entries closed yesterday for the Illinois Athletic club amateur boxing championships, which open at the club gymnasium tomorrow night, with 91 contestants. The largest entry is the lightweight class, which has 16. Others are: 112 pounds, 8; 118, 6, 126, 12; 147, 10; 160, 9; 175, 14; heavyweights, 10. Six other entrants have not been listed as yet.

Eight clubs have entered teams for the team trophy. They are: Catholic Youth Organization, 16; Trafton's gymnasium, 12; Fort Sheridan, 8; Kane County Sports club, 6; Illinois Clearing house, 16; Kid Howard's gymnasium, 4; Ardmore Athletic club, 5; Gibbs Athletic club, 2.

Frankie Sanello, Central A. A. U. flyweight champion, and Henry Fuscaldo, Los Angeles-Chicago winner, will compete. Sam Guidaro, Los Angeles-Chicago victor, and Lenny Cohen are the outstanding battlers in the bantamweight class. The featherweight championship appears to rest between Harry Booker, national Catholic titleholder, and Benny Barrish of Trafton's gym. Other prominent fighters are George Holden and Joe Montello, lightweights; Sylvester Crawford and Jim Fontana, welterweights.

Dukelsky and Weinert Meet at Six Rounds

Two professional boxing shows will be presented tonight, one at Kid Howard's gymnasium, 116 Madison street, and the other at Midway Arena, 6115 Cottage Grove avenue. Two bouts at six rounds will head the card at Howard's gym, Solly Dukelsky facing Puggy Weinert and Danny Neenan clashing with Johnny Terry. Bill Hall and Jackie Parker will meet in the six round windup at the Midway. Five other contests are scrediuled.

Parke Rides 3 Winners; Hits 20 for Season

New Orleans, La., Jan. 16.—[Special.]—Jockey Monte Parke who has been electrifying race fans since the opening of the meet at Jefferson Park, today scored a triple and boosted his total for the season to 20 winners. Parke's superlative piloting has given him a substantial lead in the battle for 1933 jockey honors.

Parke completed his triple in the fourth race when he rode Thistle Fyrn, owned by G. Collins, to victory. Thistle Fyrn won by a head in a drive down the stretch with Bill Looney. Evaline F. was third. The winner paid $6.40 and ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:47 2-5.

The featuré race, the fifth, was captured by C. E. Davison's gelding, Hot Shot, which won by a head over Dollar Princess. Making Bubbles was third, also beaten by only a head. The winner paid $17.40 in the mutuels. The race was the fastest of the day and the winner was timed in 1:13 3-5 for six furlongs.

Jockey R. Whittaker, who was up on Song Hit, which led into the stretch, was carried from the park apparently severely injured after his mount stumbled and fell. Jockey Acaro rode Hot Shot, an outsider in the betting and took the lead to hold it when Song Hit fell.

HERE ARE TIPS FOR NOVICES IN SILVER SKATES

Remember You've Same Chance as Next Fellow.

This is the seventh of a series of articles on ice skating by Irving Jaffee, holder of three Olympic championships and the world's professional title, designed to aid all entrants in The Tribune's Silver Skates Derbies, to be held at Garfield park Jan. 21 and 22. Jaffee won the New York Daily News' Senior Silver Skates in 1928, the Olympic 5,000 meters title in 1928, the Olympic 5,000 and 10,000 meter races in 1932, and the world's professional championship two weeks ago. He also holds the world's amateur record for the mile. Readers wishing to obtain any information on ice skating should send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Irving Jaffee, Chicago Tribune Sports Department, Tribune Tower.

BY IRVING JAFFEE.

Of all the classes of skaters who will enter THE TRIBUNE'S Silver Skates Derbies Saturday and Sunday at Garfield park who merit a special article in this series, I believe those boys and girls who will be racing for the first time are the most important. Naturally they lack the experience of the more proficient skaters, and I should now like to set down a few pointers for these novices.

First of all, remember that these older and more expert skaters had to enter their first race, even as you are doing now, and as the beginner in any form of athletic competition must. They, too, were more or less nervous, and in most cases crowd conscious, so that this will be a natural condition for you to experience. And don't forget that the next boy or girl on the starting line with you may be in the same boat, with jumpy heart and nerves, keyed up as much as you yourself are.

How to Defeat Stage Fright.

There are those of you who will defeat this stage fright by resolving to yourselves, "Why be worried? I have as much chance as the next one," and will enter the race full of determination and without fear. For, after all, if you have trained diligently and are properly prepared, you should be able to sell yourself on that "I have the same chance as my rivals" angle.

I remember the first race I ever entered. It was called a novice event, held at an indoor rink in New York City in 1925. My skates were three sizes too large, the laces were tied up in knots and bows to keep them from falling apart, and there was no edge on my skates. In short, I had done everything possible to hinder my chances of winning. My feet wobbled so much from the oversized shoes that I was left at the starting line when the gun was fired and in my anxiety to get into action, I tangled with another boy's skates, and, of course, found myself looking at the ceiling. I learned plenty after that discouraging start and a few more like it before I won my first medal.

Points to Remember.

Here are some important points for all of you first race entrants to remember:

1. Check up on your skates and shoes. See that they fit properly.
2. Have a sharp edge for your skates done by an expert if you can't do it yourself.
3. Girl novices should wear loose fitting clothes so that they can stretch their legs and arms with full freedom.
4. Boys also should wear a comfortable uniform, so as to avoid any entanglements between clothes, skates, and competitors.
5. Lace your shoes with a soft lace, snugly but not too tightly.

Don't Bind Ankles.

7. Keep cool at the start of the race.
8. Skate as easily as you can to hold your position in the race.
9. Conserve your energy for the final part of the race.
10. Concentrate on the race, keeping your eyes and ears open.
11. Give all you've got at the finish.
15. Skate clean and fair.

YANKEES AGAIN SHIP SALTZGAVER TO NEWARK CLUB

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Otto [Jack] Saltzgaver, second baseman, who finished the 1932 season with the Newark Internationals, after a start as a Yankee rookie, will have to wait at least another season before he gets his next chance with the world champions.

The Yankees today announced Saltzgaver's return to Newark for another season, on option. He will go south with the No. 1 unit of the Yankees' farm system.

Sammy Slaughter Stops Conrad in 10th at Boston

Boston, Mass., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Sammy Slaughter, 159½, Terre Haute, Ind., Negro, won on a technical knock out from Norman Conrad, 159, of Wilton, N. H., in the tenth and last round of the feature bout in a boxing show at the Boston arena tonight. Conrad was knocked down eight times in the first round.

Rudolph and Caras Split First Two Blocks of Match

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Jimmy Caras, Wilmington, Del., and Erwin Rudolph, Cleveland, split the first two blocks of a 1,760 point pocket billiard match at the Strand today. Caras won the afternoon block, 125 to 85, in 10 innings, but Rudolph came back to take the evening session, 165 to 122, in 12 innings.

Eddie Ran Wins 10 Round Decision Over Mecadon

DICK TRACY—Enter: The Complainant

DID I FRAME THAT DICK OR DID I, HUH? AFTER PLANTING THE PHONEY DOUGH ON HIM, HE MAKES THE ROUNDS OF THE STORES BUYING STUFF. FOR THE KID- I WALK INTO EACH SHOP A FEW MINUTES AFTER HE LEAVES, PRETENDING I'M THE LAW AND ASKING IF THEY'VE SEEN ANYTHING OF A COUNTERFEITER. CAN'T YOU IMAGINE WHAT'S GOING TO HAPPEN!
THE KID'S ALL DECKED UP, CHIEF- LOOK 'IM OVER.
BOY OH BOY!
TRACY BOUGHT ME A NEW CAP AN' A NEW COAT AN' NEW SHIRTS -AN'-
CHIEF- THERE'S A BIRD OUT HERE WANTS TO SEE YOU. SAYS HE HAS SOME BAD MONEY SOMEBODY PASSED OFF ON HIM — AND HE WANTS TO TALK WITH YOU ABOUT IT.
OKAY- SEND 'IM IN.

Denemark Skate Club to Seek Eckersall Trophy

Pete Miller yesterday predicted that the Denemark Skating club is going to win the Eckersall team trophy in the sixteenth annual Silver Skates Derbies which are scheduled this week end at Garfield park. Miller should know, since he is the team coach, and there's this to add—his club is leading total points in the season's skating meets. Denemark has 740 points. The Northwest Skating club is second with 240 points, and the Olympic Skating club is third with 200 points.

Wilbur Marks Menne, who is leading the Chicago skaters in points this season, is one of Denemark's best skaters in the senior division. Al Kurcera, who placed third in the men's division in 1931, and Art Peters, who finished fourth, also are counted on as potential winners.

Two Lead Junior Class.

Les Freisinger is one of the best intermediates skaters. Others of the Denemark team who are expected to score points are Bernie Cannata and James Broeder in the junior class for boys 14 and 15 years of age, and Ken Kisselberg and Robert Nelson in the boys' juvenile, 12 and 13 years of age.

The team championship in 1931 was shared by the Walton A. C. and the Norwegian-Americans. Points are scored as follows in all seven Derbies: First, 50 points; second, 40 points; third, 30 points; fourth, 20 points, and fifth, 10 points.

Austin High Enters 53.

Harold E. Collins, coach of the Austin High school skating team, has entered 53 boys in three of the Derbies. Eighteen will compete in the junior division; 28 are listed in the intermediate class, and 7 are eligible to try for the senior championship.

Albert Fischer, president of the Olympic Skating club, has a team of excellent skaters. Leading the list of seniors is Eddie Stumdl, who has won three pairs of Silver Skates. Last Sunday he won the St. Louis championship. Richard McCarter, who has won skates in the intermediate class, is another outstanding senior. Robert Sherman, entered in the junior class, has won in the juvenile division.

Helen Bina and Elizabeth DuBois, who skate for the Olympic club, are previous senior champions and are not eligible.

La Follette Girls to Race.

Rosamond McNichol, instructor at La Follette park, of the west parks system of playgrounds, has entered a team of girls. P. A. Harris of the Hayt playground, will have 27 boys in the midget class, five in the juvenile, six in the junior, and two each in the intermediate and senior classes.

John Nemec, instructor at McCormick playground, of the board of education, has a team of 54 ready for the Derbies. His skaters in the midget class are exceptionally good and hope to bring away several of the five prizes. Each contestant who reports for his or her preliminary race will receive a gold souvenior button.

Other Playgrounds Seek Titles.

H. A. Smith, director of the Barrett municipal playground, 2022 West 22d street, will have contestants in the first three of the boys' Derbies and in the girls' junior class. The Ammet playground, of which Gustave J. Eiste is the instructor, will compete in the Derbies. Eiste is a veteran member of the officials' association which conducts the races.

Other teams whose registrations have been received follow:

Goethe playground, Philip Schuster, instructor.
Burley playground, A. Banusky, instructor.
Poe playground, Jack Callahan, director.
Cockery playground, William Woeltje, instructor.

An effort will be made to shift the location of the Derbies, if necessary, so that they may be held this week. The Garfield park lagoon requires several days of cold weather to freeze to a sufficient depth to hold the races. The difficulty, however, is to provide adequate facilities for the skaters. If the plan to shift the location is not feasible, the Derbies will be postponed.

England Scores 130 Runs for 3 Wickets in 2d Innings

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 17 [Tuesday.]—(AP)—England had scored 130 runs for the loss of three wickets in the second innings of the third cricket test match with Australia when lunch was taken today. The first innings scores were England 341; Australia 222.

Wood, Shute in Battle for Money Title

The big names among the money winners in winter golf tournaments during the last few years have been shunted back in the current season by a couple of young men who, while they have been among the leaders, have never been quite able to crowd their way to the top. They are Craig Wood, the blonde giant from Deal, N. J., and Densmore Shute of Cleveland, who are now leading the professionals making the winter tour on the Pacific coast and in Florida.

Shute Loses Lead.

Shute led all by himself until the conclusion of the Agua Caliente open tournament last Saturday, when Wood took the lead. Shute captured first prize of $2,500 in the richest tournament of the year, the Miami-Biltmore open, and then took second money in the National City and Miami meets for a total of $3,400 and an average of more than $1,000 per tournament. Wood, who has shot the best golf of the winter season, won the San Francisco, Pasadena, and Los Angeles opens in succession and then tied for third place money, $750, in the Agua Caliente meet. He now leads the field with earnings of $3,906.75.

Runyan in Third Place.

Paul Runyan, the Arkansas ex-caddy now stationed at White Plains, N. Y., and a former assistant to Wood at Deal, jumped into third place when he took first prize of $1,500 in the Agua Caliente open. John Revolta, the 21 year old dark horse from Menominee, Mich., is now in fourth place as the result of taking first in the Miami open and second in the Miami-Biltmore tournament. He holds only a slight lead, however, over Horton Smith of Oak Park, who has collected $1,831.25.

|---|---|
| Craig Wood, Deal, N. J. | $3,906.75 |
| Denny Shute, Cleveland, O. | 3,400.00 |
| Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y. | 2,284.50 |
| John Revolta, Menominee, Mich. | 1,900.00 |
| Horton Smith, Oak Park, Ill. | 1,831.25 |
| Willie Hunter, Los Angeles | 1,570.00 |
| Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, Mex. | 1,359.70 |
| Walter Hagen, Detroit, Mich. | 1,252.50 |
| Harry Cooper, Chicago | 1,050.00 |
| Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del. | 1,050.00 |
| Al Espinosa, Akron, O. | 1,034.50 |
| Eddie Loos, Chicago | 976.00 |

"Athletics Teach Modern Youth to 'Take It'"—Griffith

Athletics stand for the qualities that have made America great and that are especially needed in a time of stress like the present, Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten conference and new president of the National Collegiate Athletic association, told members of the Ad Men's post of the American Legion at the Sherman hotel yesterday.

Attacks on collegiate sports in the past have come from those who were envious of the popularity and the large gate receipts of football, and asked that more attention be paid to minor sports, he said. Now, he observed, the depression has taken care of this, and by reducing football receipts has forced curtailment of other sports.

"Athletics teach not to alibi for defeat, which many are now doing in their business, and they teach playing for a cause and not for money," he said. "An athletic event, the 100 yard dash—guarantees a fair start, an unimpeded course, and a just award at the finish, which might with value be more often applied to our social problems.

"The depression teaches, as the war taught, that we should not take all these things that test the courage out of the education of our youth."

Suburban Prep League Ping Pong Players to Meet

Basketball, swimming, and indoor track will take a back seat in the Suburban High School league this weekend for ping-pong. W. L. Childs, New Trier athletic director, announced yesterday that the first league ping-pong tournament will be held at New Trier High school, Winnetka, Saturday. It will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Sixty-four players will compete in the meet. They will represent the six schools in the league—New Trier, Evanston, Morton, Deerfield, Oak Park and Proviso.

The Wendell Phillips-Hyde Park central section heavyweight game in the Chicago Public High School league, originally scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed until tomorrow. The game will be played at Hyde Park's gymnasium. Phillips leads the section with three consecutive victories, while Hyde Park has won one and lost two.

The junior track teams of Roosevelt and Austin will meet tomorrow in Austin's gymnasium. The senior squads will meet Friday. Roosevelt's squads are scheduled to meet Lake View Jan. 26 and Feb. 2.

Deerfield's swimming team will meet New Trier in a Suburban league dual meet at Winnetka Thursday.

With practically the same squad which won the Midwest Prep conference basketball championship last year, Onarga is the favorite to retain its title. Onarga meets St. Alban's at Sycamore, Ill., Saturday.

CREIGHTON ENDS MARQUETTE U.'S STREAK, 27 TO 22

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Creighton university snapped Marquette's six game winning streak by defeating the Hilltoppers, 27 to 22, tonight.

Creighton played cautiously throughout and held Roy Morstadt, Marquette ace, to two free throws. Schmidt's basket as the half ended gave Creighton a 12 to 11 lead.

Ronzani and Kukla, with eight and seven points respectively, led the Marquette attack. Bob Miller and Collin with three baskets apiece were high scorers for Creighton. Collin's floor play was outstanding. Lineup:

Dublinsky Stops Bojarski in Eighth at Pittsburgh

HAWKS RETURN BOSTRUM, WIEBE TO ST. PAUL CLUB

Helge Bostrom, veteran defense man, and Art Wiebe, a youngster, yesterday were returned to the St. Paul club of the American association by the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey league.

Bostrom was sent to the Greyhounds several weeks ago in exchange for Wiebe. He donned a Hawk uniform last night so that Tom Gorman, new Hawk manager, could have a look at him. He didn't get into action but after a practice session today was sent away again. Wiebe was returned on option to gain experience.

TALKING IT OVER

BY ARCH WARD.

THESE remarks are intended for the thousands of young men who are getting ready for 1933 Golden Gloves. The biggest amateur boxing tournament in the world will not get under way in Chicago for another month, but some of the outlying centers will hold their meets within the next few days. Burlington, Ia., where a tournament will be sponsored for the first time by the Gazette, opens a four day fistic carnival today.

Several boys who have visions of winning the most coveted prize the sport offers will be disappointed to find they are not eligible for competition. They will include those who have taken part in outlaw shows. An outlaw show is one not sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic union. Golden Gloves bouts are conducted under A. A. U. rules and a boy who has lost his standing because of infraction of the amateur code will not be admitted to THE TRIBUNE meet.

The Davenport, Ia., Times, which conducts a qualifying tournament for Golden Gloves, has reported to A. A. U. officials several outlaw shows around the tri-cities. Frequently the boxers were led to believe they were taking part in sanctioned bouts, the newspaper reported.

A boy naturally has a right to fight when and where he pleases. He may compete in outlaw shows or he may compete for Golden Gloves, but he cannot do both.

THE TRIBUNE has made and will continue to make an honest effort to keep its tournament on an amateur basis. To this end it has the full cooperation of the A. A. U. and the various state athletic commissions.

From the competitive viewpoint, the 1933 meet promises to be the best we have had. All of the newspapers which cooperated with THE TRIBUNE in the promotion of the tournament last year will be represented by championship teams again this season. There will be two or three important new centers. Among these is Indianapolis, where a meet will be sponsored by the Indianapolis Times.

New York likewise is expanding in preparation for the inter-city bouts. Included in the vast field which fights for Golden Gloves down there will be a team of champions from Buffalo. New York never has won an inter-city match in Chicago. Neither has Chicago won in New York.

There will be no change in the situation if the young men of Chicagoland have anything to say about it. They gave us a bad licking in New York last winter, but they had to have the aid of the officials and the use of cement and scrap iron in their gloves to do it.

This is New York's year to moan.

STECHER'S BULK FORCES LONDOS TO CHANGE STYLE

Jim Londos, who has won most of his matches in the last three years by employing his specialty, the airplane spin, is expected to forget this hold when he goes against Joe Stecher Thursday night at the Coliseum in the feature match of Promoter Doc Krone's all heavyweight show.

It isn't that he doesn't want to use this weapon, but he believes that on account of the Nebraskan's height and weight he will be unable to.

Because of the Nebraskan's size, it appears that Londos will have to resort to trickery. Stecher will rely mainly on his scissors and toe hold. Londos, however, has a working knowledge of all holds and doubtless will carry the battle to his bigger foe from the start.

Mount Carmel, 29; Calumet, 21.
[Lightweight.]
Roosevelt, 25; Waller, 22.
Calumet, 18; Mount Carmel, 14.

The undefeated Roosevelt lightweights continued their march to the quarter-final round for the Chicago Public High School league basketball championship by scoring their fifth consecutive victory in the north section yesterday. Led by Darr, Roosevelt handed Waller its fourth defeat, 25 to 22, at Waller's gymnasium.

Daar, playing center, tossed in four field goals and three free throws. Dry also starred for Roosevelt, collecting three baskets. Oberlander was Waller's high scorer with four baskets and one free throw.

Parker Beats Fenger, 55-17.

Another unbeaten squad, Parker's heavyweights, maintained its lead in the south division by overwhelming Fenger, 55 to 17, on Fenger's court for a third straight triumph. Parker's score was the largest made in league competition thus far this season.

Rumpf, Parker's star center, took the lead in individual scoring when he sank 11 baskets.

Mount Carmel and Calumet divided a pair of nonleague games on Calumet's floor. With Kimmerling scoring 10 points Mount Carmel's heavyweights defeated Calumet, 29 to 21. Calumet's lightweights triumphed over Mount Carmel, 18 to 14.

Lindblom will play Englewood in a central division heavyweight game at the Englewood gymnasium this afternoon. Lindblom is in second place in the race, having won two games and lost one, while Englewood has suffered three consecutive defeats.

Harrison Meets McKinley.

Two heavyweight games will be played in the west section. McKinley, which occupies the cellar with four straight setbacks, encounters Harrison Tech, which is in third place with two victories and two defeats, on the Harrison floor. Marshall will visit Tuley's gymnasium in the other contest.

Lake View and Lane Tech lightweights will attempt to settle second place in the north division. Each team has scored three victories and suffered one defeat. The game will be played on Lake View's court.

SELLERS HOLD UPPER HAND, SO HOG PRICES GAIN

Heavy Supplies Result in Cattle Decline.

The highest sales in 21 days were equaled in yesterday's 10@20c higher hog market, with the top at $3.40 and the average at $3.10. Sellers had the upper hand from the start and pressed their advantage for all it was worth all day. Light weights led the way up, while heaviest hogs were inclined to drag on the upgrade. Yesterday's top sale at $3.40 was 30c above Saturday's peak, which was established on medium grades in the absence of top light that day.

The $3.40 mark equaled the highest since Dec. 26, when $3.50 stood highest since Nov. 28. Hogs have been up to $4.00 only once since Oct. 10. Other points shared in the recovery, the eastern high point reaching $3.75, with three low western markets quoting $3.00 tops. Light hogs are again commencing to pull away from the medium and heavy butchers. Choice 175@225 lb averages sold largely at $3.20@3.35 on yesterday's session, while $2.95@3.10 bought most of the 250@280 lb butchers and $2.80@2.90 got the 300@400 lb heavies.

Cattle Prices Recede.

Cattle yesterday were unable to retain the gains scored last week when 14,000 were unloaded on the market. At the start buyers found the softest spots in better grades of steers and yearlings, saving very little in the plainer grades until toward the close when sales indicated practically all ranches were sharing indiscriminately in a 25c cut. However, the performance was not entirely a dispiriting affair. The clearance was good for the reduction, with prices holding above the recent lows.

Choice 1,105 lb steers topped the market at $7.00, standing 35c under the high point of last week. Cows were slow and weak to a shade lower. Bulk of the heifers sold on the same basis, but the less desirable grades of butcher stock, especially the heavy heifers, were discounted fully 25c before the close. Calf supplies were light and prices about in line with last week's close.

Lambs Close Lower.

Lamb prices weakened after a shady opening yesterday and finished 15@25c lower basis. Sheep receipts at 26,000 were largest since Oct. 31 and caried a big quota of feeding stern lambs. Offerings were fully up to average for this time of the year, comparing with a run of 20,994 head week ago, with 27,347 a year ago, and with 12,318 two years ago. Buyers looked at the steady list of quotations sold out to them at the start, but bought freely at the later reduction. Bulk of good grades sold at $6.00, with clippers taking a few bands up to $6.15@6.25.

Lorillard.

Will you please give me information to Lorillard?—D. J. J.

P. Lorillard company was incorporated in 1911. In 1926 it offered Old Gold cigarets to compete with the leaders in the 15 cent field. In addition it now manufactures Rocky Ford cigars, Helmar and Mogul cigarets, Beechnut chewing tobacco, Between the Acts (little cigars), and other brands of similar products.

Average net income per year for the five years to 1925 inclusive was $3,829,000. For the succeeding four years net declined steadily. This was ascribed to heavy expenses in introducing Old Gold cigarets.

Net income of $4,846,000, or $2.12 per common share, was reported for 1931, against net of $3,614,000, or $1.48 per common share, for 1930. Net for 1929 was $1,327,000, against $1,817,000 for 1928. On Nov. 18, 1932, a leading statistical service estimated 1932 earnings to be equal to $1.85 per common share.

On Dec. 31, 1931, current assets were $64,113,000 and current liabilities were $1,746,000. Working capital was $2,367,000, against $72,262,000 the year before.

In 1926 the company sold $15,000,000 bonds to finance the introduction of its leading product. In 1931 the management apparently considered Old Gold established, as in that year about $14,000,000 of bonds were retired. Funded debt at the close of the year was $19,833,000. There were outstanding 113,076 shares of $100 par 7 per cent cumulative preferred and 1,009,212 shares of no par common. The common pays 30 cents a quarter.

Low prices of tobacco and reduced purchasing power of the public in 1932 fostered the introduction of a new threat to the "big four"—the 10 cent package of cigarets. Output of cigarets of the established companies declined faster than the reduction of total cigarets consumed. Producers of 10 cent brands have been making inroads on their business. The reply to this threat was first the introduction of cigarets in tins of fifty at reduced prices. Apparently this did not produce the desired effect, as on Jan. 1, 1933, Lorillard, together with others in the industry, announced a reduction in wholesale prices from $6.85 to $6 a thousand.

The preferred deserves a fairly good rating. The common is medium grade and somewhat speculative at present.

Last Quarter Deficit Due to Adjustments.

The necessity for making certain unanticipated adjustments in the final quarter last year caused Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to show a deficit of $141,401 for that period. In the corresponding period of 1931 net income of $1,899,299 had been reported.

Net income for the year ended Dec. 31, 1932, was $4,162,683, which was equal to $6.20 per share earned on the 671,938 shares in the hands of the public. In 1931 the company reported net income of $6,691,978, equal to $10.31 per share on the 648,901 shares then outstanding.

Gas sales to general customers of the company during 1932 decreased 1.2 per cent from 1931.

Cut in Rates Reduce Sales.

"The revenues from gas sales for the year 1932, would have been $1,670,319 greater had there been no reduction in rates in the fall of 1931," James Simpson, chairman, said last night in a letter sent to stockholders.

"It became necessary during the last quarter of 1932 to make certain adjustments to cover increases in taxes and increases in other items which could not have been anticipated earlier in the year.

"The board of directors also determined to set up certain reserves to the end that the accounts for the year might be conservatively stated and that all known and probable losses be provided for.

"These adjustments and the setting up of these reserves having been made in the last quarter are necessarily reflected in the statement for that quarter. They in fact apply to the income generally for the entire year, and could they have been anticipated earlier in the year would have been provided for ratably in the preceding periods, with the result that the net income for the last quarter would have been fairly comparable with the earnings for the other quarters.

"The aggregate of these adjustments and reserves was $1,098,860 and includes additional provisions for uncollectible bills and for possible losses on accounts in closed banks.

"The reserves provide for maintenance equalization and for possible reductions in miscellaneous income and a larger provision for depreciation than in the previous year.

"The reduction in income would have been greater had it not been for substantial operating economies which were placed in effect for the most part during the latter part of the year and which should be fully realized through out 1933."

An examination of the figures submitted discloses that even if the $1,098,860 of adjustments and reserves had been spread over the entire year instead of being deducted from final quarter income the results for the quarter would still compare unfavorably with results earlier in the year and in the final quarter of 1931. In that case instead of a deficit of $141,401 a profit of $133,314 would have been reported, which would have been equal to less than 20 cents per share.

Income Statement.

The income account as reported to stockholders follows:

CHICAGO STOCKS—Easy. Losses moderate.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES—Firm. French franc improves.

WHEAT—Lower. Liquidation poor support.

CORN—Lower. Longs unload. May nears season's low.

HOGS—Higher. Market up 10@20c. Top, $3.40, highest in 21 days. Bulk, $2.90@3.30; average, $3.10.

COFFEE—Quiet. Easier Brazilian market.

PRODUCE—Butter and eggs sharply lower.

Most Schemes to Devalue Dollar Aim to Help Farmer

This is the last of four articles dealing with proposals for currency inflation and tariff revision. This article summarizes opposing theories and arguments.

BY SCRUTATOR.

It will have been observed that many of the proposals for currency inflation now before congress are designed primarily to aid agriculture. This evidently results from the disordered relationship between the two most important groups of our population. The disparity in commodity price declines has been such, according to the department of agriculture, that the buying power of farm products now is only about half as great as before the war.

"This is the chief of those inequalities in the price structure which are reducing buying power," the National City bank's current review comments. "It reflects the lack of balance between wages in the industries, transportation costs, the cost of government, and other items affecting the prices of goods offered, on the one hand, and the returns to the farmer and to farm labor, on the other. The inability of the farmer to buy is keeping factory workers out of employment, and the unemployment goes around the circle."

Seek to Foster Exports.

Coupled with the political plans to remedy the agricultural situation by currency inflation is the plan to raise the price of what the farmer sells by the domestic allotment plan. However, the advocates of currency inflation also claim it would foster our international trade by permitting Americans to compete more successfully with countries whose currencies have depreciated.

As affecting our farmers, it is pointed out that Canada, Australia and Argentina, whose currencies have depreciated, have greatly increased their exports of wheat, while our exports have declined sharply. On the other hand, our advocates of higher tariffs seek to prevent other nations from deriving the same benefits from depreciated moneys as the proponents of American inflation insist would accrue to our producers.

Theory Proves Unsound.

"There can be no question that depreciation of currencies has brought into trade a new and demoralizing competition," the National City bank says. "But the theory that a country strengthens its competitive position by depreciating its currency is deceptive and unsound. One country adopting this course may gain a temporary advantage in export trade by offering goods at the same nominal price in cheaper money, but once the competition is entered upon there is no stopping place short of the zero point for all. It is the most uncontrolable, demoralizing and fruitless competition that can be imagined. All countries whose currencies are depreciated are anxious for some constructive action to stabilize the exchanges."

Financiers of an older generation insist that proposals for currency inflation, price raising and other panaceas have accompanied every depression, and that the arguments for them have been regularly refuted by subsequent return to prosperity. They hold that disruption of trade and price relationships, not monetary standards, are the prime causes of depression, and that the remedy is to cure the causes of disorder.

Readjustments Advocated.

Along this line a readjustment of industrial production costs to bring prices in line with farm products, economies in government and consequent reduction in taxes and more effective efforts in gearing production and consumption are advocated.

On the other hand, the advocates of inflation contend that the present depression is so much more severe than similar periods in the past that new remedies are necessary. Their chief contention is that the burden of debt, both private, public and international, has become so great that there is little prospect that it can be paid even with any advance in prices that can reasonably be expected. Therefore, they contend that currency inflation is the logical equalizing factor and would raise prices to a point which would enable debtors to discharge their obligations on a basis comparable with that at the time debts were incurred.

BRITISH BANKERS DOUBT INFLATION WILL HELP U. S.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 16.—British bankers are skeptical concerning the efficacy of proposed American inflation plans as reported in news dispatches to London.

If the purpose is to increase commodity prices, America won't find much encouragement in the results of the inflation in Great Britain in the last fifteen months, according to financial experts here.

Since Great Britain abandoned the gold standard in September, 1931, there has been a net rise of only 1.7 per cent in the general level of sterling prices in the United Kingdom.

In the same fifteen months there has been however, a fall of 16.8 in the general level of wholesale gold prices in the United States; 11.9 in France; 9.2 in Italy, and 16.1 in Germany.

In Great Britain most commodities for domestic production have remained stationary or declined slightly. On imported articles, prices have advanced in sterling, but not to the full proportion of the pound's depreciation, because the gold prices of such imports have fallen.

"The United States won't find her remedy in the overnight process of reducing the value of the dollar," said one British economist today. "It will have less effect on a big self-sustaining country like America than in a small area like Great Britain. It won't raise the price of American wheat. American inflationists evidently want to eat the cake and have it, too. They want to increase prices by plans which carry no assurance that the people themselves will have more money in their pockets or bank accounts. Inflation might work if it could be known in advance there would be more liberal lending and a great increase in demands for loans, but there is no certainty of that happening. The quickest, but most deplorable way would be to issue a flood of paper money.

"The best thing America could do would be to consider some such plan or plans for increasing consumption by the low cost of production of things actually needed, as suggested recently for Great Britain by O. M. W. Sprague, American economic adviser to the bank of England."

STOCKS DECLINE ON LAST HOUR SELLING DRIVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 16.—An unheralded wave of selling in the last hour resulted in net losses of from fractions to more than two points among leading stocks today.

The windup selling movement, bringing with it a considerable bulge in volume, came after careful nursing by the bulls had kept the list on an even keel through earlier trading. In fact, so efficacious were the efforts of the constructive forces that fractional improvement ruled some sections of the market until the late recession.

Until the final selling epidemic developed trading was listless and without feature. Total turnover approximated 870,000 shares, a large part of it being recorded in the last sixty minutes of the session. A discouraging feature was this late pickup in volume on the down side.

Traders Are Cheered.

While the market's action in late trading served to indicate that the new year flurry of rising prices had subsided for a while, traders were generally satisfied with the list's action. One favorable indication was the ability of the general market to hold the greater part of its previous gains.

There was some disposition to lay the recession partly to declining wheat and cotton prices, for the decline in stocks developed shortly after these commodities turned down. Case was moderately active around four points below its recent best recovery price. It closed down more than two points. Harvester was soft in unison, while Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck posted respective losses on the day of a fraction and one point.

A considerable part of the late selling pressure was exerted on the rails, with Delaware and Hudson losing three points and Union Pacific two. Other favorite carrier issues to sag on the day were Santa Fe, New York Central, New Haven, Lackawanna, and Southern Pacific.

Leaders Hardest Hit.

The pivotal issues, such as American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Eastman, and Western Union, not to mention United States Steel, bore the brunt of the windup selling, with consequent net recessions.

Both the common and preferred shares of Steel had shown stability in earlier trading on a favorable report by a trade magazine estimating current operations at 17 per cent of capacity, or virtually that of November.

Tobacco shares returned to activity, but after outstanding strength earlier in the session they turned easier and lost about one point each, including American Tobacco B, Liggett & Myers and Reynolds.

A singularly strong spot was J. C. Penney, which moved up more than a point against the general trend of the market. Strength here was apparently due to retirement of a substantial block of the preferred stock.

Standard Oil of Kansas also bucked the late tide toward lower ground to close higher, but other oils eased with the rest of the list. Trading in the group was small.

Homestake Mining, the leading gold share, was down 3 points on the day on a moderate turnover.

Sales of Department Stores Turned Up as Usual in December

Illinois Auto Listings Show Larger Sales

The engineering advancements and refinements made by the leading motor manufacturers in their 1933 models are causing a release of the delayed demand for new automobiles. This is indicated in the registration of new cars in the first 14 days in January in Cook county.

Figures received from Springfield yesterday show that 1,494 new cars were registered in Cook county in the first 14 days this month. This compares with 1,183 in the corresponding period last year. Indicating that the showing is not merely a flash in the pan, the improvement is the result of gains by several different concerns.

1933 Outlook Better.

Registrations for the whole month of January last year were 2,629. Thus with 1,494 already registered, January this year promises to exceed the 1932 figures.

Only once since October, 1929, have monthly Cook county registrations shown a gain over the comparable figures of the year before. That was in November, 1931, when new cars registered totaled 1,939 against 1,858 in October, 1930.

Following the customary trend, the figures this month are ahead of December, which in the comparable period had registrations of 403 cars.

What Analysis Reveals.

An analysis of the figures this month reveals that two of the three leaders in the low priced field showed gains over last year. Ford registrations in the two weeks period were 313 against 20 last year; new Plymouths registered were 254 against 78 last year. Chevrolet showed a loss with registrations of 301 against 376 a year ago. Chrysler, De Soto, and Auburn also showed gains for the period.

Estimates New Auto Sales for 1932 as 1,097,716

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16.—New passenger car sales in 1932 total 1,097,716 units, according to an estimate by R. L. Polk & Co. This compares with sales of 1,908,141 in 1931, 2,625,979 in 1930, and 3,880,247 in 1929.

FRENCH BANK CHIPS GOLD BARS FOR ASSAY; U. S. BUYERS TAKE LOSS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 16.—Gold shipping banks and bankers who recently received large amounts of precious metal from France expect to lose the bulk of their anticipated profit, because of the unexpected shrinkage in the value of the bars, due to remelting at the United States assay office here.

The United States standard export gold bar has a fineness of 995, as compared with 916.7 fineness for standard coinage bars used in France and England and the standard coinage bar of 900 fineness used here. Last summer when gold was shipped in large amounts to France, the supply of export bars was temporarily exhausted and the standard coinage bars of 916.7 were supplied in their place, these having been made of British sovereigns melted up here some years ago.

These bars experienced a chip assay in Paris at the Bank of France. Whatever gold value there was in each chip was deducted from the value of the bar remaining, which received a new stamp of fineness. Each of these bars then bore two stamps, one French and one American.

The Bank of France shipped these bars back here with the start of the new gold export movement to this country from France a few weeks ago. Arriving here they were considered to be technically mutilated, and had to be remelted. There is always loss in metal in remelting, and, while this is small in standard export bars of 995 fineness or better, it is large, running as high as 26 ounces, in an amount of $1,000,000.

A summary of the statements of all Chicago banks at the close of 1932 shows a total increase in cash resources of $146,215,000, or 25 per cent, as compared with their status three months earlier, an analysis by Wayne, Hummer & Co. points out. This is a gain of almost two million dollars per business day.

There was an increase of $93,737,000 in total deposits and a decrease of $53,575,000 in loans and discounts. The figures contained in the analysis cover not only the large loop banks but all neighborhood banks as well, sixty-three national and state banks in all.

TOLEDO PLANTS RE-EMPLOY 1,606 WORKERS IN WEEK

Toledo, O., Jan. 16.—(AP)—A survey today showed that 51 Toledo plants mostly automotive and glass manufacturing firms, added 1,606 employes last week. More than 1,200 had been added in the previous two weeks. Present pay rolls of the plants were reported at the highest points in two years.

Money in Use 880 Millions More Than '29

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—There is 880 million dollars more money in circulation today than in the boom days of 1929, despite statements that the country needs more money, according to federal reserve board and treasury department reports made public today.

Approximately $5,580,000,000 was still in circulation last week after the ebb in circulation which always follows holiday buying. This total was 880 million dollars higher than the totals for most of the months in 1929, the figures show.

Total Money Near Ten Billions.

In addition to the money which was actually in circulation last week the treasury and the federal reserve banks held another $4,100,000,000 which could be put into circulation if the demand for money increased, almost doubling the amount of money now outstanding.

Total money stocks in the country, held in vaults and in circulation, amounted to $9,698,500,000 at the end of last month, an increase of $247,000,000 in December and of $277,000,000 during the year. National bank notes made up $811,330,484 of the total, an increase of $171,000,000 in the year, while federal reserve notes totaled $2,987,014,640, an increase of $61,000,000.

Gain in Bank Notes.

The heavy gain in national bank notes resulted from a provision of the home loan bank act granting the circulation privilege to 3½ and 3⅝ per cent government bonds. Prior to the enactment of this provision only 2 per cent bonds were eligible as collateral for bank notes. The Glass-Steagall bill permitted the backing of federal reserve notes with government securities, in lieu of eligible commercial paper. Since July 1, when the higher per cent class of government bonds became eligible for bank note backing there has been a steady gain in bank notes and some reduction in outstanding federal reserve notes.

Gold stocks of the country at the end of 1932 amounted to $4,507,522,361, an increase of $170,000,000 in December and of $46,000,000 during the year.

The per capita circulation Dec. 31, 1932, was $45.34, based on an estimated population of 125,198,000, as compared with $45.13 on Nov. 30, 1932, and $45.38 on Dec. 31, 1931.

Plenty of Cash to Lend.

Plenty of money can be supplied immediately from the stores now locked in the treasury and the reserve banks whenever there is a demand, treasury experts say. They insist that more money will flow whenever the volume of trade demands.

During the Christmas season, when trade increased, for instance, an additional $92,000,000 moved into circulation to meet the needs. After holiday trade subsided in the early weeks of January $80,000,000 of the holiday increase returned to the banks and the treasury department because there was no longer immediate need for it.

RESERVE BOARD FAILURE TO AID CREDIT SHOWN

Say Member Banks' Loans Decline.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The failure of the attempt by the federal reserve board to halt deflation and increase commercial credit by heavy open market operations was revealed yesterday in the federal reserve board's own reports.

Last February the reserve board began its big drive to force the commercial banking institutions to lend more freely to business. The reserve banks started to buy United States government securities, first in small amounts then 25, 50, and finally 100 millions dollars a week. By the end of December the holdings of "governments" by the reserve banks had increased a billion dollars.

Prices of government securities were thereby forced upward to an artificially high level where the yield is almost infinitesimal.

Fail to Force Loans.

The reserve authorities went on the theory that if the yield on "governments" got too small the commercial banks wouldn't buy them and that if these banks didn't buy governments, there being nothing else for them to do, they would liberalize their loan policies and extend credit more generously to business.

Exactly the opposite has happened. Instead of increasing commercial loans and investments member banks, yesterday's reserve and report disclosed, have actualy decreased them 34 per cent since the reserve banks began to buy governments on a large scale last February.

Excess reserves of member banks have been used to buy government securities to some extent, and the balance of these reserves lie idle in the reserve banks. Credit has not been forced into commercial channels.

Members Cut Loans.

Weekly reporting member banks of the reserve system on Feb. 4, 1932, had $15,668,000,000 in loans outstanding. Yesterday's report showed that last Wednesday these same banks had only $10,136,000,000 in loans outstanding. They have cut their loans $5,500,000,000 during the period in which the reserve banks have been attempting to boost loans by buying government bonds.

It is this accumulation of excess member bank reserves that the open market policy committee of the federal reserve system has hoped would eventually crowd the member banks to more liberal loan policies.

Announced Policy to Continue.

The federal reserve authorities announced early this month that the open market policy committee had decided "that there should be no change in the system's policy intended to maintain a substantial amount of member bank reserves, the continuance of which is deemed advisable in present conditions. Adjustments in the system's holdings in the open market account will be in accordance with this policy."

This was interpreted in some quarters as meaning that the reserve banks would maintain their holdings of United States government securities at about the year-end total of 1 billion 851 millions. When the statement last week showed that between

A. T. & T. BIGGEST DIVIDEND GOES TO STOCKHOLDERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 16.—Stockholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph company received quarterly dividend checks today totaling approximately $42,000,000, the largest cash distribution ever made by the company at one time. Total distributions to stockholders last year were about $168,000,000.

Deviating from a custom of many years, the company did not mail with the January dividend check a report of earnings for the final quarter of last year. Attached to the checks was the simple explanation that the report for the calendar year was being compiled and would be in the hands of stockholders in March.

The Bell system companies had a net loss of about 100,000 telephones during December. Compared with 102,000 in November and 105,000 in October. Thus the net loss for the final quarter was approximately 307,000 telephones. This compares with a loss of about 501,000 telephones in the third quarter of 1932.

CANADA FAILS IN CALGARY ROW, ASSERT FARMERS

CALGARY, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Charges that the dominion government has "defaulted" in refusing gold at par to Calgary to meet its debenture obligations were made in a resolution adopted today by the general board of the United Farmers of Alberta.

The resolution, which will be submitted to the general convention of the U. F. A. opening here tomorrow, indorsed Calgary's refusal to meet the demand for payment in adverse United States exchange. In the preamble the board's resolution pointed to the decrease in the volume of currency in circulation and added:

"The dominion government has defaulted by failing to make available to the City of Calgary at par gold for the payment of such obligations of the city as are payable in gold."

Three Outlying Banks Elect Officers for 1933

Stockholders of the State bank of Winnetka, last night created the position of chairman of the board and elected Clarke Washburne, president, to fill the new post. Edward C. Haase, cashier, was chosen a director and president. George W. McKinney, formerly assistant cashier, was named cashier. The other directors and officers were reëlected.

All officers and directors of the University State bank and the State Bank of Clearing were reëlected at annual meetings yesterday.

IOWA BANK RECEIVERS ORDERED TO DELAY FORECLOSURE SALES

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Receivers for 348 closed Iowa banks today had orders from L. A. Andrew, state superintendent of banking, not to hold any more farm real estate or chattel mortgage foreclosure sales until prices are higher.

In making the announcement, Mr. Andrew said he hoped the move would establish a precedent for other mortgage holding agencies in the state. He said it would be impossible for him to estimate the amount of collectible paper held by the receivers for the closed banks.

WHEAT PRICES DROP FOR SIXTH STRAIGHT DAY

WHEAT PRICES IN GOLD

| Winnipeg—May | .39⅞ | .40½ |
| Do No. 2 Manitoba | .35⅞ | .36⅝ |
| Liverpool—March | .45⅝ | .45⅞ |
| Do May | .49 | .49 |
| Do No. 2 Manitoba | .52⅝ | .53⅝ |
| Rotterdam—Jan. | .44⅜ | .44⅜ |
| Buenos Aires—May | .38 | .38⅝ |

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation by scattered longs developed in wheat yesterday and with pressure from local professionals and a relatively slow commission house demand the May dropped 1¼c from Saturday's finish to 46⅝c, showing 5⅛c under the high of last week. For six straight days wheat prices have closed lower, and around 60 per cent of the recent 8½c upturn has been eliminated.

While there was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the selling movement, the domestic allotment plan for farm relief plus the fact that Chicago May is 7c per bushel premium over Winnipeg and 8⅞c over the same future in Buenos Aires on a gold basis, had created considerable uneasiness in some quarters. There was not the aggressive buying of futures yesterday which has been in evidence of late, and the best support came from shorts and holders of bids.

May Wheat Leads Break.

The wheat market fluctuated erratically yesterday within a range of around 1¼c and, while there was a fair upturn following an early dip, the finish was at the bottom, with net losses of ⅞@⅝c with May leading the decline. The nearby future closed at 46⅝@46¾c; July, 46⅞@47c, and September, 47⅝c.

Closing of spreads between the May and the July wheat futures, the former being sold, resulted in the nearby month going to ¾c under July at one time during the day, and it was a fraction under at the finish. There was also selling at Winnipeg credited to Chicago account and the Canadian market finished ⅝c lower. Buenos Aires was off a like amount for the day, while Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛c per bu lower. A higher rate of sterling helped sustain the price in the latter market, offsetting to a large extent a decline in English money.

Corn Nears Season's Low.

Corn was under pressure from the start and the May declined to 25⅞c, or only ¾c above the inside figure of the season, closing at the inside figure to ⅛c above. Net losses for the day were ⅝@1¼c, with July finishing at 27½c and September, 28⅝@28¾c.

Good rains were reported in the Argentine corn belt, and will be highly beneficial, as dry weather complaints have been received of late. The Buenos Aires market finished ⅝@⅞c lower, with March at 29½c. Nothing was heard regarding export business in domestic corn. An increase of 735,000 bu was shown in the domestic visible, making the total 29,664,000 bu against 12,508,000 bu last year.

Oats were dull and easier with other grains, closing ⅝c lower, with May at 26⅞@27c and July, 27⅛c. Rye was unchanged to ⅜c lower, May being 45c and July, 34½c. Barley lost ⅞c and closed at 27¾c.

RESERVE BOARD'S FAILURE TO BOOST CREDIT REVEALED

Jan. 4 and Jan. 11 the reserve banks had sold 38 millions of governments many were surprised.

Yesterday's report on the condition of member banks threw light on the matter. Excess reserves of member banks have been mounting so rapidly that the reserve banks have been able to dispose of a few of their "governments" and still adhere to their policy of maintaining member bank reserves. Return of money from hoarding and the influx of foreign gold have made this possible.

Holdings of commercial investments by the weekly reporting member banks have likewise dropped during the period. In February, 1932, they totaled $3,855,000,000 and last Wednesday only $3,275,000,000.

Instead of being crowded into making commercial loans and investments the member banks have been buying United States government bonds. And so it has been unanimous. The reserve banks and the member banks have both been buying governments. The reserve banks bought a billion dollars' worth in 1932 and the member banks nearly two billions.

Squeeze Play Becomes Race.

What started out to be a squeeze play has developed into a race to see which shall accumulate the most government bonds.

And the contest continues. Yesterday's report on the condition of member banks showed that, despite an aggregate gain of $112,000,000 in time and demand deposits, the commercial loans and investments of these banks were reduced 97 millions. Investments in United States government bonds, on the other hand, shot up 57 millions.

Reserves carried by member banks with the federal reserve banks also continue to mount. Such reserves on Jan. 11 were 2 billion, 137 millions, an increase of 87 millions for the week alone, and an increase of 621 millions over the figure a year ago.

Helps Treasury Notes.

Moreover, the reserve authorities have not committed themselves to a rigid policy of holding a specified amount of government securities. They have not even said that they would keep member banks excess reserves at the present level—something over a half billion. They have simply said that the policy would be to maintain a "substantial amount" of excess member bank reserves.

Meanwhile the treasury continues to take advantage of the cheap money rates made for it by the federal reserve banks' manipulation of the market for short term government bonds.

Secretary of the Treasury Mills last night announced that applications totaling $339,567,000 were received for the offering of $75,000,000 of 91 day treasury bills dated Jan. 18, which were offered Jan. 12.

Except for one bid for $25,000 at 99.981 the highest bid made was 99.962, equivalent to an interest rate of about 0.15 per cent on an annual basis. The lowest bid accepted was 99.935, equivalent to an interest rate of about 0.26 per cent on an annual basis.

New York, Jan. 16.—Government bonds carried the market into a slump today. Domestic issues, both high grade and speculative, were caught, while German bonds and other foreign issues scooted downward in the worst sinking spell in weeks.

Inability of United States governments to continue their uptrend was attributed to various causes.

The possibility of extensive financing by the treasury, absorbing much of the capital available for investment in corporation bonds, was noticeable. It is expected that the reserve bank statements late this week will show another reduction in holdings of governments.

In the German list losses ranged up to 3 points in such issues as Berlin City 6s, Berlin City Electric 6½s, German Central Bank 6s, Rhine Westphalia 6s, Saxon Public Works 7s, Ruhr Chemical 6s, United Steel Works 6½s, and others.
